Dupont Powder Co. and Louisville Railroad Are Accused of Fraud

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Charges that the government was defrauded during the war by the Dupont Powder Company and the Louisville & Nashville Railroad were made today before the Wheeler-Brookhart committee by Geo. W. Stock, a government accountant, who surveyed the Old Hickory powder plant in Tennessee, a subsidiary operated for the government.

Stock said he recommended that $5,000,000 could be recovered from the company, while others set the amount as high as $20,000,000. He declared that his secret plans of investigation for the Old Hickory case were turned over by the department of justice to attorneys for the Dupont interests, thereby revealing the basis of the government's side of the case and preventing him from gathering evidence.

Department of Justice Halts Dry Law Enforcement

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Charges of Bryce Armstrong, federal prohibition agent at Chicago, that the department of justice exerted pressure to halt prosecutions of alleged liquor law violators in Chicago were confirmed today before the Wheeler-Brookhart committee by E. C. Yellowly, prohibition chief attached to the office of Commissioner Haynes.

Called before the committee for questioning concerning Armstrong's sensational charges, which have occupied the senate investigators for two days, Yelowly produced a letter to Haynes from Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney-general in charge of prohibition enforcement, in which she protested against "unwarranted seizure in Chicago on the part of the prohibition unit."

Delegate to Arizona Meet Leaves Tonight

Miss Ethel B. Oliver of 819 South Central avenue, secretary of Associated Women Students of the University of California, will leave Tuesday night for Tucson, Ariz., to attend the western conference of Associated Women Students to be held at the University of Arizona. Delegates from universities and colleges of ten states are expected to attend. Miss Oliver was very recently elected to this office.

Officials Search for Missing Glendalian

LOS ANGELES, April 8.—Mrs. A. F. Shassere of 1011 Justin avenue, Glendale, was closeted with Chief Criminal Deputy Sheriff R. H. Wright this morning, discussing peculiar angles in the disappearance of her husband last week. She told Mr. Wright that friends saw Shassere in Glendale on Saturday, but as yet he has not returned home.

FIRE LOSS $100,000

LOS ANGELES, April 8.—Two firemen were slightly injured, one man was overcome by smoke, and damage estimated at $100,000 was done by a fire which broke out early today in the Los Angeles Van, Truck and Storage warehouse in Linden street.

Impressive Service At Installation by Local Elks' Lodge

On page 11 in today's Glendale Evening News appears a complete account of the installation ceremonies conducted by the Glendale lodge of Elks last night, together with pictures of all of the new officers, also a complete list of the various committees appointed. The new exalted ruler is Earle S. Patterson. The ceremonies last night were most impressive. Turn to page 11 for the complete story.

Mayor Robinson Extends Welcome To Club Women

SPENCER ROBINSON, mayor of the city of Glendale, today through The Glendale Evening News, extends a hearty welcome to the delegates and visitors of the Los Angeles District Federation. The mayor's greeting is as follows:

"Glendale welcomes the women of the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's clubs, to the home city of their president, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, for their twenty-third annual convention.

"Glendale, the hostess city and the Tuesday Afternoon club, the hostess club, share in the happiness of the occasion and join in extending every hospitable courtesy to our guests.

"Here in this beautiful valley, lying at the feet of 'The Green Verdugo Hills,' Glendale has thriven and prospered through the years in an atmosphere of progress and happiness.

"In like measure may the gathering of the Los Angeles District progress from session to session in a spirit and harmony and endeavor that is so typical of American club women.

"As mayor of Glendale I extend you hearty greeting and bid you welcome."

ONE INJURED IN CRASH AT CORNER

La Canada Resident Suffers Broken Shoulder When Car Overturns

Ira B. Curtis of La Canada was seriously hurt in an automobile crash at the corner of Glendale avenue and Acacia street this morning shortly after 9 o'clock, when his machine collided with another driven by L. M. Shelton of 510 East Eighth street, Burbank.

Curtis was unable to give an account of the accident, but Shelton, in his report to the police, stated that while turning from Glendale into Acacia, Curtis struck him from the rear. The latter's machine overturned.

The injured man was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital by A. Artess of 402 East Acacia. Physicians reported that his left shoulder had been broken. His machine was a total wreck.

FORTY SLAIN IN TRAIN COLLISION

Mexico Express Crashes Into Freight; Americans In Wreck Uninjured

MEXICO CITY, April 8.—Forty persons were killed and eighty injured when the Mexico City-United States express crashed into a freight train on a down grade near Bernal, state of Queretaro, according to information received here today.

Several Americans were on board the special train but none of them was reported among the casualties. All the killed and injured were in second and third class cars directly following the engine. The express train left here yesterday.

Rock, Stiletto, Clues To Murderer of Girl

REDDING, Cal., April 8. — A rock the size of a small melon, spattered with blood, and a blood-stained stiletto were the only clues in the hands of the authorities today to the slayer of pretty Oleva Hamlin, 15-year-old school girl assaulted and slain by the mountain road on which she was walking back from Kennet to her father's cabin at the Mammoth mine.

The girl is believed to have been struck down with the rock. Even then she put up a desperate battle and the slayer used the stiletto to cut her throat and still her frantic cries.

Seed Company Loses Suit, Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The Portland Seed company, Portland, Ore., has lost in the supreme court of the United States a suit to recover damages from the United States railroad administration in the amount of the excess payment for a short haul than for a long haul, under the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act. No decision was given by the supreme court on the validity of the long and short haul clause, which was an issue in the suit.

NOT INSTRUCTED

HONOLULU, April 8.—The three Republican delegates to the Cleveland convention will go uninstructed. The convention closed here today with endorsing territorial or national administrations.

NAVY ABSCONDER ADMITS IDENTITY

Lieut. Brown Laughs Loudly Over Alleged Amnesia; Silent on Money

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—Admitting his identity, Lieutenant Ervine R. Brown, U. S. N., former paymaster of the destroyer Sumner, refused to discuss the disappearance of $120,000 naval funds in his charge, $75,000 of which was returned to naval authorities by his wife.

Brown was held at the emergency hospital to which he was taken after being found wandering in Golden Gate park. Dr. A. L. Kavanagh at the hospital after an examination declared Brown perfectly normal.

Asked about his alleged amnesia, Brown covered his face with a newspaper and laughed heartily. However, he professed lack of memory of all events since the loss of $120,000 naval funds in the Point Honda disaster in which the Sumner went on the rocks. He admitted recalling this.

Coolidge Orders U. S. Envoys to Co-operate

WASHINGTON, April 8.—President Coolidge today issued an executive order calling upon all representatives of the government in foreign countries to co-operate with one another in order to advance the nation's economic and commercial interests.

Recent bickering between foreign representatives of various departments concerning their respective duties and responsibilities led to the issuance of the order.

KILL 63 DOGS

LOS ANGELES, April 8.—Sixty-three Downey dogs died today at the hands of the town constable as a result of their running loose in an area quarantined against the foot and mouth disease. Word was received here this morning that more ammunition was needed to kill the canine carriers of the plague, according to those in charge of the battle against the malady.

EVANGELIST IS FORUM SPEAKER

Mrs. Aimee S. McPherson Tells of Civilization's Cornerstones

Before an audience that taxed the capacity of the Broadway High school auditorium to its utmost, Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, pastor of the Angelus Temple, Los Angeles, last night delivered an inspiring lecture on "The Four Cornerstones of Civilization," under the auspices of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce at its second quarterly open forum meeting.

During the wait before the opening of Mrs. McPherson's address, the high school orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Dora Gibson, head of the music department, rendered a varied program of selections which were warmly received.

Lyman P. Clark, acting as chairman in place of President W. E. Hewitt, who left for the east yesterday, presented Captain D. Ripley Jackson, who led in the singing of "America," and Rev. H. C. Chrisman, pastor of the Christian Missionary Alliance tabernacle, pronounced the invocation.

Musical Numbers

Miss Elizabeth Mottern, Glendale's talented soprano, sang two songs, "Ah Love But a Day," and "Reverie," and Glendale's singing mayor, Spencer Robinson, also rendered two selections, "Friend o' Mine," and "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms."

In presenting Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, who was to present the speaker of the evening,

Redouble Efforts to Stop Plague Outbreak

LOS ANGELES, April 8.—With the hoof and mouth disease confined to within four closed areas and no new outbreaks reported in Los Angeles county early today, state officials redoubled their efforts to enforce quarantine measures to prevent further spread of the plague and announced that violation of any of the rules would result in immediate arrest and heavy fines.

Approximately 600 head of cattle owned by the Long Beach Creamery company have been covered with a $360,000 insurance policy against infection, it was learned today. This is said to be the first insurance policy of its kind ever written.

Whiting's Condition Is Reported Serious

A dispatch to The Glendale Evening News this afternoon from Bakersfield stated that Calvin Whiting, Glendale real estate man, injured in an auto accident south of that city, was in a very seriously condition. Others injured in the crash are out of danger. It was stated in the dispatch that Whiting's injuries may not prove fatal.

MELLON PLAN FAVORABLY REPORTED

Majority Senate's Finance Committee Votes for Reduction Measure

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The Senate finance committee today completed the 1924 tax reduction bill and ordered it reported to the Senate. The bill carries the Mellon tax plan.

The vote on reporting the Mellon rates as the committee's bill was 9 to 7, the Democrats opposing.

They will submit a minority report, proposing forty per cent as the maximum tax rate, compared with 25 per cent in the Mellon plan.

Sees Shortage

Despite the efforts made by the Republicans on the finance committee to increase the rates carried in the House bill, Senator Smoot of Utah, the committee chairman, estimated that the total yield under the bill would be $69,000,000 short of the treasury's anticipated expenditures next year.

COOLIDGE EASILY MICHIGAN VICTOR

Defeats Johnson by More Than Two to One; Illinois And Nebraska Vote

DETROIT, April 8.—With returns from more than two-thirds of the 2,900 precincts in the state tabulated, President Coolidge is leading Senator Hiram Johnson of California by more than a two to one vote in the Republican preferential primary and in the Democratic primary Henry Ford is leading Senator Woodbridge N. Ferris by a substantial majority. The president carried every county in the lower peninsula except one—Bay—and all of the territory above the straits except Gogebic and Dickinson counties. The vote: Coolidge, 131,926; Johnson, 59,689; Ford, 24,873; Ferris, 22,949.

Illinois and Nebraska

CHICAGO, April 8.—Illinois and Nebraska today were primary battlegrounds with eighty delegates to the Republican national convention at stake. National interest in both of the midwestern states which followed Michigan to the polls focused on the Republican battle, as Governor Bryan's favorite son status kept the Democratic slate clean in Nebraska and Illinois.

Beckoning spring skies and intense interest in the state fight topped by the race between Governor Len Small and Thurslaw G. Essington for the Republican nomination for governor brought out a heavy early vote in Illinois.

GLENDALE RIDER DIES OF INJURIES

Jack Holt Fatally Hurt In Riverside Rodeo When Thrown by Horse

Jack Holt of Glendale died last night, Monday, April 7, 1924, in the Riverside Community hospital, Riverside, aged 23 years, following a basal fracture of the skull sustained last Friday afternoon, April 4, in the Southern California Rodeo of that city.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Leslie Holt of Glendale. He died without having regained consciousness. The accident occurred in the wild horse race, the last entry of the day. His horse had been leading the field but suddenly broke and leaped over a high fence, falling on the other side, with the rider beneath.

The injured man was at first believed to stand a good chance for recovery but he failed to rally. Funeral arrangements have not yet been concluded. The body is being held in a Riverside undertaking establishment.

'MARRYING SOLDIER'

BUTTE, Mont., April 8.—William Berry, the "marrying soldier," is being held here today for Tacoma, Wash., authorities. Berry escaped from the Western Washington hospital in that city.

LATEST NEWS

JAPS VIOLATE PACT, IS CHARGE

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Senator Shortridge, Republican, of California, charged this afternoon in the Senate that Japan had violated the "gentlemen's agreement" with the United States by sending thousands of laborers to California. Thousands of women came to California and became laborers after being permitted to enter the United States as "picture brides," he said.

TYPHOID EPIDEMIC FOLLOWS FIGHTING

WASHINGTON, April 8.—An epidemic of typhoid fever has followed the recent fighting in Tegucigalpa, capital of Honduras, the state department was advised today. Dead bodies are said to be strewn about the streets with no effort to remove them. Hundreds of natives were reported to be dying as a result of the squalor.

PORTLAND HOLDOUT SIGNS CONTRACT

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—Portland's only holdout, Walter Leverenz, signed a contract at noon today, it was announced by Business Manager Rivers. The contract was declared satisfactory to both pitcher and club and Leverenz declared he was in excellent shape.

AVERT FIST FIGHT IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, April 8.—A fist fight on the floor of the House between Congressman Elton Watkins, Democrat, of Oregon, and James A. Gallivan, Democrat, of Massachusetts, was narrowly averted this afternoon. Apparently incensed at some remark by Gallivan, Watkins jumped from his seat and made a pass at the Massachusetts representative. Watkins was seized by other congressmen and put back in his seat.

Bodies of Men Slain By Bandits Recovered

TIRANA, Albania, April 8.—The bodies of George B. Delong of New York and Robert Lewis Coleman of San Francisco, who were killed by Albanian brigands, were brought here today by motor car. Practically all the shops in Tirana were closed, and immense crowds made a demonstration of friendly sympathy in front of the United States legation.

OPEN FIRST SESSION OF DISTRICT MEETING

'Education for Peace' Forms Underlying Thought of Federation Delegates

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff.

Rallying under the inspiring slogan, "Education for Peace," given them by their president, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, women of the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's Clubs, representing 187 clubs in Los Angeles, Ventura, Santa Barbara, Inyo and San Luis Obispo counties, met this afternoon at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse for the opening session of their twenty-third annual convention.

Whole-hearted hospitality of the home city of their cultured president was extended to these club women and a reflection of this graciousness was seen in their delight at being here.

Mrs. Toll has the reputation throughout clubdom for beginning her meetings on time and she lived up to that reputation today, for the stroke of her gavel sounded out at the appointed hour of 1:30 o'clock.

Sharing in the presiding honors was Mrs. John C. Urquhart, president of the California Federation.

Opened With Prayer

The invocation was given by Rev. C. M. Calderwood, pastor of the First Congregational church. There followed assembly singing, greetings from national, state, district, visiting officers and chairmen.

One of the features of the program for the afternoon was the report by Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, on the work of the local committee, arranging for the convention. Serving on this committee are Mesdames Daniel Campbell, H. E. Bartlett, A. H. Montgomery, E. W. W. Hayward and Lillian Dow.

Assisting chairmen are Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, housing; Mrs. Homer Lockwood, hospitality; Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, courtesy; Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, banquets; Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, registration; Miss Eva Daniels, publicity; Mrs. S. C. Packer, automobiles; Mrs. C. G. Putnam, ushers; Mrs. H. A. McPherson, platform; Mrs. B. O. Holbrook, finances; Mrs. C. J. Higgins, check room; Mrs. C. W. Houston, signs; Mrs. W. E. Evans, courtesy at the door; Mrs. Lillian Dow, information; Mrs. J. M. Eyerick, decoration; Mrs. Max Green, automobiles for entertainment; Mrs. C. H Temple, entertainment.

Assisting these are committees of Glendale club women.

Chairmen Report

Time was also allotted for reports from chairmen of the credentials, rules and regulations, program, federation extension, junior memberships, endowment, emblem, circulation, Redwood Memorial Grove and Headquarters at Washington committees; from the treasurer and from the presidents of Inyo, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara and Ventura counties.

Following the session tea was served and the delegates afforded

$2,375,000 Insurance Free to P. E. Workers

LOS ANGELES, April 8.—Employes of the Pacific Electric Railway company will receive free insurance amounting to $2,375,000. The company recently took out a single policy for $7,875,500 under which all employes are protected according to their length of service. After one year each employe receives free a $500 policy. Based on his salary he may then take out additional insurance up to $3,000 at a low premium. To date employes have subscribed for over five million dollars' insurance, of which the company pays 30 per cent of the premium, according to an announcement today by officials of the company.

Unsold Welfare Bonds To Be Offered Apr. 10

SACRAMENTO, April 8.—Unsold Veterans' Welfare bonds aggregating $1,650,000, will be offered for sale April 10, according to State Treasurer G. C. Johnson.

Bonds of this issue totaling $2,350,000 were sold eight days ago. Interest rate is 4½ per cent.

The money is being expended in the acquisition of farms and homes for former service men under the provisions of the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase act.

Question Land Sales In West to Railroad

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Acting upon the recommendation of Secretary of the Interior Work and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, the House public lands committee today approved a resolution providing for investigation of the sale of government lands in the west to the Union Pacific railroad.

Tells Committee Immunity Bought By 'Civil Fines'

WASHINGTON, April 8.—An amazing story of liquor law violators purchasing criminal immunity from the department of justice, through the payment of civil "fines," was related today by Bryce E. Armstrong, general prohibition agent, in testifying before the Wheeler-Brookhart committee.

The "fines," Armstrong said, were paid direct to the department in Washington by officials of breweries caught in dry law violations.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Shower Teacher

Mrs. Albert E. Tonk and sister, Miss Ida M. Waite of 1003 East Orange Grove avenue, entertained Saturday night with a prettily appointed miscellaneous shower for Miss Bessie Ross, popular member of the faculty of Colorado street school, of which Miss Waite is principal.

A pink decorative scheme was carried out attractively throughout the rooms, with the heart motif predominating. The honoree was presented with a booklet of original verses by Miss Waite, which directed her to lead a search through many places, in the house, the yard and garage. She was rewarded by the discovery of many beautiful gifts that had been concealed by the donors.

In addition to the individual gifts, Miss Ross was the recipient of a handsome electric waffle iron presented by her associate teachers. First prize for creating the cleverest costume of tarleton for a clothespin, doll, was awarded Miss Reva Hopkins.

Miss Mary Cirlcle was winner of the ring "for good luck" that was hidden in a cake, served with other dainty refreshments.

Those present were Misses Alice McCoy, June Hammill, Mary Circle, Ada Salstrom, Ethel Chase, Marguerite Burch, Reva Hopkins, Lilian Brandon, Louise Fambrough, Muriel Wilson, Mrs. Nell Zweifel, Mrs. Jessie Hunt, the honoree, Miss Bessie Ross, and the hostesses.

The marriage of Miss Ross and Lorne Schlotzhauer will take place Saturday, April 12.

Auxiliary Meets

The Glendale American Legion Auxiliary meeting last night in the Legion hall on East Broadway, voted unanimously to adopt a number of ex-service men at the Barlow and Sawtelle hospitals, and to contribute as much as possible to their welfare and happiness.

Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, president, was in charge of the meeting, featured by reports on welfare work by Mrs. L. T. Rowley and report on the county council by Mrs. Margaret Kaeding.

Mrs. Rowley stated that during the past weeks the auxiliary has been assisting a needy family of nine children.

Mrs. Kaeding reported that in the last year the county council has helped 400 men and women and secured employment for 200.

It was voted to give $25 to the Service League of the American Legion for Welfare Work. The league is located in headquarters in Los Angeles.

GLENDALE HI-Y AWARDED SILVER SERVICE TROPHY

Members Start Easter Trip To Santa Cruz Islands Monday Morning

An inspiring send-off for the Easter vacation cruise to the Santa Cruz islands was enjoyed by Glendale Hi-Y boys' meeting last night at the First Methodist church, when they received the silver trophy cup, awarded every month to the Hi-Y group having the best report on service.

This cup is awarded by the state boys' work committee, of which C. W. Ingledue of Glendale is a member. This month there were seventy-two clubs sending reports, and the report from the Glendale Hi-Y was judged first.

The report was featured by such events as the father and son banquet, lecture by J. W. Walton of anti-cigaret league, talk on foreign boys by Rev. Tilden, beach party at Santa Monica, assisting with young boys on hikes and educational trips, over night camps and assisting a crippled boy.

At the meeting last night the boys listened to a talk by Rev. W. E. Edmonds on "Church Allegiance."

Start Trip Monday

A group of the boys are to leave early Monday morning for their vacation cruise on a boat belonging to Frank A. Garbutt of Los Angeles. They will spend one day going to the islands, two days in trips about the islands and one day returning, arriving home Thursday night.

Those making the trip will be: Lyle Wheeler, Irvin Grose, Hugh Morrison, Ralph Morgan, Spencer Bellue, Niel Sooy, Herbert Jepson, Charles Tompson, Lewis Doty, Willard Ball, Dale Robinson, Dick Stone, Frank Gatto, Roy Frey, Ansel Brenimun, Dewey McCourt, Fred Appleton, Riley Lyons, David Ward, J. Wallace, Richard Ryan, Allen McCormick, Richard Fannin, Edward Collings.

Accompanying them will be Rex C. Kelley, Bert Rolfe and H. L. Butterfield.

EXCHANGE CLUB'S HEAD CUTS CAKE

Thirteenth Anniversary of Organization Honored By Glendalians

The thirteenth anniversary of the founding of the national organization of Exchange clubs was celebrated by the members of the Glendale Exchange club today noon at the regular weekly meeting held at the Egyptian Village.

A large birthday cake, bearing thirteen candles, adorned the table of the president, R. E. Johnston. The cake also bore the symbol of the club, done in blue, with appropriate decorations. R. E. Spicer, president of the Harrower Laboratory, who was a special guest, lighted the candles, and Dr. Appleton, by virtue of his profession of surgeon, was selected to do the carving.

Dr. H. R. Harrower, vice-president of the club, gave a brief address on the purpose and benefits of the club, and urged the adoption of the club's motto, "Unity for Service," by city and national officials.

Pleads for Unity

Unity is needed in the operation of the government, Dr. Harrower said, and a display of unity in the operation of the schools in Glendale would be appreciated, he said.

The silent boost, small bullet-shaped pencil holders, was donated by the Glendale Bootery. The program for the day was in the hands of William Baker, H. M. Bennett, Dr. J. A. Belyea, R. E. Brown and B. S. Bernard. The program next week will be provided by Dr. George A. Campbell, I. B. Carlock, Judge H. W. Chase, C. M. Christy, B. L. Cline, C. C. Goghlin, R. L. Cole, C. M. Coye and T. F. Culhane.

The club will arrange to use the gymnasium at the Harvard street high school one hour each week, President Johnston announced. H. C. Hull, captain of the baseball team, called a practice for tomorrow afternoon, and spoke of the possibility of entering a team in the proposed indoor league.

Postpone Minstrels

The minstrel show, to be given by the club for the benefit of the Community Service band, has been postponed to May 16 and 17, it was announced.

Show Club Sign

Secretary Culhane read a telegram from the Fresno club announcing the state convention had been postponed until April 25 and 26. A delegation of about twelve members will attend the convention from Glendale.

A big Exchange club sign, setting forth the club's symbol, was shown for the first time today. The sign was furnished by Ralph Hemphill, Malcolm Alexander and J. C. May.

Harvey Bates of the Radio Shop, was introduced as a new member.

BATTERIES
How To Tell When Your Batteries Are Spent

There are several indications by which the user may determine that the filament or "A" batteries are becoming exhausted. There are low filament brilliancy, weak signals, and distortion, the signals becoming less and less recognizable. When it is found necessary to turn the rheostat or battery knob wide open and the operation of the set is still unsatisfactory, it is a definite indication that they need replenishing.

When all batteries have been installed for the first time, listen to the phones or loud speaker while pushing the plug in and out. Sharp clicks will be heard in the loud speaker. If the "B" batteries have become fairly well exhausted, these clicks will become practically imperceptible, an indication that they need replenishing.

An indication of exhausted "C" batteries may be had by listening to the loud speaker with no stations tuned in. If the speaker gives forth a continual noise, the battery needs renewal. The noise may be either a high pitched whistle, a high crackling sound or a low gurgling murmur. Frequently the whistle is so high as to be above the range of audibility for some persons, but, in any case the noise becomes more audible as the battery ages.

HIST! ALSO, HA! BOBS, ANTI-BOBS IN CLOSE SHAVES

Hair Department of The Evening News Receives Additional Letters

To bob or not to bob? That is the question.
Whether 'tis nobler in the male to suffer
The shears and scissors on his fair one's tresses,
Or to take arms against the bobbed haired women—
And by not shaving, thwart them!
By the Office Boy.

The bobs and the anti-bobs continue to bombard the Bobbed Hair Editor of The Glendale Evening News with epistolary eloquence. To some the subject is one for panegyrics, while to others it is anathema.

Of the former is a communication from "Jane Doe":

"Glendale, Calif.,

"Dear Bobbed Haired (I mean Bobbed Hair) Editor:

"Well, I've gone, went, and done it! To think that I, me, myself, personally, would have dared do such a stunt! Me, Jane Doe, a sedate, married woman these twenty-two years and thirty-nine years old, 'yours truly,' who has quite a few gray hairs mixed all up with the brown, whoever would of thought that I would of dared, and then having dared, would of had spunk enough to carry the undertaking through! Well, anyway whoever is to blame, I never started it—at first I, myself, was horrified and

ROOSTER FRIEND OFFERS DEFENSE! WHO IS NEXT?

Do You Believe Faithful Birds Should Be Kept in City Limits?

While chanticleer is maligned by numerous Glendalians, there are many who have a good word to say for him and the Rooster Editor of The Glendale Evening News is torn with conflicting emotions as he reads the letters that burden the postman's back and weight down his desk.

While friend rooster may reign supreme in the barnyard, he is now without enemies in the hearts of his countrymen, or words to that effect. Upon analysis of the trouble, it seems that he is an early riser, which in itself would hold no offense; but the bird, in his enthusiasm, does not stop there but extols the dawn in accents unmistakable and, to some, disturbing, to say the least.

Both Good and Bad

Some of the world's best poetry and a great deal of its worst has been written on the subject of roosters. Chanticleer has been toasted in song and story and "Cock-a-doodle-doo" has been translated by Mother Nature into all languages.

Many brief and allegedly humorous jokes about roosters have likewise been pushed across the footlights of the nations. We all remember the one that answers the question: 'Why is a hen like a cat with nine lives?' by the pithy bit of repartee: 'Because her son will never set!' And we all have heard of the hen that,

"Women of Los Angeles district, are you going to sleep when so much depends on you, or are you going to respond to the call of your country? Your city, your state, your nation, to say nothing of your home, needs effective citizens in you.

"The clubs in the state are the ligaments which bind California women together. My call to you is to strengthen these ligaments and yourselves, that our work may be better done."

Influence of Early Church Architecture, Combined With Modern Conveniences, Provide Most Attractive Home

It is in the footprints on the old Indian trails leading across this peaceful valley to lands beyond the Green Verdugo Hills lies the record of the onward march of modern civilization. Dropping anchor in San Pedro harbor 150 years ago, and then journeying out Verdugo Road through the little village of Los Angeles, past the Plaza with its Church of the Angels and into this vast and fertile valley to the north and east, the early Californian sensed the great prosperity held in store yb the coming decades.

This was the land God had graciously blest, and, as the Indians roamed over mesa and plain, and the Mission padres traveled back and forth on the Camino Real along their chain of missions, and the Forty-Niners looked upon this wonderland after their perilous journeyings over the plains, they were all inspired with the happiness in this western land and they strove together toward the development of its resources and perpetuation of its beauty and romance.

By the great Pacific ocean the brown-robed padres and faithful Indians built twenty-one missions, and the early Californians their homes. Each structure represented months of wearisome toil. From the rich adobe soil the Indians moulded huge bricks and curved roof tile; from the nearby mountains they brought timber for the beams, which they bound together with strips of rawhide.

Spirit of Beauty

In these church buildings and the haciendas on the scattered ranchos was wonderfully and immortally blended the Spanish simplicity and art and California's overpowering spirit of the beauty of God's great out-of-doors.

A journey down the Camino Real of today, past the ruins or

MILLION DOLLAR AUTO SHOW WILL BE OPEN TONIGHT

Glendale and Eagle Rock Dealers Invite All to Big Event

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.

Promptly at 6 o'clock tonight the first joint Glendale-Eagle Rock million-dollar auto show will be officially opened, when the doors of the R. A. McLean Motor Sales Company's new building will be swung open.

Fifteen dealers located in the two cities will have on display 1924 models of twenty-two cars, representing the best in motordom, from the lowly two-seated roadster to the de luxe limousine and sedan models.

The million-dollar show will be open every night this week, the show hours being from 6 to 10 o'clock. The admission will be free. Those in charge of the show promise something new for every night.

Change Models Daily

One of the new and unusual features of the show will be the fact that the models will be changed daily. Each dealer will exhibit only two cars each day, but each day will have different models in his space. This will insure the visitors to the show seeing a new line of cars every night.

Music for the show will be furnished by the Kelly Shrine Club band of Glendale. Prizes will be awarded nightly to the persons attending the show, with the grand prize on Saturday night.

The show has been extensively advertised during the last two weeks. Two Chevrolet trucks, furnished by the R. A. McLean Motor Sales Company of Eagle Rock, have toured Los Angeles, Glendale and neighboring cities, carrying huge banners telling about the show, while placards were distributed freely throughout the surrounding territory. Windshield stickers were supplied automobile dealers and were in turn given by them to motorists.

Motordom's Aristocrat

The aristocrat of motordom will be present at the show—the new Chrysler Six motor cars. These cars will be exhibited by the Glendale Motor Car Company, of 124 West Colorado boulevard. The open models are the touring car, trimmed and painted in black; the phaeton, painted in marine blue with blue chrome leather upholstery, and the roadster, in two-tone gray, upholstered in dual tone Spanish leather, capable of seating four persons.

The closed models will be the brougham, finished in marine blue, superstructure in black, wheels in natural finish, nickel trimmings, mohair velvet upholstery and walnut woodwork; the imperial, with marine blue body and hood, natural wood wheels, nickel trimmings, walnut wood-

Lenten Services to Be Given at Noon

Rev. H. O. Kringle, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran church of Glendale, urges his church people to attend the noonday lenten services from April 14 to 18 at the Morosco theatre 744 South Broadway, Los Angeles. These services begin at 12:20 o'clock and close at 12:50 o'clock.

They are being held under the auspices of the Lutheran churches of the synodical conference of Los Angeles and Orange counties. Prof. Walter A. Maier of St. Louis will give gospel messages.

Tricked Countrymen, Trailed Around Globe

LOS ANGELES, April 8.—Trailed half way around the world by his countrymen whom he is alleged to have defrauded out of $100,000, M. Kiaki, alias M. N. Inuseka, Japanese financier and former head of a large San Francisco Finance corporation, has been tracked to earth in the underworld of Yokohama, according to cable advices received here today by a private detective agency working on the case.

Community Sing on Next Thursday Night

Another community "sing" is to be held Thursday night at 7:45 o'clock in the auditorium at the Harvard High school, and all Glendalians interested in singing are cordially invited.

Flora Myers Engle, dramatic and lyric soprano, is to give solo numbers, and Alexander Stewart, will lead community singing. Miss May Orcutt is to serve as accompanist.

Walker and O'Donnel Meet Tonight, Vernon

Chief interest in tonight's fight card at the Vernon Coliseum centers on the Walker-O'Donnel go, which is causing all kinds of talk among followers of the ring sport locally. Walker will be fighting his initial battle in a local ring and comes with a good record. O'Donnel is well known among southern ring fans and many will pull for a victory for him tonight.

Why I Am In Glendale

The Glendale News would have us write
Just why we settled down
In this fair city of the west,
A town of world renown.
The while we shivered in the east,
Our thoughts would stray oftime
To a land of wondrous beauty,
California's sunny clime.
Our friends would send us post-cards,
And at last we hit the trail
Which brought us to this garden spot
We love so well, Glendale.
A royal setting for this gem,
The mountains, tow'ring high,
Their amethystine shadows blent
With sapphire blue of sky.
Her churches, schools and shops, all fill
Glendalians with pride.
We're much amazed, we must confess,
To note her rapid stride.
We're glad we came to Glendale,
And as we close, would say,
The "News" has surely done its part,
And boosted all the way.

Says "Common Cent":

"This is the last of my little talks. So let me leave this final one thought in your mind. 'Nothing great was ever achieved without Enthusiasm.' When you work, work enthusiastically. When you play, play enthusiastically. When you save, save enthusiastically. Put your whole heart and soul into the game, and success will be yours."

How many times have you said to yourself: "I will start saving as soon as I get the chance. I cannot start now as I earn only enough to pay for what I need." Start right now. Take an inventory of yourself, your ambitions, your possibilities. Nine chances in ten you'll find some inconsequential little indulgence you can do without and not miss. Determine to put that small sum aside—no matter how trifling. And, once having decided, act. This very day start saving. Start with enthusiasm. You will find it easy. You will see your reserve "common cents" mount and mount. Then saving will become an interesting little game.

Drop in on us and talk the matter over. We will help you "make that inventory" if you wish. Start your account today, keeping it growing. The bright future beckons—begin walking up the path.

The Big Red Rooster and the Little Red Wheel

Father thought the rooster too old and tough to eat and but a waster of good corn.

FACTORY OUTPUT WILL BE LARGER

Canning Company's Output To Be More Than Double That of Last Year

The output of the McKeon Canning company will be 180,000 cases during the approaching season, more than twice last year's output, states C. B. Fitzsimmons, secretary-treasurer. The pack will comprise apricots, peaches, tomatoes, string beans and pears. The company will employ 175 persons during the peak period.

String beans will be handled during June, continuing until apricots come on. Bartlett pears will come on the last of August and other products in between.

Speaking of the frost in its relation to the fruit crop this season, Mr. Fitzsimmons said it had done no damage. The peaches were not far enough along to be injured and while he estimated that apricots were hurt about 30 per cent, he said it simply meant less work of thinning them and that to have a proportion killed by a frost, was in the nature of a blessing.

Memorial Exercises

Memorial Day exercises on May 30 this year, will take place on the Thomas A. Edison grounds, the parade assembling in front of the City Hall at 8:30 o'clock, it is announced by W. H. Adams, chairman of the committee of American Legionnaires and Veterans of Foreign Wars in charge of the program.

The organizations invited to participate in the parade are: the Community band, Boy and Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Y. M. C. A., fraternal organizations, churches and school children, in addition to the various patriotic organizations of the city, with the G. A. R. as honored guests.

The general committee has the following membership: Walter H. Adams, chairman; Dr. F. C. Tillson and L. F. Collins. Other committee chairmen are: parade, E. H. Wilson; exercise at school, L. F. Collins; transportation, M. S. Jones; visitation, Dr. A. E. W. Yale; close of business houses, J. W. Charleville; Sunday memorial service, Rev. T. E. Stevenson. The Business and Professional Women's club is to manage the gathering of the flowers, and Mrs. Swaim, Miss Read and Miss Comba have been appointed by the club for this work.

Students Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wilcoxon are now living at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Tipps of 306 Verdugo avenue. The bride was Miss Edith Tipps, sixteen years old, the youngest daughter, a student at the Burbank High school. The wedding was in the nature of an elopement and was a complete surprise. Rev. E. P. BUILDING BLOWN ACROSS AVENUE

High Wind Causes Damage In Valley City; Club Meets Wednesday

Very little damage was done here during the high winds of the past few days. A real estate office which was on the north side of Michigan avenue now is standing on the opposite side of the boulevard, a few trees were damaged and a frame chicken coop was overturned. On Sunday evening the electric lights were out for an hour or so during the very heavy rain storm which occurred about 7 o'clock.

Wednesday afternoon a particularly fine program is promised members of the Women's club, when Madame Bissell will give a short talk on China and Japan, where she visited at a very recent date. An interesting musical program will also be given by Mrs. A. McDonald, who will accompany Mrs. G. Smith, a vocalist of high order. Numerous questions will be taken up in business, old and new, and all members are urged to be present. Mrs. C. A. Haskins, president, also has a special letter on the state quarantine laws to read in regard to the epidemic among the cattle at present.

Society Meets

The Missionary Society of the La Crescenta Community church met at the home of Mrs. David Johnson on Mira Vista drive in Montrose for its regular monthly meeting. An exceptionally large number were in attendance to hear Mrs. Martin, who teaches in Mary Holmes seminary in Nest Point, Mississippi. Mrs. Martin gave an interesting talk on her work.

A letter from Harry Brown who is in charge of the industrial schools in Sangli, India, proved very interesting, particularly as Mr. Brown's parents are well known residents of Montrose. The devotional services were led by Mrs. Martin Ball, ex-president of the Lydia Bible class of Glendale First Presbyterian church. A full attendance of members, augmented by a number of visitors, made a large audience for the speaker. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the business meeting.

Mrs. Mary B. Darrow, librarian of the La Crescenta Branch of the Los Angeles county free library, reports the following number of books loaned during the month of March. Adult fiction, 257; juvenile, 211; magazines, 110; new fiction, 88; making in all a total of 666 books loaned.

TUJUNGA

TAXATION RULES LUNCHEON TOPIC

Internal Revenue Collector Is Speaker at Kiwanis Noonday Meet

Taxation Without Representation was the subject chosen by Rex B. Goodcell, collector of internal revenue, in his address to the Tujunga Kiwanis club at the regular weekly luncheon meeting Friday at Legion hall. On account of the wide interest in the subject the Kiwanis club invited the public to attend and a large number made reservations. Lunch was served by the members of the American Legion Auxiliary, Post 250.

Mr. Goodcell spoke on the laxity of citizens in registering and stressed the point that those who do not register and vote are taxed without their own representation in the matter. His talk was very comprehensive and to the point and was well received by his auditors.

A. C. Stover and Carroll Parcher, president and secretary, respectively, were elected at a recent meeting as delegates to the national Kiwanian convention to be held at Denver in June. George Aiken and Don Wieman were elected alternates.

Plan Building

A building committee has been organized by the Tujunga Woman's club with Mrs. D. J. Warnick as chairman and Mrs. Mark White as secretary. The committee has adopted a building plan that will be presented to the board of directors to be passed upon and will then be submitted to the members for approval.

The building will be constructed with a view to the future development of Tujunga and in such a manner that it may be converted into a residence in the event that it is found desirable by the club to dispose of the property and build elsewhere. Members who favor this plan point out that it is impossible to forecast the growth of Tujunga or to foresee the requirements of the club ten years hence. The only reasonably certain fact that can be prophesied they say, is that any building that is erected now will probably prove inadequate in a few years' time.

Mrs. Warnick Chairman

Mrs. Warnick was given the post of honor as chairman for the reason that it was during her administration as president of the club that the building fund was started. Mrs. Nelson E. Jones, president, states that nearly $300 has been added to the fund in the last three weeks and that similar good returns are expected from the series of entertainments planned for the next few weeks.

The next benefit entertainment schedule is a Hard Times party to be given Tuesday evening, April 8, at the Garden of the Moon on Michigan avenue. This affair is being arranged by the husbands and friends of the club members as their bit toward the new building. They are planning to give others in the near future.

Committees appointed by the civic bodies in Tujunga and Sunland are meeting with difficulties in solving the fire protection problem. Settling on the details of organization and purchase of equipment is proving a problem that has so far defied their best efforts. Homer Rice, M. F. Gilmer, Harry Zachau, H. H. Breidt and Lloyd Foster met with County Forester Flintham in his office recently, but could arrive at no decision on the question of purchasing equipment.

Would Make High Tax

The problem of protecting property in the more thickly settled sections where hydrants and pumping engines would be effective and at the same time providing protection against brush fires in the hills where neither pumpers or chemical engines could penetrate. It has been estimated that the cost of equipment that would handle both these situations might run the fire protection tax as high as 70 cents on the $100 and the forestry department is reluctant to approve a tax greater than 50 cents on the $100.

J. C. Smith has sold his interest in the Mission grocery, El Centro and Michigan avenue, to W. D. Hammond, who will bring his family to Tujunga to make their home.

Organization is being completed by the newly formed Boy Scout troop, which will be number two, and plans are being made for future activity. Earl C. Brunner is Scoutmaster and there are at present sixteen boys enrolled in the new troop. Mr. Brunner and other members of the camping committee went to Catalina Island Saturday to inspect sites for the coming summer encampment of the Scouts. Officers in the newly formed troop are: Scoutmaster, Earl C. Brunner; assistant Scoutmaster, Eugene Farr; assistant Scoutmaster, Carrol White; senior patrol leader, Charles Lang; troop scribe, Stuart Correll; treasurer, Douglas Day; Patrol leader, Patrol 1. Robert Mills, assistant, Douglas Day; Patrol leader, Patrol 2, Stuart Correll; assistant, Robert Ensign; Patrol leader, Patrol 3, Wallace Schock.

C. C. Meeting Tonight

The Tujunga Chamber of Commerce will hold the regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening, April 8, at Legion hall. Charles Bayer of Los Angeles is scheduled to address the meeting on the relationship of the Chamber of Commerce to the community which it serves. At this meeting it is expected that a movement will be started that will further the spirit of valley unity. The fire protection problem is also expected to be brought up for debate.

"Si Slocum," the country comedy play recently shown at La Crescenta and Montrose by local talent under the direction of Miss Walsh, will be presented in Tujunga April 11, at the schoolhouse auditorium. Members of the cast have reported that the play met with great success in the two communities where shown. The comedy depicts rural life as it exists in the minds of most people whose acquaintance with the country is limited and brings out some fine character impersonations.

MONTROSE

HIGH WINDS RAZE STORE BUILDING

Side of Garage Blown Out; Shingles Stripped From Roof of Church

The wind in this community played some freakish pranks, taking out one porch pillar on a home, a side out of a garage, some windows and leaving nothing of the hollow tile building, which was to have been the new home of the Sam Seelig company, but a small corner of the east wall, the other two walls being completely demolished.

The shingles on the roof of the La Canada church were removed in strips, while a number of the workmen's sleeping tents of the Edison camp were in a state of total collapse.

Dies Suddenly

The sudden death of G. Phillips, well known plumber, came as a distinct shock to the community. Mr. Phillips, who was erecting a new shop back of the Drainger block, had gone home for the night when on entering the house fell dead. He leaves his widow. So far funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Theo. Belanger, well known business man, is in a Los Angeles hospital, where he will be operated on for chronic appendicitis. Mr. Belanger's brother, Dr. Belanger, will have charge of the case during convalescence.

John Carson accompanied his sister, Miss Annie Carson, and Miss Ruth Fogg of Readfield, Maine, on a three days' trip to San Francisco. The easterners will return about Thursday.

SET HIGH PRICE RECORD ON LAND

Tract of 190 Acres Brings $1,250,000, Located Near Universal City

Sale for $1,250,000 of 190 acres on Lankershim boulevard and extending along the Cahuenga pass road and P. E., sets a new high level for land in this section and is believed to be the biggest realty deal ever consummated in the Universal City territory.

Myra Hersey is the seller and the Wilbur Durham company of Hollywood, the buyer. The acreage will be subdivided into high class residential lots.

Valley Building

The value of permits issued for Lankershim in March was $111,933, against $88,209 in February. The Hollywood district has a total of 1,203,720 for the month and Van Nuys $107,635. The total valuations of permits issued for the valley annexed territory for March was $363,379, against $299,715 in February, showing substantial growth throughout the valley.

With the generous rains of the past month, the San Fernando valley is facing one of the most prosperous seasons and it is confidently expected that monthly building permits will mount steadily through the summer months.

Form New C. of C.

Hollywood has been brought three miles closer to Lankershim by the organization of a North Hollywood Chamber of Commerce. The section includes that portion of Cahuenga avenue extending over the pass.

The section was called "North Hollywood" following refusal of Universal City's attorneys to permit the section to be called by the name under which the film company is incorporated.

The next shoot to be held by the San Fernando Valley Gun club is scheduled for April 13, when Van Nuys, Owensmouth, Lankershim and other valley towns will be represented.

The San Fernando valley will come in for a share of the $4,000,000 recommended by Highway Engineer R. M. Morton and approved by the California Highway commission, according to W. B. Cannon, superintendent of the Lankershim highway plant.

He is very happy over the approval as it means many improvements for the Lankershim division station in the way of new shops and garages.

Mr. Cannon has not been officially notified as to the amount to be spent here, but he states it will be around the $35,000 mark. The specifications or plans for the buildings have not yet arrived and he can not definitely state their dimensions but he feels they will be ample to care for the business in this section. An unofficial report is that the shop will be 90x140 feet.

Other valley towns will benefit in proportion.

EAGLE ROCK

IMPROVED POLICE PROTECTION NOW

Numerous Burglaries Result in Changes at Station, Detectives Added

An organization formed with the express purpose of making Eagle Rock an unhealthy place for burglars, is now operative in this community, manned by plain clothes men from the Lincoln Heights station, according to Sergeant J. A. Pyron of the night shift.

This move on the part of the police department was thought necessary following the occurrence of four burglaries last Sunday night, when a number of things of value were taken. The detectives will be placed under charge of Officer B. W. Thomason, whose term of duty in Eagle Rock has continued since before annexation. Officer Thomason is thoroughly familiar with this district, and it is anticipated that with the aid of detectives, the profession of burglary will become an exceedingly difficult one in Eagle Rock.

Several of the Eagle Rock officers are being transferred from this district into other branches of the police departments. Officers A. Rivera and C. W. Hairell having been transferred to the crime crushers, and Officer C. M. McBride to the plain clothesmen department, Lincoln Heights division, changes effective April 1. Officer C. A. Uarshall is filing the vacancy left by Officer McBride, and in addition two officers will be sent to this district, in order to supply the full numbers.

New "E" Schedule

Increased service over the "E" line of the Los Angeles Railway corporation is announced by L. H. Recappe, effective at once.

After 10:00 a. m., a fifteen minute service will be scheduled to Townsend avenue, provided for by alternate cars; that is every second car will switch at Avenue 45, giving a 7½ minute mid-day headway south of Avenue 45, and through the more densely populated section.

During the p. m., rush period all cars passing 11th street northbound from 4:25 and 6:01 p. m., inclusive, are scheduled to Townsend Avenue. This feature will eliminate transfer at Avenue 45 during this period. Only in case of emergency will cars be switched during this specified time.

In the transitional period following 6:01 p. m., headways vary, until the regular night service begins, when we provide a fifteen minute headway to Townsend, passing 11th street northbound to 9:26 p. m., with every second car switching at Avenue 45, again providing a 7½ minute headway to the latter point.

After 9:26 p. m., at 11th street, a 20 minute headway goes to Townsend and a 10 minute to Avenue 45. There is no change in leaving time of early or late cars from the present.

Realtors Speed Sewer

Local members of the Los Angeles Realty board have laid before the Los Angeles City Council the matter of delay in providing this community with sewers, as promised when consolidation took place nearly a year ago.

The Eagle Rock realtors realize that this delay is retarding development of the community, particularly in the business section, and they are determined to arrive at the bottom of the delay.

The action in going before the City Council was taken on motion by O. F. Krohle.

NO DANGER FROM DAIRY PRODUCTS OR MEAT, CLAIM

Health Officials Give Out Statement Saying Public Need Have No Fear

The Glendale Evening News is asked to publish the official statement relative to the mouth and hoof plague now being fought throughout the state, the statement being signed by medical men in responsible positions:

Reports coming to the city and county health departments would indicate undue excitement on the part of some of our citizens relative to the healthfulness of dairy products, meat and meat food products as a result of the present epidemic of foot and mouth disease among live stock.

Public health naturally comes first, and the public can rest assured there is absolutely no cause for excitement at this time as to the effect this disease may have on meat and dairy products for edible purposes.

Those who may be alarmed are advised that there is a very thorough system of inspection maintained through a corps of expertly trained inspectors by the state, county and city governments of dairy herds, ranches and creameries. Inspections are held regularly, and there can be no doubt as to the safeguarding of health in such complete supervision from ranch to table.

Complete Inspection

Regarding meat and meat food products: It has long since become a law, which is rigorously enforced, that all meat packing plants within the city, county or state be operated absolutely under either federal, state or city meat inspectors. This system of inspection is indeed technical work and only competent men, trained especially for such work, are employed. The rigid inspection starts with the live animal at the packers' pens and not only the carcass, but all organs of the animal, are carefully scrutinized for any infectious disease that may exist.

Meat inspection today has become a real science and, as a result, thousands of animals are condemned every year at the meat packing plants. Only carcasses and offal of animals found to be free of disease and entirely healthful are released by the inspectors for food purposes.

No Fear, Is Claim

There need be no fear on the part of the public in eating meat or dairy products as a result of the present epidemic with livestock. Health now, as in the past, is being safeguarded.

The greatest effort must be put forth by everyone to enforce strict compliance with the quarantine regulations. The cause of the strict regulations is to quickly eradicate the disease in order to save the livestock of our State and Nation, not through fear that food products from such infected animals might cause illness to the public. Infected animals are easily detected by the expert inspectors and are promptly destroyed.

The public should not hesitate to consume as much meat or dairy products as heretofore.

Sheriff Traeger to Make Address Here

William I. Traeger, sheriff of Los Angeles county, is coming out to Glendale again on Thursday, to speak to the Central Avenue Parent-Teacher Association It was only two months ago that the sheriff visited Glendale and was honored speaker at the Glendale College Women's club "Stanford University Day."

Mrs. R. L. Young, president of the Central P. T. A. announces that Sheriff Traeger will speak at 3:15 o'clock on the subject "Obeying the Law." Sheriff Traeger is an interesting speaker and gives valuable facts gleaned from his long experience in the law enforcement business.

Following his speech there will be a musical program by the junior orchestra of the school. The meeting is open to all those desiring to attend.

Men Arrange Service For Church Tonight

A special feature of the evangelistic services which will be conducted at the Pacific avenue Methodist church for the next two weeks, is the meeting arranged by the men of the church for tonight, April 8. This meeting has been designated as "Men's Responsibility Night" when every man of the church and community are extended a cordial invitation and urged to attend and bring with them their families.

An address will be given by the pastor of the church, Rev. H. C. Mullen and several selections by the male quartette will be a feature.

SCHOOL'S MUSIC PUPILS TO GIVE THE FIRE PRINCE

Clever Operetta to Provide Young Folk With Chance to Display Talent

A picturesque Spanish setting furnishes the background for the clever operetta to be given Wednesday afternoon and Thursday night at the Broadway High school by pupils of the music department, directed by Mrs. Charles A. Parker and Mrs. Dora L. Gibson.

"The Fire Prince" is the title of the operetta, with libretto by David Stevens and music by Henry Hadley, and, according to those who have witnessed the rehearsals, it is most adaptable for use with high school musicians.

The story is about Prigio, an opinionated youth, who declares that he does not believe in fairies, notwithstanding the prevailing belief that a number of very influential ones attended his christening and bestowed upon him many useful magic gifts. On that same day a bad fairy made him the cleverest person in Pantouflia and consequently he is detested by all except his mother, who shares his disbelief in fairies.

Hard Hit by Heat

These christening gifts, through Prigio's indifference, are treated with utmost neglect, no attempt ever having been made to use them.

About this time a terrible scourge of heat falls on the land and the wise man expresses belief that it is caused by the "Firedrake," which everybody knows is a monster whose normal temperature is terrific. It therefore becomes obvious that something must be done. Both Alphonso and Enrico, brothers of Prigio, volunteer to fight him, but the king, thinking he sees a way to dispose of his too clever son, proposes that Prigio, being the eldest, should first engage the monster, in accordance with tradition.

This proposal Prigio flatly declines on the frivolous ground that he doesn't believe in Firedrakes, so Alphonso and Enrico go to fight the monster and meet tragic fates.

In the meantime Rosa, the Spanish ambassador's daughter, appears incognito and makes the acquaintance of Prigio, who is deeply impressed.

King Is Enraged

When the king learns of the fate of his two sons he is so enraged that he disinherits Prigio and, with his court, takes himself off to his Castle of Falkenstein, leaving Prigio to his own resources.

Prigio's first thought is to dine at Glucksberg, the capital city, but without money, clothing or means of transportation this seems impossible. The fairy gifts are at hand, however, and he is clever enough to see no risk in testing them, especially as he is alone. He accordingly equips himself with the "Seven-League Boots" and "Wishing Cap" and wishes himself in Glucksberg, just forty-nine leagues distant. Seven strides take him there.

At Glucksberg Prigio finds a brilliant ball scheduled that night at the Spanish embassy.

Here a series of fortunate events brings him into the company of Rose, and when she declares a wish to possess the horns and tail of the "Firedrake," Prigio gallantly offers to procure them, and departs for that purpose.

Ruler Offers Reward

Meanwhile the king has issued a proclamation offering as reward for the horns and tail of the "Firedrake" a money prize and the hand of Molinda in marriage.

Prigio returns with the horns and tail, which, together with his magic carpet, he entrusts to Benson, the butler. The latter retires with them to the hall, where, stimulated by the promised reward, he indulges in the wish that he were the lucky man to present the trophies to the king. Now a remarkable thing occurs, for Benson happens to be standing on the magic carpet with the horns and tail under his arm, when he utters the fervent wish, and instantly he flies out of the open window and away to Falkenstein.

This unforeseen event makes it necessary for Prigio to follow at once with the aid of his seven-league boots, and shortly he returns on the magic carpet, accompanied by everybody concerned.

Menaced by Death

He has no difficulty in establishing his claim to the reward, but being by this time betrothed to Rosa, he declines the hand of Molinda. But the king requires that Prigio marry Molinda or perish on the gallows.

Prigio, suddenly remembering the unlimited resources of his guardian sprites, announces that he will restore his brothers to life or destroy himself. His fatner agrees to this and Prigio is left alone.

He calls the fairies, who provide him with a quantity of magic waters which are guaranteed to restore life. He brings his brothers to life and the story works out happily for all concerned.

Tickets for the operetta are on sale at the High schools.

Wish For Better America In President's Greetings

Across the distances of a continent, traveling by telegraphic wires, comes a message from Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, in greeting to Los Angeles District club women and guests gathered in convention in Glendale.

Mrs. Winter completely won the hearts of California club women, when she paid California a pre-Biennial visit last November.

Power of intellect, a cultured background, pleasing eloquence and a profound understanding of the present age and of the problems of the 2,800,000 club women she leads, are some of the attributes of this club leader.

Her greeting sent today from her home in Minneapolis to the convention in Glendale is:

"My most affectionate greetings to Los Angeles District and with them the hope that this federation of ours will mean our own happiness and also better homes, better families, better bodies and souls, better citizenship and a better America."

NEED FOR LEGAL STUDY STRESSED

Knowledge of Business Law Aids Understanding of Property Rights

Mab Copeland Lineman, Los Angeles attorney and chairman of legislation for the Los Angeles district, has had a prominent part in helping California women to an understanding of the fundamental principles of business law relating to property rights, and she has stressed this work in club legislative departments. In greeting the convention she says of her department:

Need for Education

"The necessity for education in the work of this department is very apparent when we consider that law expresses and safeguards our civilization.

"The time is now ripe when we must help our women to an understanding of the fundamental principles of business law relating to property rights, and the suggestion of this department during the year has been that much practical good can be done by the respective clubs by providing opportunity for this study, so vital to every member of these clubs."

$30,000,000 Fraud Prosecution Blocked

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Federal prosecution of a $30,000,000 mail fraud case in Boston was blocked by the department of justice because former Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty represented the defendants, George W. Stock, government accountant, testified today before the Wheeler-Brookhart committee.

Stock said he investigated the case, which involved a man named H. B. Green, and recommended immediate prosecution. No action was ever taken, he said.

Cuban mines have yielded an iron ore of very fine quality.

RECIPROCITY IN WORK ADVOCATED

Concerted Action Is Needed To Accomplish Results, Says Mrs. Thayer

The great sisterhood of club women is demonstrated beautifully in the countless reciprocity affairs throughout the club year, when the various clubs give special luncheons and programs, to which club women from all over the district are invited. Mrs. John S. Thayer is chairman of reciprocity and information for the Los Angeles district. The following is her message to the convention gathering:

"Concerted action can accomplish far more than any individual effort. This is the keynote of federated womanhood: to help one another; to pass along the spirit of co-operation and kindly endeavor; to encourage and help our club sisters in every way.

"Reciprocity is:

"Reaching out to our club sister every day in every way.

"Concerted co-operation and coordination.

"In federation lies strength.

"Progress slowly but surely, remembering that mutual concession of opinion often clears the way for action.

"Clarify your vision by exchange of ideas—it will broaden your viewpoint.

"To you and your club it opens new fields of endeavor.

COUPLE INJURED

SPIRIT OF EARLY MISSIONS SHOWN

Tuesday Afternoon Club Has One of Most Attractive Buildings In South

restorations of its old missions and past some of the remaining buildings on the sites of the old ranchos, is convincing proof that only in a California-Spanish type of home or public building is the real wonder spirit of California expressed.

And this California-Spanish atmosphere has not passed with the ages, but has become a dominating influence in western architecture.

Glendale's Tribute

Modern civilization has seized this great western state, and here in the peaceful valley at the foot of the Green Verduo Hills stands Glendale, a thriving, modern city of 50,000 inhabitants.

Glendale's perfect tribute to California's early history and romance is to be found in the new home of the Tuesday Afternoon club, located at the northeast corner of Central avenue and Lexington drive, the scene of the twenty-third annual convention of the Los Angeles District.

The Tuesday Afternoon club house is a wonderful masterpiece in California-Spanish architecture and adds another laurel to California's national reputation for beautiful and unique clubhouses.

Most Artistic

With its two main entrances on Central avenue, the clubhouse, with its brown plaster exterior, darker brown art stone decorations, artistic windows, brilliant roof tiles and long, low design, attracts the eye of travelers along either Central avenue or Lexington drive.

Facing the building on Central avenue one sees directly before him two main entrances, the entrance into the foyer and auditorium, and the entrance into the social quarters on the south half of the building. On the extreme south half is the porte-cochere, with a driveway leading from Lexington drive to the building and on out onto Central avenue. From the porte-cochere there is also a second entrance into the social quarters.

Returning to the main entrance on the north half of the building one approaches and mounts three cement steps onto a wide veranda, possibly fourteen feet in width and fifty feet deep, before the doorway.

Specially Designed

This facade with its specially designed brown art stone frame for the massive wooden door with heavy iron knob, eight small oblong windows with iron railings, and balcony window above the doorway is the alluring invitation to the visitor to enjoy the treasures that lie within the door.

The foyer is most adequate and awesome with its beauty. From it two doors lead into the auditorium; French doors out onto the north walk; French doors into the palm room to the south, and two stairways up to the men's and women's parlors and projection room. Two cloak checking rooms are on either side of the entrance.

Rough plastering, rich with stippling in silver and gold with black stenciling, is used in the foyer. Lighting is from specially designed wrought iron fixtures.

A gray stain has been used on the stairways and woodwork leading to the parlors and projection room. The women's parlors are on the north side and the men's parlors on the south side of the entrance.

Projection Room

The projection room has been built according to the most modern developments and is metal lined and fireproof. Additional fire protection is found in the foyer, where a fire hose and equipment case have been provided at one of the entrances to the auditorium.

Blending with the artistic scheme presented in the foyer, the auditorium extending approximately 120 feet to the east and with a seating capacity of 764 persons, is a masterpiece within a masterpiece. A mauve color has been used in the base plaster on either wall. Above this is the gold stippled work with pilasters artistically stenciled in black, blue and gold.

An interesting feature of the auditorium is that the ceiling, which is carried out in the same design as the walls, has no lighting fixtures, the lighting provisions being in lighting troughs on the side walls and from massive lanterns hanging by chains attached to heavy iron arms coming from each pilaster. The troughs are oblong affairs done in colors to harmonize with the whole.

Well-Equipped Stage

A commodious orchestra pit is located just in front of the stage, which is perhaps eighteen feet deep and fifty feet in length and thirty-five feet from floor to top. A beautifully fashioned arch of Travatine marble is over the stage setting. The stage has six modernly equipped dressing rooms and ample space for scenery.

Under the stage is the room for the heating and ventilating system. Heating is by a gas-steam system.

There are six oblong windows on either side of the auditorium.

Going back through the auditorium into the foyer again one passes through French doors into the palm room, which is a delightful intermission between the north and south parts of the building.

Red Spanish tiles form the flooring, while rough plastering covers the walls and rough beams above which provide places for climbing vines and hanging plants. The palm room has an attractive wall fountain in brown tile. French doors lead into the foyer, into the dining room, into the reception room and into the lounge room.

Real Home Atmosphere

Another charming spot is the lounge room, where the real home atmosphere and hospitality of the club organization is located. The rough plastering and colored stencil effects are also found in this room, but the real treasure is the beautiful, massive fireplace with art tile work and elaborate stencil design above. In this room has been installed rich, beautiful, wrought-iron lighting fixtures, specially designed on a candelabrum pattern, with long holder effects.

Ample lighting in the lounge room is provided by three French windows looking out on Central avenue; two into the palm room; one into the reception room and three onto the veranda before the main entrance.

The center of the social and administrative activities is the reception room, with entrances from the south porte-cochere and from the Central avenue side. In entering from Central avenue one finds immediately within the door a telephone booth and cloak room. On the right is a business office, another cloak checking room, a delightful little parlor done in gray.

General Beauty

The remaining southeast portion of the building includes the dining-room with entrances from the palm room and the reception room; the Italian tea room; the kitchens and pantries, and the custodian's quarters.

Harmonizing with the rest of the building the large dining-room shares in the general beauty. Folding glass doors lead from it into the tea room and swinging doors into the kitchen. French doors provide exit onto a small porch to the east, known to club members as the "East Terrace." The room finish is in the rough plastering with the gold stippling and colored stenciling. the ceiling beams being decorated with stenciling and exquisitely made wrought iron fixtures, carried out to give the candle idea.

A unique design is found in the Italian tea-room, whose walls are of a tan shade covered with latticed wood in apple green. Three French windows look out upon Lexington drive. In the wrought iron fixtures discs of amber-colored glass have been used and when the lights are turned on the color blends beautifully with the green-shaded woodwork.

Extensive Kitchen

Finally one comes to the extensive kitchen, with three windows, specially built sink with convenient equipment; also hoods for the gas ranges, and adjoining butler's pantry, service porch and storeroom.

On the extreme southeast corner of the building is located the custodian's quarters, a kitchen, bath, linen closet, dressing and living rooms.

Reinforced concrete, fireproof construction has been used throughout the building, as has also fine maple flooring.

The lot on which the building stands is 200 by 190 feet and was purchased by the club October 1, 1922. The ground was broken for the building June 28, 1922, and on August 1, 1922, the building was started. Ceremonies of laying the cornerstone took place on the club's charter day. November 14, 1922. The building cost $83,000.

Honors for the beauty of design and planning of the building go to Alfred F. Priest, architect, of Glendale.

URGES VISIT TO NEW SANITARIUM

C. E. Kimlin Invites Women Attending Convention to View Hospital

The new Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital in northeast Glendale, recently completed at a cost of $1,000,000, is one of the show places of Southern California and stands as a monument to the vision and efforts of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination, an edifice dedicated to service.

Tourists from far and wide have visited this magnificent institution and no scenic trip around Glendale would be complete without a trip to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital. From C. E. Kimlin, business manager of the institution, comes an invitation to the women of the twenty-third annual convention of the Los Angeles district, Federation of Women's Clubs, to include this great building on their visiting list.

Beautiful Panorama

From the sun parlor of the roof of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital one beholds a panorama that includes Glendale, Hollywood, Eagle Rock, Los Angeles and the beautiful Flintridge-Pasadena foothills. No point within the city limits affords a better opportunity for learning the "lay of the land" hereabout, and an inspection of the institution itself will prove that not even the great Battle Creek sanitarium offers more modern and complete recuperative facilities.

BIENNIAL OPENS

The California Biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs will formally open June 3 at 8 p. m. in the Philharmonic auditorium, Los Angeles.

Portrait of Mrs. Morris Inspiration To Visitors

Perfection in a home is only found where there is a real mother spirit, and this vital element is not found lacking in the beautiful home of the Tuesday Afternoon club of Glendale.

Convention delegates visiting the lounge room at the clubhouse will find inspiration in the beautifully done portrait of the late Mrs. Martha Wright Morris, charter member and club president during 1907-1908 and affectionally referred to as the 'Club Mother."

Mrs. Morris' death occurred December 9, 1919. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Margaret M. Gale and Mrs. C. E. Stanley, both members of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

Family Heirlooms

Among the many valuable family heirlooms they treasure through association with their mother are two pieces of mother of pearl, one beautifully carved with a Roman scene.

These pieces of pearl were part of a little silver and black velvet card case presented to Mrs. Morris by Abraham Lincoln for a great service she rendered the United States leading to the capture of a notorious spy during Civil War days in Washington, D. C.

DISPLAY EMBLEM, CHAIRMAN'S PLEA

'Pin for Every Member' Is Slogan of Campaign by Mrs. E. M. Lazard

"A pin for every member has been the year's slogan of Mrs. E. M. Lazard, emblem chairman of the Los Angeles district, and something is told of her endeavors in the message that follows:

"The duties of the emblem chairman have this year laid along pleasant places. The clubs have responded eagerly to the call of loyalty and the sale of pins and stickers has been unprecedented. Many of the clubs have shown themselves 100 per cent federated and the goal has been 'a pin for every member.' Should this slogan be more widely used the club members would become more closely bound to the federation idea. It is with this hope that we urge the sale of the California emblem, knowing that strength and loyalty redound to him who practices them.

"Let us hope that this convention will be the best and broadest of any of the Los Angeles district."

FLAG SALUTE

Mrs. Maynard Force Thayer urges club presidents to see that the correct wording of the Pledge of Allegiance is used in their clubs: "I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States, and to the republic for which it stands," etc. When giving the pledge, place the right hand over the heart.

SANE POLICY IS INDUSTRY'S NEED

Constructive Business Plans Depend on Impartial Attitude, Claim

Under the direction of Mrs. C. J. Colden, industry and employment has been stressed in the club organizations throughout the Los Angeles district. Mrs. Colden says of her work:

"An impartial attitude taken by women toward industrial affairs can assist greatly in shaping sane and constructive industrial policies. Everyone forms his own opinion on the basis of what he himself knows.

"No one can judge the world and what is going on in the world on any other basis. Therefore, in order that the federated club women of California may work toward a better understanding of industrial and business problems and that they may co-operate in the solution of these problems, a constructive program was presented for the year 1923-34 in the department I represent."

TO SHARE HONORS IN ENTERTAINING

Kindred Organizations Join In Making Delegates Feel at Home

Sharing in the greeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club to the convention delegates are the Thursday Afternoon Club and the Women's Parliamentary Law Club, the two other federated clubs of Glendale.

Mrs. E. V. Bacon, president of the Thursday Afternoon Club, says in greeting:

"The Thursday Afternoon Club of Glendale extends a hearty greeting to our club sisters. We are glad to have you with us and feel that by the coming together of the representative women of the district we become better acquainted and receive inspiration which helps us to a broader vision of life and we will return to our club work with many new and helpful thoughts. Welcome to Glendale!"

DIRECTOR URGES UNITY OF EFFORT

Mrs. R. J. Burdette Defines Woman's Power Limits In Aid of World

Because Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, director for California for the General Federation of Women's Clubs, lives in Pasadena, the Los Angeles district club women dare to lay special claim to her and honor her on every possible occasion.

Mrs. Burdette is in attendance at the Glendale convention and her message to the delegates is:

Shows Wide Sphere

"The measure of women as a world power today is limited only by our active interest, the intelligence of our actions and the unity of our effort.

"Therefore, be not apathetic, be informed and stand together, and the power will be ours to solve the moral problems of this world of ours if we but 'will to do.'" a little ice saves a lot of food!

From the standpoint of economy alone, you'll find it pays to take ice regularly throughout the Spring months. Outside of the cold, even temperature of a refrigerator, perishable foods will grow stale, and some will spoil. And a little waste now and then will mean quite a total on the monthly food bills. Aside from this, ice has a tremendous health value in keeping your foods pure and wholesome. Just ask your doctor!

Club Women Bring Greetings To District Meeting

GLENDALE PROUD OF MRS. TOLL AS DISTRICT LEADER

Renewed Zeal, Higher Ideals to Result from Meet, President Claims

Mrs. Charles H. Toll's home city is most happy this week to pay her honor by entertaining the twenty-third annual convention of the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's clubs, of which she is president.

Glendale rejoiced last year when the district convention at San Luis Obispo chose Mrs. Toll as president, and throughout the year Glendale has watched with pride the accomplishments of her administration.

In welcoming her club women to Glendale Mrs. Toll says:

Exchange of Ideas

"The prime reason for holding a convention is to offer opportunity to those interested in the work to gather new ideas, to exchange thoughts, to ask questions, and to rub off sharp corners or excrescences on the club mind.

"Is the convention of sufficient value to each of you individually to warrant the temporary desertion of home and family, and the expenditure of time and money involved?

"It all depends on the individual. Some may return homeward desiring not to repeat the experience, but to the majority renewed zeal, higher ideals of life, and greater loyalty to and interest in the larger organizations of which the District is but a small part, will accrue.

President's Advice

"Practical experience impels the District President to advise this. To secure the greatest good to yourself and to the organization that you represent,

"(1) Be in your seat promptly for the opening moments and remain throughout the day and evening.

"(2) Attend all sessions, including conferences.

"(3) Listen very thoughtfully to all that is presented for your consideration.

"(4) Have a note-book and a pencil in hand at all times. One cannot remember all of importance that transpires in two and one-half days full of work.

"(5) Give your home group shortly after you return (in the flush of your enthusiasm) an account of the convention doings, stressing the matters that contribute to the life of the organization.

"If this convention gives to you a broader view and a wider conception of what club work should mean, it will have been well worth while. In the words of Alice Ames Winter, 'This is what the Federation means or ought to mean—without bias, without partisanship, without self-seeking—an invulnerable and invincible unit for public service and for personal inspiration'."

State Leader's Message Stresses Noble Ideals

Personifying the grandeur of ideals upon which the California Federation of Women's clubs is founded is the state president, Mrs. John C. Urquhart, who is one of the honored guests at the convention now in session in Glendale.

Throughout the state club women love and honor Mrs. Urquhart and pay high tribute to her ability as a club leader and executive.

Her greeting to the convention gathering is:

"Past knowledge of the fine spirit of co-operation, the high moral sentiment and mental equilibrium of this District is assurance for even a better meeting than those of the past.

"The influence of the six district conventions held in the State previous to the State convention will be registered in our State meeting to be held in Pasadena, May 30 and 31st, where the themes of the six districts will be gathered into that of "World Citizenship."

"Owing to the coming Biennial the state convention has had to be made very short—but by serious thought on the part of the program committee, we hope to present the year's work through District Presidents, and State Chairmen in a novel way—so composed as to conform to time, but so illuminated as to serve as the frame-work for the forward looking work of the coming year.

"May the joy of combined thoughts bring you harmonious results."

DONATIONS HELP ENDOWMENT FUND

District Chairman Tells of Plans for Memorial to Caroline Severance

During the past club year the Tuesday Afternoon Club women had the pleasure of entertaining at one of the club luncheons Mrs. Howard U. Sherwood, chairman of endowment for the Los Angeles district.

Mrs. Sherwood is in attendance at the present convention and is most happy in greeting her many friends throughout the district.

Owing to the many activities and interests of the Biennial in June in Los Angeles, the endowment work has been suspended for the time being.

Fund Is Increased

However, Mrs. Sherwood states that several voluntary contributions have been received and added to the endowment fund, known as the Caroline Severance Endowment Fund, to be a lasting memorial to that wonderful pioneer club woman.

Mrs. Sherwood adds that seven clubs in the Los Angeles district have completed their full quota of 72 cents per member. These clubs are the Gleason Parliamentary Law Club, University Book Club, Travel Club of Los Angeles, Ramona Women's Club of Monterey Park, Minerva Library Club of Santa Maria, the A to Z Club of Santa Maria in Santa Barbara county, the Women's Athletic Club of Lone Pine in Inyo county. She adds that the clubs of Ventura county all completed their full quota last year.

TIME OF CONSTRUCTION

Work on the clubhouse was started August 1, 1922, and completed Tuesday, March 13, 1923.

DETAILS DUTIES OF HOME-MAKING

District Executive Ready to Co-operate Fully With Members

Home economics is the work in charge of Miss Lilian M. Douglass, one of the Los Angeles District chairmen, and on occasion of the annual convention Miss Douglass says of the activity over which she presides:

"The district chairman of home economics sends greetings to all who attend the conference with the hope that the twenty-third annual convention will be the most far reaching in good of all previous conventions.

"The chairman wishes to thank all the clubs who have so ably responded to her requests and feels confident that the work will go on stronger than ever next year.

Duties of Women

"Woman's job has from the beginning been concerned with the doing or producing end of home making, but that is not all, for she determines the consumption demands of the home as well, choice and selection of food, clothing and shelter; budget and proper distribution of the income, so as to obtain the best results in health, happiness and satisfaction to the family.

"The chairman is most desirous of co-operating in any way possible to make this a 'Better Homes Year' throughout the district."

HEALTH DEPT. IN FIGHT ON DRUGS

Better Care for Narcotic Addicts Is Sought By Women's Chairman

Recognizing the importance of the preservation of public health, this phase of club activity in the Los Angeles district has been stressed the past few months under the chairmanship of Dr. Julia R. Johnson.

In attending the convention, Dr. Johnson brings a most hearty greeting, saying:

"It is with great pleasure that I send greetings to the convention at Glendale.

"Our public health program for this year has been not only the usual sanitary problems, but the very vital problem brought about by the narcotic situation in the United States.

Study of Laws

"Our clubs are making a careful study of the international situations, our own existing laws and especially the laws governing the limitation of production.

"We feel it the duty of every club woman to stimulate public opinion for the better care of the narcotic addict. We also promote the teaching of the dangers of the use of narcotics in the schools, factories, etc., through lessons prepared by competent physicians.

"Our youth must be protected, who are incited to crime after becoming slaves to some habit-forming drug."

FURNISHING COSTS

In planning for furnishings of the clubhouse, Mrs. W. E. Evans and her committee first considered floor coverings and window necessities. They spent $3000 for the floor coverings and $1400 for the windows.

OLDEST CLUB WOMAN

Healdsburg, Sonoma county, boasts of having the oldest active club woman in the state, Aunt Polly Reynolds, 99 years young and still going strong. She is a member of the Sotoyme Literary club of Healdsburg.

D. A. R. FLAG GIFT

The silk flag in the clubhouse auditorium was a gift to the club from the General Richard Gridley chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

France claims to have found a vaccine for cattle that will check the foot and mouth disease.

AID FOR FORMER SERVICE MEN IS COMMITTEE AIM

Plans to Assist Veterans of Late War Outlined in Communication

Hearty co-operation with ex-service men and women is one of the dominating aims of American club women, and this phase of club work in the Los Angeles district is admirably handled by Mrs. Henry T. Wright, who gives the following sketch of the work of her committee:

"The Los Angeles district committee is composed of twelve county and club units, thirty-two chairmen in all, holding monthly conferences in the Junior Orpheum building, Los Angeles. Each county and club unit holds its own conferences, reporting to the central committee.

"Its object is to co-operate with any and all existing organizations giving service to ex-service men and women. Its purpose, to conserve to the nation its greatest natural resource—happy, prosperous, loyal citizens, especially those whose loyalty and devotion were proved by their service in the late war.

Outlines Plans

"The committee's endeavors have been mainly along three channels: First, with the knowledge that of the more than 1,000 disabled men in hospitals in Los Angeles, only 10 per cent of them were from California, it realized that if Christmas in these institutions were to be one of 'Peace upon earth, good will among men," it would be up to the women of Los Angeles to carry the mother spirit into them and create the home atmosphere, so essential to the Yuletide.

"In co-operation with the American Legion, the Women's Auxiliary and the Red Cross, in every institution where ex-service folk were hospitalized or domiciled the spirit of Christmas reigned, with gift boxes, dollar bills for non-compensible men, sweetmeats, lighted trees indoors and out, carols, Christmas music and entertainment.

"Next we were able, through the hospitality of Los Angeles Ebell and with the co-operation of the Women's Overseas League and the auxiliaries, to meet and greet more than 350 ex-service women and extend to them our gratitude for and appreciation of the 'mother' service they gave our men in camps and on the battle-front during the World War. It was only an afternoon tea, but one of delightful reminiscence, and the first public recognition given these women in Los Angeles. All lines of service, many states and seven allied nations were represented.

Relief Work

"The committee is now working on relief outside hospitals. Because of disability and unemployment there is much destitution and suffering among ex-service families.

"To meet these conditions, the American Legion posts have established a service department in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce building for registration, employment and relief, and to eliminate duplication and overlapping. All overhead expense is borne by the Legion posts.

"The federation committee has pledged through this department $100 a month for immediate relief.

"Many clubs have contributed, but as the close of the club year is at hand, it has decided to give a benefit card party at the Biltmore Hotel on Thursday, April 26. Tables are $10, which includes a delicious tea, prizes and music. Clubs that have not as yet responded are urged to help in this good cause.

Create Outlets

"The committee believes that a most constructive means of rehabilitation is through the creating of markets by which the ex-service men can dispose of products made in vocational schools, and is urging all clubs to have exhibits of these articles at their clubs from time to time, thus giving the producers a chance to become self-supporting and self-respecting citizens. A sale is being conducted each day in the Biltmore Hotel, through the courtesy of the management, and a sale and exhibit is being arranged for at the present district convention. Mrs. Eugene Gilliland is the capable chairman in charge at Glendale. Homespuns for sports wear and beautiful, attractive favors for parties, etc., may be obtained or ordered at these sales.

"All are cleared through the California Hut, which the federation committee has endorsed as the most efficient and permanent means of handling these products.

"The committee has also forwarded a request to the general and state federations to include in their programs of rehabilitation the creating of such markets for veterans' handicrafts. The committee has endorsed the finding of the military affairs committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and its petition to Washington to secure an appropriation for the erection, equipment and maintenance of a 1,000-bed hospital at Soldiers' Home, Sawtelle, where overcrowded conditions in the old buildings are neither safe nor sane.

Adequate Quarters

"Also, the findings of the same committee and its accompanying request to secure adequate quarters and care for ex-service women, who have heretofore been so neglected.

"After seven months of service with organizations that have as their purpose the needs of ex-service people, the chairman of this committee fully realizes what our state president had in mind when she gave us as a working medium and goal 'The Spiritual Force of Understanding,' so fine and splendid has been the spirit of co-operation and understanding between the federation committee and other organizations working in the same cause. Reams of paper would be necessary to give you the individual club reports. All have been so very devoted, loyal and helpful in this national work."

FINANCE WIZARD TELLS MEANS TO INCREASE FUNDS

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery's Method Is Lots of Hard Work and Advertising

Jotted down on the notebook of every convention delegate is the reminder, "see the financial wizard, who has earned so much money for the Tuesday Afternoon club of Glendale," which translated means Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, first vice president and chairman of ways and means, who during the two years she has served in this capacity has raised $12,231.70 for the club.

For fear she won't have the chance to meet each delegate who has a curiosity to see her and talk of her money making schemes, Mrs. Montgomery has written the following greetings:

"'He who has a thing to sell
And goes and whispers in a well,
Is not so apt to get the dollars
As he who climbs a tree and hollers."

Plans to Advertise

"The author of this very clever little saying is not known but we know that it takes a large amount of advertising, hard work and splendid co-operation to put over anything worth while.

"This is equally true of a small affair; if it is worth doing at all it is worthy of the very best you can put into it. To be successful in anything you must give of yourself for the love and the joy of service.

"The talents we have are not ours but are God-given, to help mankind, and if in our small way we have been able to help in the building of a home that is a credit to the splendid womanhood of Glendale we are happy that we have not wasted the gift that God has given us.

Praises Associates

"Too much cannot be said of the many wonderful women who have given of their time and strength so willingly and cheerfully to help raise the funds for the ways and means committee. The co-operation has been magnificent. We have had at all times such splendid backing and wonderful appreciation and understanding from the executive board of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

"It has been a great privilege to serve as chairman of ways and means under such a leader as Mrs. Daniel Campbell, known all over the state for her fairness, her trueness and her wit."

To club women interested in Mrs. Montgomery's ability it is interesting to note that up to March 10 of this year she has raised $6000 through the co-operation of her ways and means committee and other club members. The month of November was a banner month for on the last day she presented a check for $3500 to the club treasurer.

Activities sponsored by her committee have been a rummage sale, food sales, card and dancing parties, serving luncheon clubs, concerts, carnivals and dramatic productions.

IDEAL TIME AND PLACE FOR MEET

Santa Paula Chairman Tells Pride in Work Done in Philanthropy

"Springtime in the Southland is an ideal time for holding a club convention, and the Los Angeles District is most fortunate in having such a delightful place for the twenty-third annual convention as Glendale, the home city of Mrs. Toll, the dearly beloved district president," says Mrs. L. B. Hogue of Santa Paula, chairman of public institutions and philanthropy for the Los Angeles district.

"Betterment of public institutions and a bigger field of philanthropic work have not been overlooked in club programs throughout the district and I am proud of the work done by the individual clubs."

BIENNIAL DELEGATES

Article XIII, Section 2, of the General Federation of Women's clubs by-laws reads as follows: "Each federated club or kindred organization of 100 members or fewer shall be entitled to be represented by one delegate; for each additional 100 members, one additional delegate."

SEATING CAPACITY

Welcome By Mrs. Campbell For Visiting Delegates

It is Mrs. Daniel Campbell who has won countless friends throughout clubdom for the Tuesday Afternoon club of Glendale. And this week as president of the hostess club Mrs. Campbell is having the delight of having club women of the southland enjoy the hospitality of the beautiful clubhouse, known far and wide for its beauty and picturesqueness.

In greeting the convention gathering Mrs. Campbell says:

"The members of the Tuesday Afternoon club rejoice today because of the honor and pleasure of welcoming the members of the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's clubs, to our club home.

"We trust that you will truly be at home with us and that the twenty-third annual convention will be the largest and best ever held.

"We are confident that under the guidance and leadership of our efficient and loved district president, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, who is a resident of our city and a life member of our club, that every woman present will return to her home having learned much that is worth while, with her vision enlarged and with new courage and determination to serve as never before.

"Again we bid you thrice welcome!

"Please let us serve you while you are here, and may your visit be so enjoyable that you will want to come again when the Tuesday Afternoon club members will always cordially greet you."

WORLD PEACE BY EDUCATION, PLAN

Ventura County President in Message Felicitates Glendale Women

All California club women are closely associated in the great aim of attaining the "Spiritual Force of Understanding" and "Education for World Peace," and very near to the hearts of club women of Los Angeles District are the club women of Ventura county, with Mrs. Alton L. Drown, as president. She is also a vice president of the Los Angeles District.

Mrs. Drown brings the following greetings from Ventura to the club delegates meeting this week in Glendale:

Send Congratulations

"Ventura County Federation of Women's clubs congratulates you, not only that you are hostess to the twenty-third annual convention of the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's clubs, but also that one of your own members is the dearly beloved district president.

"This convention being the first of the three big conventions of the federated club women in Los Angeles county, will no doubt be long remembered by all women in attendance.

"Ventura county hopes to join you, not only in good wishes, but also in co-operation and activities."

LEADER PRAISES LOCAL OFFICIALS

Mrs. T G. Winter's Visit to Glendale Recalled by Club Members

When Mrs. Thomas Gerald Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, paid California a visit last November, she accompanied Mrs. Charles H. Toll to Glendale and visited the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, which she complimented most highly.

She was received at the clubhouse by Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, past president of the Los Angeles District, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, members of the board of directors and other club members.

Praises Clubhouse

She expressed herself as particularly pleased with the clubhouse arrangements, finishing and furnishing, with the palm court and the additional ground enlarging the clubhouse site.

In bidding her farewell, Tuesday Afternoon club women presented her with one of the club year books and a piece of hand-painted china done by a member of the Arts and Crafts department.

Poem Tells Right Way to Pronounce Los Angeles' Name

Glendale club women as well as those in other parts of the Los Angeles district are striving to master the real pronunciation of Los Angeles before the Biennial in June. It is urged that all California women learn the correct pronunciation of this Spanish name so that they can say it with perfect abandon when greeting their eastern club sisters in "The City of the Angels."

A number of years ago, when Charles F. Lummis was the librarian of Los Angeles, a Los Angeles paper sent to him for the correct pronunciation and he replied in this clever verse:

"The lady would remind you, please,
Her name is not 'Lost Angie Les,'
Nor Angie anything, whatever.
She hopes her friends will be so clever
To share her fit historic pride;
The 'G' shall not be jellified—
'O' long, 'G' hard, and rhyme with 'yes,'
And all about
Loce Ang-el-ess."

RECREATION FOR CHILDREN URGED

Chance to Aid Communities Is Clearly Shown by Eloise Forman

A thought on Community Service comes to the club women from Eloise Forman, District chairman of this activity. She writes:

"The population is increasing so rapidly in our California towns and cities that there are many opportunities for work along community service lines.

"Most of our community problems arise from the use or abuse of the free time of both young and old.

Recreation Needed

"It has been shown in several large cities that where there are the poorest recreational facilities there is the greatest amount of delinquency.

"To keep pace with the growth of our population we must keep constantly in mind the necessity for adequate play grounds and athletic fields, clubs for business and working girls, and boys; and restful reading rooms with an abundance of good reading matter.

"The thought that comes to me most clearly is that the women's clubs should each select some one outstanding need and concentrate their energy and efforts upon some definite piece of constructive community service."

Rabbits are a pest in Australia.

CENSORSHIP OF MOVIES SHOWING ACTUAL RESULTS

Film Department Chairman Tells Committee's Work in Picture World

Club women are really accomplishing things in the way of censorship of moving pictures, and in the Los Angeles District Mrs. Roger Sterrett is chairman of this most important work. In co-operation with the motion picture department of the California Federation, the Daughters of the American Revolution, Parent-Teacher associations, P. E. O., Daughters of 1812 and the schools much has been accomplished in the Los Angeles District.

"To the members of the Federation in convention assembled, Greetings!

Preview Pictures

"The previewing committee sends word that its fifty members have previewed 100 pictures and have recommended nearly three-fourths. The lists of recommended pictures may be found in the Los Angeles papers.

"The children's matinee committee consisting of about 100 women, send word that they expect to inaugurate special children's matinees on Saturday, April 26, and are working with the theatre managers to that end.

"What with pictures to be previewed; criticism to be written; talks to be given; letters, reports, publicity to be written; hundreds of copies of this, that and the other to mimeograph; a committee of women arranged for every theatre in Los Angeles; theatre managers, producers, editors to be interviewed; committee meetings to be attended; there is barely time to even send greetings!"

FITTING MEMORIAL

Los Angeles district club women who knew the late Mrs. Mary Howard Gridley Braly will be interested in knowing that a most fitting memorial to her memory is to be found in the office of the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, where Mrs. Braly's writing desk and chair were placed as a gift from her daughter, Mrs. Erminia Kirk, of Santa Barbara.

PERFECT ACOUSTICS

The acoustic properties in the auditorium of the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse have been declared perfect by Hugo Kirchhofer, well-known musician and director.

SEEK TO RESCUE REDWOOD TREES FOR POSTERITY

Chairman of Memorial Fund Asks Help in Saving Forest Giants

A California club woman who is actively engaged in the drive for the conservation of the giant redwoods is Mrs. R. W. Meeker, Glendale resident, who is chairman for the Los Angeles district for the Redwood Grove Memorial Fund. Mrs. Meeker has a most sincere message for the convention company, herewith presented:

"I send greetings to the women of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's Clubs. I hope you all will take back a message to your various clubs, to please raise some money and help try to save a few more of the wonderful redwoods of California, which are fast being destroyed at the rate of 6,500 acres a year.

"The finest groves left standing are in Humboldt county—the redwoods, the Sequoia Semipervireus and their companion species.

Oldest on Earth

"The Sequoia Gigantia are the oldest living things on earth. While the life of the individual trees represent more than a thousand years, the life of the genus to which they belong goes back millions of years to a geological era before the ice age. Added to this, the trees have become the tallest trees in the world.

"Botanist and paleontologist tell us that there never existed either individual trees or forests that surpassed in height or in grandeur the Sequoia Semipervireus.

"Scarcely can we realize that these trees, virtually in their present form, flourished in California before the mammals developed from their insectiverous ancestry.

"Many of the coast redwoods are more than 1,500 years old. This means that when Justinian, whose legal code was destined for centuries to be the basis of European law, succeeded to the rule of the eastern Roman empire in 527 A. D., the oldest of these trees had already a growth of a hundred years or more. An added fact is that these same forests have stood in Humboldt county more than a thousand years, during the development of the civilization of Europe.

Cherished Relics

"We, in this new land of America, and in the still undeveloped west, have a relic more ancient than the cherished cathedrals of the old world.

"The people of California should realize that their possession of some of the finest trees in the world is a heritage from the past which it is their duty to pass on to future generations. Not all the forests can be saved, but surely they must not all be destroyed.

"These trees are what the citizens of Humboldt county and the federated clubs are determined to pass on in perfection to the generations to come.

"Wake up, men and women of California, and help us save a few more of these magnificent trees, our precious heritage from the past.

OPENING DATE

Tuesday Afternoon clubwomen have been occupying their clubhome shortly over a year, the building having been formally opened Tuesday, March 13, 1923.

FORMAL ORGANIZATION

Formal organization of the Tuesday Afternoon club took place in 1904, the year book containing twenty-four names.

President

MRS. DANIEL CAMPBELL of Glendale, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, who has had a large share in the plans for the convention and whose club is the hostess organization.

CONSERVATION OF FORESTS SOUGHT

Nation's National Resources Consumed Faster Than They Grow Again

Conservation of natural resources and beauty spots in California is very near to the heart of Mrs. R. E. Skinner, vice chairman of conservation for the Los Angeles district. She tells something of the aims of her committee in the following greeting to the convention:

"The department of conservation of forests, waters, natural scenery and parks of the Los Angeles district of Federated Women's Clubs has endeavored during the past club year to broadcast the important but frequently neglected subject of the necessity of conserving our fast disappearing natural resources; to urge everyone to recognize the vital and immediate need of saving America's greatest asset—trees.

Tells of Danger

"Our present rate of timber consumption is four times as great as the rate of growth and it is hoped that Congress will enact a law whereby we may have a national reforestation policy. We have especially emphasized the fact that fire is the greatest destroyer of our forests and the prevention of reforestation, and that four-fifths of the forest fires are caused by human agencies.

"The president of the United States has set apart April 21-27, 1924, as Forest Protection Week and urges everyone to give some thought to the preservation of our forests, so that in the future we may continue to enjoy the benefits derived from our forest lands."

ASKS LOVERS OF FLOWERS TO AID

Plea for Dumb Animals Also Contained in Message from Mrs. Myers

Mrs. William R. Myers, chairman of birds and flowers for the Los Angeles district, speaks for dumb animals and beautiful flowers in her greeting to the convention. She says:

"'April showers make May flowers.' This year it is March showers that have brought forth April flowers for our Glendale convention. What could be more beautiful in the spring time than the wild flowers that in their gorgeous hues carpet the ground and make splashes of color that in their vividness rival Joseph's 'coat of many colors.'

"Because of their beauty and because thoughtless people are picking them too freely, often pulling them up by the roots, and all too often throwing them away because they become wilted, we are asking all lovers of our wild flowers and flowering shrubs to help us protect them, that future generations may enjoy them as we do.

"What could be more interesting than the wild birds that choose their mates at this time of the year and come trustingly to our gardens to build their nests and rear their young, filling the air with their melodious songs?

"Surely, California would not be the same without these feathered friends of ours!

"We are asking that you see that our laws concerning them are enforced, that airguns are not used in your neighborhood, that stray cats are disposed of, that water is kept out in your gardens, and that Junior Audubon clubs are formed in your schools."

OBSERVANCE OF LAW IS REQUIRED

Harmony in Organization Is Attained by Respect to Order, Claim

Another state officer claimed by the Los Angeles district is Mrs. Charles S. McKelvey, state and district parliamentarian, whose knowledge of parliamentary procedure and direction of the parliamentary institutes at the presidents' councils of the district has proven of inestimable value to Southland club women.

Here is Mrs. McKelvey's greeting to the convention:

Law's Spirit Shown

"The divine law governing the universe is made visible to the finite mind through its harmony. The spirit of this law carried into human organizations expresses itself through order, courtesy and justice.

"These are the notes in the perfect chord of harmony through which the organization, large or small, is attuned to receive and give the inspiration of great ideals which may be made realities through service.

"With this as the spirit of our convention, 'Education for Peace' will lead through service to the ideal of the general federation—world peace."

SAN LUIS OBISPO SENDS GREETINGS

Spirit of Love Alone Can Bring Success, Writes Mrs. C. T. Trussler

Recalling the happy occasion of Mrs. Charles H. Toll's election last year at the District convention in San Luis Obispo, comes a greeting from Mrs. C. T. Trussler, president of the San Luis Obispo county organization. She says:

"We are desirous to express our congratulations and good wishes to Glendale on this, the occasion of the twenty-third annual convention of the Los Angeles District.

Congratulate City

"We tender our heartiest congratulations to the city of Glendale in that she has the honor of being the hostess city, for we believe that a great convention of well-doers is a distinct advantage to any town. Furthermore such a town so honored cannot fail to receive inspiration and moral impetus therefrom.

"We extend our most cordial greetings to each and every one of the delegates, and to the convention in general, and earnestly hope that there may be manifested therein a harmony impossible to excel, the diligence and patience befitting faithful workers and brooding over all the spirit of love, which alone can bring success in all worthy undertakings; the absence of which must cause even the highest inspirations to fail."

NORTHERN MEET

The San Francisco district convention will convene Wednesday, April 23, and continue until Saturday, April 26.

Persons have an average of two colds a year.

State Leader

MRS. JOHN C. URQUHART, president of the California Federation of Women's clubs, who is in attendance at the Los Angeles District convention.

PICTURE EXHIBIT IN BANQUET HALL

Prize Winning Paintings In Exhibitions Shown In Local Collection

Crowning the work of the art department of the Los Angeles district during the past year is a wonderful exhibit in the banquet room of the Tuesday Afternoon Club for the pleasure of the club delegates attending the convention.

Inspired by Mrs. E. E. Leighton, chairman of art for the district, the various clubs have had great ambitions for the year and much has been accomplished. Mrs. Leighton says of the year's work:

"Our fine art exhibit is exceptionally interesting. Many of the canvases have been prize winners in our best California exhibitions. Each canvas bears a card telling of the special honor it has received.

Assemble History

"We are making a special study of our California artists this year and forming portfolios of our leading artists' work and collecting an up-to-date history of each artist.

"We are asking 100 of the 180 clubs in our district to contribute $10 each toward purchasing a prize picture from the spring exhibition of all California artists. We have received a very encouraging response and we hope other clubs will join the movement by pledging $10, to be paid by June 2. The district will own the painting and it will be exhibited at the clubs or public buildings in the vicinity of the clubs which contribute.

Plan Exhibition

"The exhibition will be held at Exposition Park gallery during April and May. The jury will select the five best pictures in the exhibition. I am asking each club which contributes to vote for the one of the five they like best. The picture receiving the highest vote of the clubs will be the prize picture.

"This picture will be exhibited at the Biltmore salon during the biennial in June.

"We hope all clubs possible will co-operate in this great movement to honor, encourage and develop our California artists.

"Let us demonstrate to our national chairman, Mrs. Rose Berry, that we have answered her appeal to make this a 'Buy a Picture Year.'"

Credit McGroarty With Showers That End Long Drought

The refreshing atmosphere of Glendale this springtime may be attributed partly to John Steven McGroarty, "Sage of the Green Verdugo Hills," honored by all California club women.

And all because the real rain-bringing power of Mr. McGroarty's well known poem, "Prayer For Rain," which he says is gotten out and dusted off and printed every time there is a dry spell, proved its efficacy in the recent drought, when it was read at the Tuesday Afternoon club.

Mr. McGroarty was the guest of the club women and Glendale suspects him of bringing some of the spring rain down from "The Green Verdugo Hills," for no sooner had he finished reading to the club his "Prayer For Rain" than the showers descended heavily on Glendale and surrounding community, while a whole auditorium of club women and guests, umbrellaless and rubberless, fidgeted about in their seats, wondering how they would get home.

URGES EXERCISE OF VOTING RIGHTS

Recent Disclosures Proving Stimulus to Women to Study Politics

Mrs. Warren J. Holden, auditor of the Los Angeles district, gives a most interesting greeting to the club women attending the convention. Her message is:

"Women have gained the suffrage, but have they accomplished what was hoped and predicted by their participation in politics? Too many of them have been indifferent to this privilege and duty and have failed to exercise the franchise, feeling, perhaps, not sufficiently informed to vote intelligently.

Women Are Shocked

"The recent disclosures in Washington have shocked the women of our country greatly, perhaps even more than the men. It is to be hoped that it has created a realization of the need for political house-cleaning and a determination to take part in the process.

"A greater understanding of affairs must be gained and this can be accomplished only by alertness and staying on the job. We should not vote blindly. The open mind is a great asset. People believed the earth was flat long after it was proved to be round. One unwilling to read or hear that which he disbelieves is not in a position to criticize his opponent. It would be well to keep in mind the words of Solomon: 'Wisdom is the principal thing, therefore get wisdom; and with all thy getting, get understanding.'"

PUBLICITY SHOWS ACTIVITY'S RANGE

Chairman Would Broadcast In Every Paper News Of Women's Work

Detailed reflection of club affairs is always seen in club publicity and this activity of the Los Angeles district is presided over by Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish, who today sends the following welcome:

"Welcome to all the club women of all the five counties in the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's Clubs, to this, our three-day convention, held in Glendale, nestling at the base of the foothills of Los Angeles county.

"Many men and women have still not awakened to the possibilites of womanhood nor to the influence being felt in every niche through right-thinking women. These same women, working as do a hive of bees, industriously, consistently and intelligently, are filling the combs of the home, community, city, county and state with their far-reaching principles, socially, morally and intellectually, for the civic good.

Would Spread News

"What I wish most to do as the publicity chairman for the Los Angeles district is to publish in every newspaper of our counties the great magnitude of this work, as will be evidenced at this convention under the leadership of so fine a general as Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the entire district, and as guests of the hostess club, the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale, and its charming, capable and most businesslike president, Mrs. Daniel Campbell."

TELLS PLANS IN WELFARE WORK

Dr. Luna B. Phelps Outlines Aims of Department to Assist Children

All children are very near to the hearts of American club women, and the child welfare interests of the Los Angeles District, are wonderfully well expressed by Dr. Luna B. Phelps chairman of that activity, who says:

"The Los Angeles District chairman of Child Welfare is glad of the opportunity to thank the clubs of the district for their cooperation during the past year, and to ask that still greater efforts be made in the year to come to bring about a better condition for our children.

"We are working for separate wards for children in our hospitals, with special care suited to their needs, and with no discrimination on account of race or color.

Care for Mothers

"We are striving to give every prospective mother the chance for proper care and education before the birth of her child, and sufficient welfare conferences for infants and pre-school age children insure the best possible physical development.

"We wish to aid every agency which has for its aim the best mental development and character education of our boys and girls, that they may become the highest type of American citizens."

CLIMAX TO YEAR OF BIG SUCCESS

Circulation List Growing As Federation News Readers Increase

Reflecting the activities of club women are club publications, and Mrs. E. M. Timerhoff, circulation chairman for the state and Los Angeles district, sends a clever greeting to the convention now assembled in Glendale. She says.

"The circulation circle of the Federation News pauses for a moment in its swift flight along the 'Silver Boulevard' to extend greetings, congratulations and Godspeed to the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's Clubs, assembled in Glendale the beautiful.

"This is the climax of a workfull, success-full year, under an inspirationally constructive district president, who set the pace and gave 'Toll' generously. 'Follow the leader' proved a game not one of the board could resist.

List Is Growing

"The circulation list has increased by a 100 average each month, except February, which in contest fine yielded 189. Of this number 165 were from the Los Angeles district. We are proud of Los Angeles, but not being locally minded, hope for an early, equal registration from each district of the state for our state official organ, the Federated News.

"Our mission is to place this in the hands of each member of the California federation, that the federation policies, which it carries, may be known by all, and that the constructively inspirational messages of our state president, Mrs. John C. Urquhart, may aid in an understanding of 'The Spiritual Force of Understanding,' which is our state theme for this year; and in the unification of thought indicated by the theme chosen by our district president, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, for this convention, 'Education for World Peace.'"

BOOK SECTION IS AID TO CULTURE

Students of Literature Are Urged to Branch Out By Mrs. M. J. Frick

Great cultural and educational opportunities are offered students of literature, is the contention of Mrs. Margaret J. Frick, chairman of literature for the district, and of her work she says:

"In every community there are men and women who would enjoy discussing books together. Where there is no book-talks organization, the women's club of the community has an opportunity to serve the people through the most universally enjoyed and most influential of all the arts, literature.

Urges Book Section

"It is hoped that every club has a department of literature, whose chairman has organized and directs a book section.

"To be of the most value to the community the book section should be a department of the women's club, but its members need not be members of the club. If everyone is welcome to this section, teachers, other women employed and men can and will come to it.

"To you, our highly efficient, honored and beloved president, Mrs. Charles H. Toll; to you, our closely united and enthusiastic district board, and to you, all our club members of the Los Angeles district, I send my greeting and my envy of the good times you are having at our district convention.

"Owing to a temporary lameness I cannot be with you. To represent me I am sending to each of you a book list, which I hope you will enjoy."

PRESENTATION OF PLAYS IS URGED

Dramatic Studies Advocated By Mrs. Clara Heywood in Her Message

Drama is the dominating interest of Mrs. Clara Bryant Heywood in club work, and as chairman of drama for the Los Angeles district she has endeavored to encourage both the appreciation and presentation of drama by the club women. She greets the convention:

"How fortunate we are to have a beautiful clubhouse, with a splendid stage, in Glendale for our convention, where we can have an evening of drama.

"We are reading drama more and more as literature in our clubs, but we are not hearing productions of the spoken drama often enough in our clubs and theatres.

Shaw's Definition

"Bernard Shaw defines the theatre as 'a factory of thought, a promoter of conscience, an elucidator of social conduct, an armory against despair and dullness, a temple of the ascent of man.'

"I feel it is only the spoken drama in the theatre that can claim that definition in the fulness of its meaning.

"As chairman of drama I urge the club women to find the way for our young people to use the play as a means of self-expression and to be more careful how we are being entertained.

"We spend millions in money and countless hours in being entertained. Are they well spent?"

UNION OF HOPES AID TO MANKIND

Mrs. O. C. Houghton, Head of Inyo's Organization, Prays for Peace

Mrs. O. C. Houghton, president of the Inyo county federation and one of the vice presidents of Los Angeles District, sends most cordial greetings from that northern section. She says:

"We the club women of Inyo county, extend greetings and wish that we might be present to receive the inspiration that comes when women are united in thoughts, hopes and aspirations for the betterment of all mankind, our homes and our country.

"It is the earnest hope of the Inyo County women that the 'Spiritual Forces of Understanding' may remove the vexatious problems with which we are struggling and that we may live to see the world say 'Peace,' not 'War.'"

OUTLINES PLANS ON LEGISLATIVE APPORTIONMENT

Present Situation Is Called Unfair by Leader of Rural Life Dept.

Country life is an important interest of the Los Angeles district, for many of the clubs enrolled are located in the smaller cities and towns, which are nuclei for fruit growing, agricultural pursuits and stockraising.

Mrs. W. A. McCormick of Pomona is chairman of this department and of her work, she says:

"Theodore Roosevelt has said: 'Our civilization rests at bottom upon the wholesomeness, the attractiveness and the completeness, as well as upon the prosperity of the country district.'

"The state-wide aim of the country life department is to bring together all the interests working for the enrichment of rural life and to so co-ordinate and focus their efforts that there shall be unified action among all the agencies carrying on rural work.

Sponsor's Clubs

"This the federation in Inyo county adopted as their program for this year and has made a splendid beginning by establishing for the children of the county, hot lunches in the schools, and by forming and sponsoring girls' clubs in each of the towns of the valley.

"The clubs have also joined the civic organizations in trying to solve the serious situation—which their district faces in the matter of irrigation.

"The fine independent spirit of these clubs should be an inspiration to the entire district, separated though they are from the rest of the district by miles of desert waste, yet all united in the great program for betterment of life wherever we may be.

"The legislative apportionment question which will come before the legislature next fall is one in which every club, whether rural or city, should have a vital interest. This is a matter which should have a very full discussion for its adjustment will largely determine whether or not California's rural interests shall have a voice in future legislation.

Situation Unfair

"Both sides of this question should be presented. The situation is obviously unfair, representation should be determined on both area and population. If reapportionment were made according to the present constitutional provisions, three per cent of the state, territorially speaking, could absolutely control 97 per cent, not a wholesome situation.

"On the other hand, 53 per cent of the population of our state is today not adequately represented in our legislature.

"A constitutional amendment, providing for a solution of this situation is to be voted on at the coming state election and every thinking person should familiarize himself with and understand its provisions.

"Let us have an intelligent vote on this question which means so much to the rural portion of our great California."

WISHES SUCCESS FOR CONVENTION

Mrs. M. M. Lewis, Paso Robles, Anticipates Benefit for Delegates

Greetings have been received at The Glendale Evening News office from the Paso Robles Women's club and the Women's Civic club at Templeton, California.

Mrs. Maggie M. Lewis, president of the Paso Robles club says, "The Paso Robles Women's club extends cordial greetings to the District convention in session at Glendale and anticipates both pleasure and benefit for all who attend."

MUTUAL SERVICE AND TOLERATION STEPS TO PEACE

Knowledge of Other Races Aids Interpretation of America's Destiny

To build a sound philosophy and an intelligent tolerance of races that share the earth with us has been the endeavor of Miss Lloy Galpin in her work as chairman of international relations for the Los Angeles district.

In greeting the convention gathering, Miss Galpin tells the following of her work:

"A study of international affairs should be an alluring subject to Americans, but, like other young races, we are so interested in our present and our future that we forget the value of a knowledge of the past for interpretation of our present and for understanding of our future.

Pride in Record

"The people of the United States can view with pride their record in foreign affairs, results unique in character, and world opinion modified or shaped by fine diplomatic methods.

"A stable world will be maintained by two things: A condition of mind in the peoples of the earth desiring tolerance, mutual service and peace, and machinery that will make easy orderly procedure in the settlement of disputes among nations to insure prompt and certain justice.

"Our purpose has been to build a sound philosophy and an intelligent tolerance of races that share the earth with us, and to follow that by a brief study of the science of government to find what principles and forms of governmental machinery may be applied to some form of international federation to end international anarchy.

Anarchy Intolerable

"The science of human development must be so clear to all citizens that he that stands for international anarchy will be as intolerable as he that supports any other anarchistic doctrine.

"With the organized women of the state equipped with facts accurately interpreted and with machinery for joint action with other bodies of organized citizens, we can strengthen our unity and elevate our leadership to make a long step toward the triumph of intelligence in the conduct of mankind's affairs and toward the end of violence and brutality to such an extent, at least, as crime has been controlled in properly organized political bodies ordinarily designated as nations."

MRS. W. E. EVANS ADDS GREETINGS

Federation Secretary Sends Message of Welcome to City's Visitors

Mrs. W. E. Evans serves as federation secretary for the Tuesday Afternoon club of Glendale, and it is most fitting that during the present convention in Glendale she is prominent on the courtesy committee. Her greeting to the convention delegates is:

"To the state and district officers, national chairmen, delegates and visitors within our gates during this convention, I am glad to add my small word of welcome and of recognition of the benefit our club will derive from your presence."

EXTENSION WORK BRINGS MEMBERS

Promotes Interest In Every Activity, Is Claim of Department Head

Every club member is cemented into the federation by the federation extension department, according to Mrs. J. B. Lorbeer, first vice-president of the Los Angeles District, and chairman of federation extension. She adds:

"It aims to increase the usefulness of the federation to the individual clubs, promote interest in all its departments and activities and to bring clubs not now federated into its fold.

BROAD SCOPE OF MRS. TOLL'S WORK FOR CITY SHOWN

District President Is Active In Many Branches of Woman's Activity

In opening the gates of the city to the twenty-third annual convention of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's Clubs, Glendale pays tribute to one of her own residents, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, of 415 Kenneth road, not only leader of the 31,500 club women of the Los Angeles district, but an American club woman of recognized culture, executive ability and accomplishment.

Mrs. Toll, here in her home city, is honored as a life member of the Tuesday Afternoon Club; organizer of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle; president of the school board for three years; at one time vice-president of the Glendale Community Service, and a citizen loyal to her city and actively interested in civic and spiritual development of that city.

The Toll family came to Glendale in 1911 from Los Angeles, and Mrs. Toll, who was prominent in civic, religious, club and social life in that city, took up similar activities in Glendale, and as the city has grown, so has the scope of her influence increased.

Worked for P.-T. A.

She took particular interest in the work of the Parent-Teacher Association and, when Dr. Jessie A. Russell was president in 1913, Mrs. Toll served as vice-president and was elected to the presidency in 1915.

It was in March, 1916, while serving as chairman of education of the federation, that Mrs. Toll was inspired to write to the Bureau of Education in Washington, D. C., for a list of study books for parents, and this inspiration resulted in her organization of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle, which is today receiving recognition in all parts of the United States and standing as a model for like organizations.

When first organized, the Reading Circle met for four years at the Toll home, Mrs. Toll serving as chairman and director of the meetings. Upon her resignation Mrs. A. A. Barton was chosen to carry on the work and the place of meeting was changed to the public library. Mrs. H. V. Henry is now chairman of the circle, which meets weekly at the library.

In its service the Bureau of Education in Washington sends out a special bulletin dealing in detail with the organization of the Glendale Reading Circle.

At Mothers' Congress

At the national Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations last year in Louisville, Ky., Mrs. Toll was one of the speakers and gave information on reading circle work.

When in the east attending this conference, Mrs. Toll also attended the convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in Atlanta, Ga.

In addition to these activities, Mrs. Toll was president of the Los Angeles Ebell Club for the year 1921-22 and was a state trustee of the State School for Girls at Ventura.

Other Activities

During the past year she has devoted the majority of her time to club work to the exclusion of other interests. Besides her duties as district president, she has been chairman for the General Federation on the anti-narcotic movement among club women in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Oregon. She is also one of the honorary vice-presidents of the local biennial board arranging for the General Federation convention in June.

Sharing in the high esteem in which Mrs. Toll is held in Glendale are her husband and four sons.

District Head

MRS. CHARLES H. TOLL of Glendale, president of the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's clubs, whose cultured personality is an inspiration to the women whom she serves as leader.

VISION TEACHING AID TO HUMANITY

Santa Barbara Executive in Message Points Way to Realize Ambition

Greetings from women's clubs in Santa Barbara county comes from Mrs. John Woods Dorrance, president of the Santa Barbara county organization and also vice president of the Los Angeles District.

Mrs. Dorrance is one of the most enthusiastic attendants at the convention in Glendale and brings in greetings from her district:

Seek Inspiration

"Many Santa Barbara County club women will attend the District convention in Glendale, to enjoy the hospitality of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, to share the happiness of the hostess club in its beautiful new clubhouse, and to receive that priceless inspiration which results from the coming together of a multitude of women, all actuated by a desire to do something to bring about the greater comfort and more complete living of all.

"Some of our clubs are small, none of them large compared with women's clubs in great cities, but the vision is the same and we are all traveling the same road, sharing the burden of responsibility of helping to bring human kind to the point where the one demand is—Peace on earth."

PAST PRESIDENT IS GLENDALIAN

Mrs. Jones, Former Head Of District, Welcomes Visitors to City

Glendale is not only the home city of the president of the Los Angeles District, but also the home city of a past president of the district, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones of 727 Kenneth road, who served as president in 1917 and 1918.

Mrs. Jones' active interest in club affairs is known nation wide and in honoring her as a past president of the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's Clubs, it might be well to add that she is a past president and life member of the Tuesday Afternoon club of Glendale, and organizer and president of the Glendale Music club.

In greeting the convention gathering Mrs. Jones says:

Welcome to Glendale

"To our national, state and district officers and to each and every delegate of the federated clubs, who are our guests during this important convention, which will assemble in our beautiful club home, I am happy to be able to say, "Welcome, thrice welcome, to our fair city.'

"May your coming hold great inspiration and helpfulness to all of our Glendale club women."

MRS. TOLL GIVES RESUME OF WORK IN HER DISTRICT

Aeroplane View of Activity Reveals Advancement In L. A. Region

"Executive ability and leadership to the nth degree" is the unanimous description of Los Angeles District club women of their president, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, who has compiled what she has chosen to call "An Aeroplane View of the District and Activities" for the convention delegates.

Not only is this sketch of interest to the club women, but to every one who would learn more of the district and its work. Mrs. Toll's sketch is herewith printed:

Largest In Numbers

"Our Los Angeles District is one of the six districts that compose the California Federation of Women's clubs. Numerically, it is the largest, with 187 clubs, and approximately 31,500 members, as compared with about 600 clubs, approximating 62,000 membership in the state.

"These counties compose the Los Angeles District: Inyo county with 7 federated clubs and 275 members; San Luis Obispo county with 5 federated clubs and 279 members; Santa Barbara county with 10 federated clubs and 878 members; Ventura county with 17 federated clubs and 1141 members; Los Angeles county with 92 federated clubs and 14,595 members; Los Angeles city with 56 clubs and 14,149 members.

"There are seven distinct lines of work followed throughout the General, State and Districts federations: American citizenship, education, fine arts, international relations, legislation, public welfare, press and publicity.

Monthly Meetings

"These include 33 sub-committees of work, with a competent chairman in charge of each. Monthly conferences are conducted by each chairman, with groups of interested women attending from the various clubs. These women disseminate in their home groups the information gained at these conferences.

"At the presidents' councils, where gather the club presidents and many club officers, the district work of the moment is further presented to the clubs. Interest in all civic and national movements is here fostered. Weighty matters are presented for discussion. By this means an unbroken current of information flows from the General Federation to each of the individual clubs that are foresighted enough to have representatives in attendance.

"Always interested in the development of the young, the district is working to bring many groups of young women into what is known as junior memberships. In this district we know of fifteen such groups in existence, ten new this club year, with four in process of formation.

Plan Clubhouses

"The building of a clubhouse is a stimulating experience for every club. There are several clubs about to embark upon this adventure. The table below shows the number of clubs owning their clubhouses, in the Los Angeles district: Inyo county 1; San Luis Obispo county 2; Santa Barbara county 2; Ventura county 5; Los Angeles county 37; Los Angeles city 8; Total 55.

"Of the 187 clubs, 74 issue bulletins and 101 year books.

"Every club federated with the district must first have joined the State Federation; and no club may join the General Federation without having joined the State and the District. This year 22 clubs have joined the Los Angeles District, following their federation with the State organization.

"The district began the year with 32 clubs as members of the General Federation. At the time this goes to print, there are 102 clubs that are members of the General Federation, an increase of 70 clubs in the district joining the General Federation this club year.

"The coming of the Biennial meeting of the General Federation in June of this year is a great event in clubdom, and has greatly stimulated club activity. There has been very gratifying response from the clubs to the two calls sent out, first for workers, and second for financial support.

"The women of the state are financing the local Biennial needs unassisted. After careful and long consideration, a sum of $25,000 was settled upon as necessary. At the time that this article is printed, this district has contributed $12,444 in cash, with 113 clubs paying full quota, 35 paying partial amounts, 12 clubs pledged to pay, and 27 from whom no response has as yet come.

Praises Loyalty

"The foregoing activities would have been impossible were it not for the fine spirit of cooperation and loyalty that permeates the membership, a spirit that has been born and has grown consistently throughout the years of life of the federation.

"To the 31,500 women who compose the district, the officers would here render their meed of appreciation for all that makes it possible to carry forward the yearly increasing responsibilities and burdens. These become a joy when shared with all these earnest women."

PRESERVE STATE LANDMARKS, PLEA OF MRS. FORBES

Romance and History Vital Heritage of Residents Of California

Preservation of the romance and history of California through the preservation of interesting landmarks is a dominating aim of every California club woman, and Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes is chairman of this work for the Los Angeles district. Of her work Mrs. Forbes says:

"The history of California and the unique landmarks of the state form very interesting subjects for the programs of our clubs.

"With the rapid and constant increase of club members, most of whom are recent arrivals from other states, we can tell and retell without prejudice to the subject the fascinating tales of the coming of Fray Serra and his band of missionaries; their work among the Indians, their customs and legends; the secularization of the missions by the Mexican government; the acquisition of California by Sloat, Fremont, Stockton and Kearney; the occupation of this wonderful state by the golden pioneers, those sturdy young men of '49, grown old in years but still able to retell the facts of their coming to the people now reaping the benefits and privileges of their pioneering sacrifices.

"Our state chairman's suggestion that scrap-books be kept by the club women of authentic articles on the history of California is splendid. Also, she urges the marking of historical landmarks in our several communities."

CLUB BABIES

"New Babies" announced at the District convention are the Bell-Maywood club of Bell; the Women's Parliamentary Law club of Glendale; El Pomar Woman's club, Templeton, and Fortnightly club of Ventura.

Secretary

MRS. W. E. EVANS of Glendale, federation secretary of the Tuesday Afternoon club, who is a prominent member of the courtesy committee for the convention.

INDIAN WELFARE PLANS OUTLINED

Justice for First American Is Aim of Department Of Federation

"It has been the aim of the federation that my department be one of the channels through which the true story of the American Indian may reach the public; and to aid and encourage all movements looking toward the permanent good of a people believed to have been and still to be unjustly treated," said Mrs. Frank Sammons, chairman of Indian welfare for the Los Angeles district.

YEAR BOOK GIFT TO EVERY GUEST AT CONVENTION

Handsome Souvenirs Given to Delegates Credit to Mrs. C. W. Houston

"I'm but a cog in life's vast wheel,
That daily makes the same old trip;
Yet what a joy it is to feel
That, but for me, the wheel might slip.
'Tis something, after all, to jog
Along, and be a first-class cog."

This is the very pertinent poetical quotation found in the attractive year books of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, which are proving popular with delegates as souvenirs of the convention in Glendale.

Harmonizing with the shades of brown, predominating in the exterior and interior finish of the clubhouse, the new year book features a sepia cut of the main entrance of the building, a printed reproduction of one of the pillars flanking the main entrance, and the club's name and year in gold lettering.

Will Cherish Book

Club women of the Southland will value one of the books, not only because it includes attractive cuts of the interior and exterior of Glendale's charming clubhouse, and valuable data pertaining to the organization and administration of the club, but because it contains splendid cuts of Mrs. Charles H. Toll, district president, and Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon Club.

Credit for the compiling and publishing of the book goes to Mrs. C. W. Houston, second-vice president of the Tuesday Afternoon Club.

VISITORS TO HAVE SPECIAL PROGRAM

Arrange Many Events For Hundreds of Delegates to Federation Meet

It is estimated that over 450 club women will be guests of Glendale during Tuesday afternoon, Wednesday and Thursday. This is very probable when one considers the size of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's Clubs. It is said that 100 delegates will come from Los Angeles alone.

While transaction of business matters pertinent to the district administration and cultural advantages are featured on the club program, which contains the names of speakers and musicians of note, there are informal social affairs which, while not given as much prominence, are of equal interest to the convention delegates.

Plan Motor Trip

On Wednesday afternoon, after the activities of a strenuous day, the club women are to enjoy a motor trip about Glendale and vicinity and later meet at the Oakmont Country Club for tea.

Wednesday at noon the real frolic of the convention will take place, when the annual press luncheon is held at the Egyptian Village. This affair is perhaps the most exclusive event of the three-day gathering, for it is limited to club presidents, press chairmen and newspaper women.

Then the final event of the convention and the most brilliant social event will be the annual banquet Thursday night at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

Special Speakers

Throughout the convention the special speakers will be Dr. David Starr Jordan, president emeritus of Leland Stanford, Jr., University; Dr. Franklin Thomas Baker, of Columbia University; Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, California director of the General Federation; Mrs. David Lindley Murray, chairman of credentials, badges and elections for the General Federation; Anne M. Godfrey, educational representative of the naturalization service of the United States Department of Labor, and Mrs. Mab Copeland Lineman, attorney, of Los Angeles.

Musicians and other entertainers appearing on the program will be Gertrude Ross, composer; Mrs. G. S. Thatcher, of Hermosa Beach; pupils of Virginia Freeman of Glendale and pupils of Pearl Keller of Glendale. Accompanists will be Anne McPherson, Mrs. H. R. Boyer, of Glendale, and Mrs. Gertrude Champlain Erb of Glendale.

Commission Assumes Control Over Stages

PHOENIX, April 8.—The Arizona corporation commission has assumed jurisdiction over interstate stage lines operating between El Paso and Los Angeles, with the result that a large number of operators operating as common carriers without authority from the commission have been arrested and fined.

For several months past, the "wildcat stages" as they are called, have been the cause of numerous complaints. Reckless driving strewed the highways with wrecks, passengers were carried in unbonded cars and had no redress in case of accident. Poor equipment resulted in some cars being stranded in the desert leaving the passengers to shift for themselves. Many instances of illness as a result of exposure were reported to the authorities and in one instance death was attributed to such exposure.

LEADING WOMEN ATTEND SESSIONS

Prominent Club Members in Attendance from Five Counties in District

Glendale is hostess city and the Tuesday Afternoon club, hostess organization, this week to women of the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's clubs, for their twenty-third annual convention.

It is most significant that Glendale should have the convention this year, for it is the home city of the district president, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, and also home city of a past president, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, who served in 1917-18.

Five Counties

The Los Angeles District includes five counties, Los Angeles, Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo and Inyo, with 187 clubs representing a total membership of 31,500 women.

In attendance at the convention are national, state and district officers and chairmen, and officers and chairmen from the individual clubs.

Specially honored club women are Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, California Director of the General Federation, and Mrs. John C. Urquhart, president of the California Federation.

Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president; Mrs. J. B. Lorbeer, Mrs. A. L. Drown of Ventura, Mrs. John Woods Dorrance of Santa Barbara, Mrs. C. T. Trussler of San Luis Obispo, Mrs. O. C. Houghton of Inyo, vice presidents.

Glendale Aids

Mrs. W. W. Slayden, recording secretary; Mrs. Harry S. McCormack of Glendale, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Daniel J. Baptiste, treasurer; Mrs. Warren Holden, auditor; Mrs. Charles S. McKelvey, parliamentarian.

Miss Eloise Forman, Community Service; Mrs. H. T. Wright, cooperation with ex-service men and women; Mrs. Roger Sterett, motion pictures; Adah V. McGorray, education; Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes, California history and landmarks; Mrs. W. S. Stevens, conservation of waters, forests, natural scenery and parks; Mrs. William Raymond Myers, conservation of birds and flowers; Miss Lillian Douglass, home economics; Mrs. W. A. McCormick, country life; Mrs. John Stearns Thayer, information and reciprocity.

Mrs. E. E. Leighton, art; Mrs. Margaret J. Frick, literature; Mrs. W. E. Mabee, music; Mrs. Clara Bryant Heywood, drama; Miss Lloy Galpin, international relations; Mrs. Mab Copeland Lineman, legislation; Mrs. Margaret D. Yale, political science; Mrs. L. A. Irish, press; Mrs. E. M. Timerhoff, circulation; Dr. Luna B. Phelps, child welfare.

Mrs. C. J. Colden, industry and employment; Mrs. L. B. Hogue, surveys of public institutions and philanthropy; Mrs. Frank Cammons, Indian welfare; Dr. Julia R. Johnson, public health; Mrs. J. B. Lorbeer, federation extension; Mrs. E. M. Lazard, emblem; Mrs. Howard U. Sherwood, endowment; Mrs. O. B. Manchester, General Federation headquarters; Mrs. R. W. Meeker of Glendale Redwoods Memorial Grove fund; Mrs. Edward A. Tufts, junior auxiliaries.

Assisting with carrying out of the convention program is a local Glendale committee of Tuesday Afternoon club women, including Mesdames Daniel Campbell, H. E. Bartlett, A. H. Montgomery, E. W. W. Hayward and Lillian Dow. Assisting them are countless committees of other Glendale club women.

There are three women's clubs in Glendale belonging to the District, the Tuesday Afternoon club, Thursday Afternoon club and the Women's Parliamentary Law club.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES MARK ELKS INSTALLATION

EARL S. PATTERSON—Exalted Ruler, Elks' Lodge.

GERALD A. DOCKERAY—Esteemed Leading Knight, Elks' Lodge.

J. MURRAY DURHAM—Esteemed Loyal Knight, Elks' Lodge.

GUS H. PULLIAM—Esquire, Elks' Lodge.

DR. PAUL J. HOLMES—Tyler, Elks' Lodge.

JAMES F. McBRYDE—Chaplain, Elks' Lodge.

E. S. PATTERSON ASSUMES EXALTED RULER'S CHAIR

Members From Adjacent Cities Are Present As New Officers Are Sworn In Before Solemn Throng In Glendale Lodge

With all the impressiveness attendant upon the ceremony as laid down in the ritual adopted by the Grand Lodge, and in the presence of several hundred of their brother lodge members wishing for them a year of unqualified success, the new officers of Glendale Lodge, No. 1289, B. P. O. Elks, were installed in their respective stations last night in the club house on East Colorado street.

Past Exalted Ruler John A. Morton of Santa Monica lodge, No. 906, acted as grand exalted ruler, and officiated as installing officer. He was assisted in the work by six officers and members of his home lodge. The ceremony was attended by delegations from many neighboring lodges, Pasadena, Monrovia, Alhambra and Los Angeles being represented.

Officers Sworn in

Led by Earl S. Patterson, new exalted ruler, in company with the grand esquire, the officers-elect lined up before the altar and took the oath of office before being conducted to their various chairs. The following officers were installed:

Earl S. Patterson, exalted ruler.
Gerald A. Dockery, esteemed leading knight.
J. Murray Durham, esteemed loyal knight.
Jesse W. Headlee, esteemed lecturing knight.
Dr. Paul J. Holmes, tyler.
Walter W. Jones, secretary.
Herman Nelson, treasurer.
Daniel Kelty, trustee for three years.
James A. Apffel, delegate to grand lodge.

Following the installing of the elective officers, the new exalted ruler announced his appointments for the following year. They were James B. McBryde, chaplain; Gus H. Pulliam, esquire; Earl A. Garren, inner guard, and David E. Langlands, organist.

Dinner for Officers

Prior to the meeting at the clubhouse, the installing officers from Santa Monica, the retiring and incoming officers of Glendale lodge, and invited guests, gathered at a dinner at the Egyptian Village. This was purely an informal affair and, aside from the welcome extended the visitors, no speeches were made.

James A. Apffel, retiring exalted ruler, under whose regime the lodge has enjoyed a very progressive year, was presented with a five-piece sterling silver tea set by the members of the lodge in recognition of the work he has done for Glendale lodge during his administration. The presentation was made by John H. Fanset, past exalted ruler. A beautiful cluster of lilies, the gift of Mrs. Apffel, was presented the retiring exalted ruler by Past Exalted Ruler Albert D. Pearce.

Thanks Members

In a short speech Mr. Apffel expressed his appreciation of the co-operation extended him and his brother officers during the year, cordially thanking The Glendale Evening News and committeemen for their assistance.

Earl S. Patterson, new exalted ruler, made a few remarks regarding his wishes and desires for the extension of the lodge work in its various branches. Other newly-installed officers made short talks.

Prior to the meeting and during the lodge session the prize-winning local Elks band, under the leadership of William Osterman played several selections. Following the meeting, the members adjourned to the "jinx" room, where they enjoyed refreshments and entertainment.

Prominent in City

The 1924 officers of Glendale lodge, No. 1289, B. P. O. Elks, installed last night with impressive ritualistic ceremonies, are all prominent in the business and social life of Glendale and the San Fernando valley.

Earl S. Patterson, exalted ruler, succeeds James A. Apffel in that position and is the thirteenth exalted ruler of the Glendale lodge. He rises to the position from esteemed leading knight, after having occupied chairs in the lodge for the past five years. He is a partner in the legal firm of Moote & Patterson, Los Angeles, and is prominent as an attorney throughout the southwest. His residence is at 363 Riverdale drive.

Gerald A. Dockeray, esteemed leading knight, rises from the position of esteemed loyal knight. He holds a position with the transportation division of the Moreland Truck company in Los Angeles. His residence is at 723 South Louise street.

Local Contractor

J. Murray Durham, esteemed loyal knight, has been for two years chairman of the standing investigating committee of the local Elks' lodge. He is a Glendale cement contractor and makes his residence at the clubhouse.

J. W. Headlee, esteemed lecturing knight, rises from the position of tyler, which he has held for a number of years. He is secretary of the Grand View cemetery and lives at 723 South Louise street.

Walter W. Jones, secretary of the local lodge, succeeding Willis M. Kimball, has been for fourteen years with the Santa Fe railroad, his present position being that of traveling passenger agent. He has tendered his resignation from this company and will devote all his time to the interests of the lodge and the service of his fellow members. His residence is at 430 West Vine street.

Treasurer Nine Years

Herman Nelson, treasurer, has held this position for nine consecutive years. He is well known in this city as manager of the Glendale Avenue branch, Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings bank. His residence is at 641 East Harvard street.

Dr. Paul J. Holmes, tyler, assumes the first office he has ever held in the lodge. He is well known in Glendale as a chiropractic doctor. His residence is at 533 West Elk avenue.

Daniel Kelty, Jr., trustee for a term of three years, is a member of the hardware firm of Cornwell & Kelty, and lives on North Highland avenue.

Irving H. Oliver, trustee, with two years yet to serve, is business manager of the Glendale Union High school. His residence is at 615 North Jackson street.

Joseph E. Wimmer, trustee, serving his last year, is not at present engaged in any line of business. He lives at 122 West Chestnut street.

Peter L. Ferry, alternate delegate to the grand lodge, was the first exalted ruler of the local lodge, holding that position in 1912. He is a prominent building contractor. His residence is at 614 East Acacia avenue.

Makes Appointments

Following his election as exalted ruler of the Glendale lodge of Elks, Earl S. Patterson followed the prescribed custom of appointing a chaplain, an esquire and an inner guard.

James F. McBryde, appointed chaplain, is prominent in Glendale as an attorney and past commander of the local post of the American Legion. His residence is at 108 East California avenue.

Gus H. Pulliam, appointed esquire, is a salesman with Tanner & Hall, Glendale Buick agents. He lives ta 625 North Kenwood street.

Earl A. Garren, appointed inner guard, is engaged in the plumbing business in Lankershim and resides at 11223 West Fourth street, that city.

TUJUNGA

P.-T. A. PROGRAM AIDS CHAIR FUND

Living Models Depict Old Artists' Masterpieces; Raise Over $100

The chair fund of the Tujunga school auditorium is over $100 nearer the full quota as a result of the entertainment given Friday evening by the teachers and pupils, in which they reproduced, with living models, many famous paintings by master artists. Appropriate musical accompaniments were rendered by talented local musicians and vocalists.

The entertainment was arranged under the auspices of the Tujunga Parent-Teacher association, and the funds will go to purchase chairs for the new auditorium, a task undertaken by the association to assist the local school board in meeting expenses.

Mrs. Susan G. Wenzlaff and Miss Leone Schindler were in charge of the arrangements, and picked their characters with care, requisitioning the costumes from every available source. Mrs. J. L. Smeet, Mrs. Minnie Dunn, Mrs. Augustus Adams and H. J. Jaeger were the soloists, and the Community church choir had parts in the quartets and choruses.

Poses were by Miss Molitz, Miss Russell, Miss Wieman, Miss Buckner, Miss Gonzales, Mr. Axe, Miss Jones, Mrs. Manville, Miss Dodds and Mrs. Frank of the school faculty. Others who took part in the living pictures were Don Wieman, Fern Orth, Margaret Reynolds, Peggy Conway, Emma Ellsworth, Alden Forester, Mrs. Wiseman, Rachael Bodenhausen, Vera Anderson, Bobby Farrell, Mrs. Foster, Mary Richards, Ellen Firth and Walter Frank.

Class Organizes

The J. O. C. class of the Tujunga Community church Sunday school held their election meeting at the home of the teacher, Mrs. J. U. Stotts, 152 West El Centro street and adopted a constitution. The class voted to join the J. O. C. Union, which is interdenominational and international.

Officers elected were: President, Mrs. Hazel Van Nest; first vice-president, Mrs. May Wright; second vice-president, Mrs. Mabel Day; third vice-president, Miss Lillian Kean; secretary, Miss Edna Jenney; treasurer, Mrs. Emma Fraser; bulletin reporter, Miss Rose Avery. The next social meeting will be held April 15 at the home of the Misses Stella and Lillian Kean.

Captain A. G. Wilson, a British reserve officer, has purchased a home at 713 East Olive street, where he and his sister, Mrs. Emma Speight, will reside. Captain Wilson was with the Canadian army in the World war, coming to Tujunga from Vancouver, British Columbia, where he was connected with the Pacific Coast Realty company.

Many Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kellar, the former being past commander of post 250, American Legion, recently spent a few days in Tujunga. They are homesteading a place near Phelan, Cal.

Mr and Mrs. George Dunn of St. Louis, Mo., have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Sumner H. Adams of Summit avenue, Tujunga. Mrs. Dunn is an artist and will be a welcome addition to the art colony membership in the event that they decide to make Tujunga their home. Mr. Dunn was formerly a special officer in Washington.

Miss Annie Denby of Huntington Park is building a two-story house on Center street west of Walnut drive, where she hopes to establish a home for mission workers and their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Buckley have returned to their home in Tujunga following a three months' trip through the northern part of the state.

Another New Troop

A new troop of Boy Scouts has also been formed at Hansen Heights under the leadership of Scoutmaster Fred Lucas, owner of the Hansen Heights dairy; M. F. Gilmer of Tujunga supervised the organization of this troop, which started with an enrollment of twelve boys. The Hansen Heights Parent-Teacher association sponsored the new organization. Following the recent organization meeting those present adjourned to an open field and roasted hot dogs over a huge camp fire and indulged in various sports.

Miss Jane Zane Gordon, a relative of Zane Grey, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Adams last week. Miss Gordon has recently been in Washington, D. C., working in behalf of the Indians.

James Le Berthon of the Los Angeles Record staff was the guest of Tujunga friends recently.

JOSEPH E. WIMMER—Trustee, Elks' Lodge.

JAMES A. APFFEL—Delegate to Grand Lodge, Elks' Lodge.

MAJOR OPERATION

J. D. Meyers of 311 East Broadway underwent a major surgical operation this morning at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC POWER IS TOPIC

Criswell to Show Pictures In Boulder Dam Talk At High School

Dr. Jessie A. Russell, president of the Business and Professional Women's club, at the open forum meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in the Broadway High school last night, announced that Ralph Criswell, a member of the Los Angeles City Council, will deliver an address, illustrated by moving pictures, in the auditorium of the East Harvard street High school, dealing with the hydro-electric development of Southern California, with special reference to the Boulder Dam project and that for an All-American canal in the Imperial Valley.

The meeting is to be held under the auspices of the Business and Professional Women's club, at 7:30 o'clock, and will be open to the public. It is hoped that the lecture will be over in time to permit those in attendance to attend the reception at the Tuesday Afternoon club for the delegates to the convention of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs.

AUTOMOBILE BODY

Intended to lessen air resistance and protect its occupants from road dust, an enclosed automobile designed in Europe has been given a body shaped like a submarine.

Small hinged doors set above the grate and on either side of a fireplace make it capable of burning any kind of fuel, and when shut they convert the fireplace into a stove.

Autoist Injured In Crash at Crossing

J. E. Bradney of Tujunga was slightly injured last night shortly before midnight when he crash through the gates guarding the Southern Pacific tracks on Brand boulevard and into a machine parked in the roadway.

In reporting to the police he said that his lights were dim and he was unable to distinguish the gates or the car. After receiving medical attention he was able to proceed to his home.

CELEBRATION AT POMONA PLANNED

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs Of Four Countries to Unite for Event

Glendale Odd Fellows and Rebekahs are to journey to Pomona April 26 for the one hundred and fifth anniversary celebration of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of the four counties, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Orange and Riverside.

Of particular interest to Glendale is that Mrs. Loretta Schwitters, past noble grand of the Carnation Rebekah lodge, is vice-president of the committee arranging for the celebration.

It is predicted that 6,000 lodge people will be in attendance at the celebration, and that it will be a decidedly musical event, for four I. O. O. F. bands will play alternately throughout the day and for the grand ball at night.

The general committee is receiving hearty co-operation from a local committee in Pomona, including lodge members from Pomona, Chino and Ontario.

Prizes for Parade

The opening event of the day's program will be the grand parade at 10 o'clock, with first prize of $25 and second prize of $15 for Rebekahs in parade judged on appearance.

At noon there will be a basket picnic at Ganesha park with music by a Hawaiian band. Later there will be program in the Greek theatre, with E. R. Longley, G. M. of California, speaking on "What Odd Fellowship Means."

Athletic contests will feature the afternoon and at night there will be the grand ball.

PLAN COURTS OF NATIONAL PAVING

Tennis Players Will Have Only One of Kind at Patterson Park

Through the efforts of the members of the local park commission and V. B. Stone, city manager, Glendale is to have the first tennis courts in the United States surfaced with National paving, this agreement having been reached yesterday between Mr. Stone and T. A. Garrow, general manager of the National Asphaltic Paving company in Los Angeles. The courts will be located at Patterson avenue park, and, Mr. Garrow, in company with Mr. Stone, is inspecting the park this morning to determine of what construction the courts shall be.

At a meeting of the park commission held one month ago, attended by L. T. Rowley, chairman, L. H. Wilson, V. M. Hollister and Rev. C. M. Calderwood, Mr. Stone was asked to get in touch with the paving company and see what could be done toward getting them to surface the court. As a result of his negotiations the company has agreed to cooperate with the park board and construct the courts entirely free of cost to the city of Glendale.

Superior to Cement

"They will be the firet courts in the country so constructed," said Mr. Garrow this morning. "I constructed a dozen courts for the Multnomah Athletic club in Portland, Ore., of regular asphalt, and they have been found to be very superior to concrete, in that they are easier on the players. There the concrete was surfaced with asphalt. The courts to be constructed in Glendale will be even better. The base which we will determine upon after looking the ground over will be more springy."

The material used will be the same that is being laid on Glendale avenue, and the contractors, Thompson, Heuser & Packard, will do the actual surfacing, also donating the services of their paving crews.

Occult Club Members Meet Thursday Night

The Occult Science, Health and Success club will meet Thursday night, April 10, at 113 South Orange street, it is announced. This will be the regular weekly meeting with a lecture on "Concentration," Its Power," by Mrs. Mabel Moore. Following the lecture a short musical program will be presented.

The rest of the meeting will be devoted to the Message Circles of of Mrs. Mabel Moore, Rev. Moore, W. Phillips and others when all present will receive a message. An invitation is extended to the public to attend.

There are 63 volcanic craters in the southern part of Idaho.

DEDICATE SCHOOL THURSDAY NIGHT

Formal Opening of New Park Avenue Institution to Be Big Event

The dedication and formal opening of the new Park Avenue school will be celebrated Thursday night, April 10, at 8 o'clock, with a program and spring festival.

The members of the Parent-Teacher association and the teachers extend an invitation to all association members and friends to attend. The program will be held in the school yard. In case of rain, the program will be postponed until a later date.

The members of the association and teachers have worked hard in making costumes and drilling the children to take part in the affair.

Orchestra to Play

The program will consist of several selections by the Logan Street school orchestra; community singing; "Spring Dance" by Pearl Shaw; "Coming of Spring" and "Spring Song," sung by the whole school; "Danish Dance of Greeting," pupils of the first grade; "Virginia Reel," pupils of third and fourth grades; "Minuet," pupils of fifth and sixth grades; "Maypole Dance," pupils of the fifth grade; address by Mrs. Susan Dorsey, superintendent of the Los Angeles city schools; vocal selections and readings by Mrs. E. B. Moore, president of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations; and talk by Mrs. Frank Schaefer, chairman of patriotism of the Los Angeles federation.

Members of the association will hold a short business meeting this afternoon at the school house for completing plans and final arrangements for the affair. Mrs. Raymond L. Crotzer, president, will be in charge.

Democrats Plan for Membership Campaign

The most enthusiastic and best attended meeting of the year was held last night by the Democratic club of Glendale, at 224 South Brand boulevard, when plans were laid for a drive to increase the membership of the club by the addition of every Democrat in the city who can be reached by the committee between now and election. Charles Grist will have charge of the campaign, and as soon as the 1924 registration lists are complete he and his committee will launch their drive in earnest.

Dwight W. Stephenson, vice president, occupied the chair, and many matters of vital importance to the party and to the club were discussed, plans being laid for active and aggressive participation in the primary and the general elections.

MRS. M'PHERSON STIRS AUDIENCE AT FORUM MEET

Famous Woman Pastor Tells Of Four Cornerstones Of Civilization

Mr. Clark paid a glowing tribute to the work that Mrs. Campbell and her associates have accomplished in the development of the city's cultural growth, and Mrs. Campbell, in reply, stated that the clubwomen of Glendale appreciated the compliment that had been paid to one of their number by the Chamber of Commerce in permitting her to introduce Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson to a Glendale audience. Mrs. Campbell's references to the accomplishments of Mrs. McPherson, in her work in the pulpit of the Angelus Temple, were most glowing and enthusiastic, and the reception that was accorded the speaker when she arose was a spontaneous tribute to the magnetic and impressive personality of the woman who has become such an outstanding figure in the religious life of the Southland.

Four Cornerstones

"The four cornerstones or pillars of our civilization today," said Mrs. McPherson, "are God, the home, the school, and the government, and without any of these pillars civilization is bound to sway and totter to destruction. God is the first pillar, and without God any nation is bound to live in blindness and ignorance and misery. It is the piety that is found in millions of humble homes throughout the country that has made America the nation it is today and that has furnished the foundation of character on which the progress of this nation stands.

"The home, the second pillar, is second only to God in its influence. Those homes where faith is taught as a part of the daily life, from childhood up, are the vitalizing factor in a nation's life, but a nation without faith is anaemic. The lack of Bibles in the present day homes is not uncommon, as I find in my work at the Temple, but the principal needs for any home are a Bible and a praying mother.

U. S. Schools Best

"The value of education in the schools, the third pillar of our civilization, cannot be overestimated, and the schools of America are, I believe from what I have seen in this country and in foreign countries, the best in the world. The influence of the teachers and the schools is one that is worthy to stand beside that of God and of the home in teaching our youth the right way of life, and I would have the Bible read in the schools of the country, not from any sectarian point of view nor with any idea of controversy or comment, but with a carefully selected program of readings.

"The last pillar, the government, is the great tide wall that stands between us and the waves of crime and that protects us and our children. In order to make our government the right kind, we must vote for men who have high ideals and standards and who will enforce the laws of the United States, laws that are almost entirely founded on the Ten Commandments. Our laws should be upheld, and not violated in the slightest respect. It is claimed that prohibition is a joke, but anyone who has traveled in other countries knows that, in spite of the violations of it that one hears of and sees, prohibition today is a success, and as the years progress it will become an even greater success."

The meeting closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," led by Captain Jackson.

Czarina's Necklace Now In Possession Of Mrs. McCormick

CHICAGO, April 8.—The $1,500,000 emerald and diamond necklace, which is reported to have adorned the neck of former empresses of Russia, is the property of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, it was officially announced late this afternoon by W. W. Jewell, chief customs inspector here. A duty of 80 per cent of their value was paid before it was brought into America.

LOCAL TALENT IN VAUDEVILLE ACTS AT THE GATEWAY

Special Program Is Tonight Only; Under Auspices of Cerritos P.-T. A.

A program of five clever vaudeville acts by Glendale talent will be presented tonight only, April 8, at the Glendale Theatre, under the auspices of the Cerritos avenue Parent-Teacher Association, in addition to "Twenty-One" with Richard Barthelmess, which shows at this theatre for the last times tonight, announces Manager B. E. Loper. The performances start at 6:45 and at 9 o'clock.

The Turner Sisters, pupils of the Pearl Keller studio, will appear in a group of interpretive dances. Mrs. R. H. Glenzen, celebrated whistler, will present some distinct novelties in this line. Marion Stadler will appear in Russian and Gypsy dances. Margaret Chase, a pupil of the Cumnock school of expression, will give readings and recitations. And R'Ella Johnson, a pupil of Mrs. Fettinger, will render a violin solo.

Splendid Program

These performers have all earned reputations that extend outside of Glendale and the program offers patrons of the Gateway Theatre something out of the ordinary even for professional talent.

"It is a pleasure to be able to present such a superior bill of local talent," says Manager Loper in announcing the program that will supplement "Twenty-One" at tonight's showings of the new Richard Barthelmess picture.

In "Twenty-One," John S. Robertson has made for First National one of the cleanest, brightest romantic comedy-dramas of the year. It fairly rushes along, with never a dull moment from the iris-in to the fade-out. For theme it depicts the efforts of a young scion of wealth to follow the course of his heart's desire, after having chosen a factory girl for a sweetheart in preference to mother's choice of a society debutante.

Dick goes to New York and gets a job as a taxi-driver, sharing a cheap apartment with another young man of that calling—until, but then, that's the story, and a good one.

GLENDALE JOINS IN CELEBRATION OF MUSIC WEEK

Special Programs Will Be Feature; Big Concert at Hollywood Bowl

Glendale, widely recognized as one of the foremost musical cities in California, is joining with other California music centers in plans for "Music Week" May 3 to 11.

Every musical organization in Glendale and every Glendalian who loves music, is urged to join in the various musical events being arranged for that week.

A feature announcement just issued is that on Sunday afternoon, May 4, the people of Southern California are to be guests of the Hollywood Community chorus at the Hollywood bowl.

Co-operating in this affair are the Burbank Choral society with Mrs. Katrinka Ballentine, chairman and the Glendale Community Service, through V. M. Hollister, chairman of music.

Special Program

At Burbank the choral club of sixty voices, directed by Charles Le Roy Munro, is to give a special program, the Burbank municipal band will give a concert under the direction of Prof. H. S. White and will compete in the band contest at the coliseum; the Burbank Woman's club through its music section, will give a program; the five city schools will have musical afternoons; the Mexican talent under Mrs. Mae Clark will give a musical; and on Saturday, May 10 a musical tea is to be given. The churches of Burbank and the Sunset Canyon country club are all planning feature programs.

In this connection it might be added that the community chorus of Montrose is now holding a contest for a name. During "Music Week" combination programs will be given by Montrose, La Crescenta and Verdugo city.

DISPLAY OF GAS APPLIANCES IS PROVING MAGNET

Coker & Taylor's Exhibit of Lorain Ranges Draws Crowds of Women

The demonstrations and displays being featured by Coker & Taylor of 209 South Brand boulevard during Gas Appliance Week, which lasts until Saturday, April 12, are attracting the notice of hundreds of progressive women in the Glendale-Burbank territory, throughout which this firm has the exclusive agency for the Lorain "Direct Action" range.

Having no bottom in the oven, the Direct Action range loses no heat and is therefore very economical, according to O. J. Merrill, display manager of the Coker & Taylor company, which has installed hundreds of these ranges in homes of this section.

"We have had favorable reports from practically every user of the Direct Action range," says Mr. Merrill. "The efficiency of the range can be attributed directly to its patented bottomless feature, which permits all the heat to go directly into the food.

Biggest Success

"Tests and experiments by the manufacturers, covering a period of years, have produced the Direct Action range and it has proven the most outstanding success in the field, increasing in popularity, until today it is to be found in a large majority of homes throughout the country.

"Conceded to be one of the most efficient heat regulating devices in use today, the Lorain heat control is standard equipment on nearly all models. Women find that the Direct Action range, equipped with the Lorain heat control, meets all demands for economy and service.

"A Lorain equipped range must not be confused with a fireless cooker," Mr. Merrill wishes to particularly stress. "It is a regular gas oven with an automatic heat control. This control eliminates the necessity for a fireless cooker, yet offers the advantages of such an article, combined with the Direct Action range.

No Extra Work

"There is no extra work required to keep the oven of the Direct Action range clean, no bother of heating soapstones or plates before commencing the meal, no thick walls to absorb strong odors and become sour or musty. You use your own cooking utensils, moreover, and not inconvenient, bucket-shaped vessels.

"The reason why the Lorain has none of the disadvantages of fireless cooking is because it isn't a fireless cooker—the fire burns intermittently, maintainng at all tmes the desired temperature.

"The Lorain has forty-four separate temperatures at your service, any one of which, once set, is maintained absolutely. For example, 'prolonged cooking,' one of the regulations, provides for a maintained temperature of 250 degrees. Another example is the 'baking' regulation, providing a ventilated atmosphere with a circulating heat of just the right temperature.

"The viands in the Direct Action range retain their peculiar flavor, each with its characteristic qualities. They have none of the sameness caused by the dead, steamy method of the ordinary fireless cooker, which cooks foods in a sealed atmosphere of mixed odors."

FIGHT LOOMS AS COOLIDGE BACKS MELLON'S PLAN

President Insists Bill Be Passed With Original Surtax Feature

By KENNETH CLARK
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Republican leaders of the Senate have organized for the biggest fight of the legislative session—enactment of as much as possible of the Mellon plan of tax reduction.

In conferences with administration chieftains spreading over the past two weeks, President Coolidge has flatly stated that he regards the Mellon plan the most important piece of legislation before Congress.

Holding this view, senators who have attended the conferences at the White House declared that the president himself has decided to take the reins and direct the fight for the bill, particularly for the 25 per cent maximum surtax rate proposed by the secretary of the treasury and adopted by the senate finance committee.

Will Direct Fight

The president will issue frequent instructions through conferences with senators when the bill is thrown into the senate chamber, probably next week. It will be subjected to bitter attack by Democrats and insurgents.

Warmed by the letters praising the committee's action in restoring the 25 per cent rate, which was boosted to 37½ per cent by the House, Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, chairman, predicted today that the Senate would adopt the Mellon figures.

"I think the Senate will approve the 25 per cent rate," Smoot said. "We are ready to repulse successfully all attempts to increase the rate."

Prepare Substitute

Meanwhile, Democratic members of the committee, meeting in secret sessions, were going ahead with increased confidence on a substitute tax bill, which probably will set the maximum surtax rate at 40 per cent, 4 per cent lower than the figure proposed by minority leaders in the house. Senator Simmons, Democrat, of North Carolina, who is drafting the substitute, declared he would be ready to present the bill at the same time the Mellon measure is introduced by Smoot.

Democrats, it was learned, have made overtures to the insurgents, and until they have heard definitely the wishes of Senator La Follette, Republican, of Wisconsin, and his followers, regarding normal and surtax rates, have decided not to make public details of their plan.

Two Killed, Many Hurt When Car Jumps Track

VERONA, Pa., April 8.—Two men were killed and more than a score of passengers injured, several seriously, today when a street car in Verona became uncontrollable as it was speeding down a hill, jumped the tracks, shot through the front wall of a garage, wrecking several automobiles. The dead: Charles W. Boisel, 38, motorist; William Isherwood, 60.

Stocks, Bonds And Markets

By H. A. VAN DUSEN
For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, April 8.—The Los Angeles market opened exceptionally inactive this morning, few sales being recorded up to 11 o'clock. Bidding was heavy in the oils, Standard Oil of California being held at $61.60, with $61.30 bid. United Oil was bid at $28, and Union Associates at $55, with no sales.

When the exchange opened at 10 o'clock, Los Angeles Investment stock that has created a sensation during the past two weeks by soaring far above par, was offered at $4 per share. Its par value is $1. The highest sales yet recorded in this stock is $3.94. With $3.90 bid, there were no sales.

Ten shares of General Petroleum were moved at $42.40 and fifteen shares of Associated Oil at $31.60. Bonds were completely inactive.

Atchison gained strength on the Los Angeles boards of the New York exchange on the strength of a belief that that road will soon place the common on a higher dividend basis. President Storey has announced that no one can foretell when the dividend will be increased. Today he made the significant statement that any possible increase would depend upon the trend of earnings and business conditions generally.

Two million and a half shares of Silversmith Mines, Ltd., stock was to be placed on the exchange today at its par value of $20. The company, incorporated in 1918, has its property in the Slucan mining district, British Columbia; has $150,000 in cash; $57,000 are on trains.

Force Decline

With publication of the Dawes report awaiting the middle of the week, professional Wall street operators seized the opportunity to force another decline in the interim, according to the Wall Street Journal. When no disposition was shown by the general list to follow up last week's recovery, a heavy selling movement was started among the industrials. This drive wiped out in a few hours practically all the rally accomplished in a whole week and depressed several issues, chiefly in the motor and rubber groups, to new lows for the year.

Producers' statistics show 26 new wells placed on production in Torrance field, Southern Californit, during the past week. Three wells were also brought in at Signal Hill, four at Santa Fe Springs, and one at Huntington Beach.

OUTLINE PLANS FOR INTENSIVE COOLIDGE DRIVE

Campaign Will Be Carried on With Vigor During Next Four Weeks

All arrangements have been made for an intensive four weeks' campaign by the Coolidge forces of Southern California.

A meeting of all officers of Coolidge clubs in Southern California has been called for next Saturday, April 12, at the southern campaign headquarters in Los Angeles. On that occasion a program for the remaining part of the campaign will be reviewed in detail, according to the announcement of the Southern California committee.

On Wednesday, April 9, prominent Republican women met at the Los Angeles headquarters and made arrangements for precinct work which is to be conducted by the women's division.

Campaign In Colleges

The Coolidge campaign is to be conducted in the colleges of Southern California by undergraduate students, it was stated yesterday. John L. Clymer, state chairman of the Coolidge speaking bureau and college clubs, has formed organizations in the University of Southern California, University of California, Southern Branch, Occidental College, Pomona College, California Institute of Technology and Whittier College. Several hundred students have enrolled in these organizations.

Mark L. Requa, member of the Coolidge state campaign committee, spent several days in Los Angeles last week reviewing the progress which has been made by the Southern California committee. The condition of the Coolidge campaign was described as especially good throughout the state by Mr. Requa.

One-Third Registered

One-third of the 1,350,000 voters in California have registered in Los Angeles county, according to an estimate by Registrar of Voters David B. Lyons. The total registration in the county will be between 455,000 and 460,000 when completely checked, according to this estimate. This is an increase of approximately 135,000 over the total registration prior to the presidential primary in 1920.

Figures compiled on April 5 show that 449,811 persons had registered up to that date. Of this number 279,374 are classified as Republican and 97,297 Democratic. These figures in 1920 were 220,870.

Replies received during the past week from questionnaires sent out to the clergy of the state show that 450 ministers are for President Coolidge; four, for Johnson; 96, uncertain and 19, Democratic.

During the past four weeks a total of 600 replies have been received and of that number 444 favor the World Court. Registration has been urged by 533

Important Dates

April 8—Illinois and Nebraska primaries; 61 and 19 Republican delegates.

April 11—Last day to post notice with election information. County clerk to mail Secretary of State statements on registration.

April 14—President Coolidge to speak before Daughters of American Revolution.

April 17—Florida Republican convention.

April 23—Oklahoma Republican convention.

April 28—Arizona Republican convention.

April 29—Missouri Republican convention. Massachusetts and Ohio primaries—29 and 51 Republican delegates.

Eagle Rock's Right Spirit Rank and File For Coolidge Labor Premier Defeated In Need of Flood Control

By Gil A. Cowan

Eagle Rock is showing commendable enterprise in staging an automobile show. It is one of those events which promotes civic interest and tends to create rivalry among business interests which is good for any community.

Eagle Rock also holds an annual Dahlia day, just as Tujunga has its Moon festival. Perhaps they are only imitating other efforts, yet the writer would suggest that Glendale might have something of the sort.

Visiting Oxnard the other day we learned that the only eisttedfod in America is held in that Ventura county town. They used a great sugar factory warehouse for band concerts, singing contests and the allied arts, the same as staged at eisttedfods in Wales.

And Oxnard people were proud of their achievement. Well, why shouldn't they be?

Michigan comes forward to the support of Calvin Coolidge as Republican candidate for president. Considering things, Michigan should have been granted by Hiram Johnson, who seems to be the only contender in the race now with a ghost of a show.

Johnson is getting a lot of encouragement in California, as well as discouragement. Coolidge seems to satisfy the rank and file of the people, however.

Ramsay MacDonald, Labor premier of Great Britain, already has lost out, although he doggedly refuses to quit. Maybe he isn't just like the leaders in the other parties in the British empire.

This idea of elected representatives getting too critical of any leader is a little bit overworked. We cannot conceive of many of our congressmen sitting in the president's chair. Yet each and every one of them no doubt would be glad to accept the honor with thanks.

Southern California needs greater flood control, as evidence the lessons learned during the late rains of the present season. The Los Angeles county board of supervisors, as well as other similar bodies in the southland, recognize this fact and they are laying plans to meet the situation.

Talking with one of the foremost editors of the metropolis he said: "Have the people get behind the flood control and conservation projects for they mean the salvation of this country."

Pondering over his statement one could not help but wonder if the general public really appreciates the gravity of the water problem. His mature opinion is to be regarded.

First of all, the water level in California from the San Joaquin valley south has been receding each year for the last decade, or longer. Increased demands for irrigation water has revealed to the ranchers that only through check dams in the mountains can the flow be increased.

There is sufficient rainfall, even in dry years, if every drop possible is conserved, but we have been a careless people, yes lavish, in wasting natural resources. Also, this great southwest has developed beyond man's most fanciful dreams.

Thousands of people now reside where one family had a homesite forty years ago. Once barren acreage now is intensively cultivated. Land values have soared. Water rights are priceless. Indeed, the life-giving supply from the Owen's river, the Colorado river, the mountain springs and the valley wells should be the first and foremost thought in the mind of everyone.

If you have not been interested in the water, power, flood control and conservation problems of this state, take the time to learn something of the situation. Your indifference is the price of prosperity. Your devoted interest will repay posterity one hundred fold.

Chance's trip east was delayed because of asthma and trouble with his teeth.

GAS EQUIPMENT EXHIBITS BEING DISPLAYED HERE

Glendale's Business Houses Take Active Part in State Campaign

Gas equipment exhibits are being made this week in every big hardware, furniture, and appliance store in California. Seeing is believing and many housewives will decide that they must have better appliances. Their interest centers in the gas range. But what kind of range shall she buy. That must be determined by the size of the family and the pocketbook. However, there are certain fundamental requirements that every stove should meet, big or little, cheap, of moderate price, or expensive. A prominent manufacturer was asked just what these requirements are. He said:

"There are ranges of all kinds, shapes, colors and descriptions; some high, some low; some cheap, some expensive. Some have one advantage, some have another. My advice to the buyer is first to locate a reliable dealer, whose word can be trusted and who has had wide experience in handling gas stoves.

To Determine Size

"The size of the range should be determined by the number in the family and the purchase price by the size of the pocket-book. Buying a gas range is like buying a carving knife—for the blade you can purchase the best steel there is for less than $5 and can pay $1000 for the handle. So with a gas range. For a very nominal price you can procure a fine baker, and then you can add as much more as you like for trimmings, beauty and convenience.

"The oven should be of the cabinet type which is high enough to fit the operator. Stooping brings old age and makes cooking a drudgery. The range should be easy to clean and should be built so that it is easy to sweep arpund or under. The valves should be substantial and easy to adjust.

"Enamel is a great addition to any range. It not only adds to the beauty, but prolongs usefulness and is very easy to clean. A back with a shelf is almost necessary. A push-button gas lighter for the top burners is very handy. It saves matches and adds convenience and cleanliness.

"A great many different attachments such as glass doors, thermometer, automatic oven temperature regulators, etc., are recommended by various dealers. These are very convenient, but not absolute necessities.

What Rrange Should Be

"The range should be large enough to take care of all the cooking at once. The same heat that cooks the meat can now cook your vegetables or do your baking. This requires two ovens, but both are heated with the same flame. The modern way is to put the vegetables and other things commonly cooked on top of a stove in the upper oven. and cook them with the same heat you are using to cook the meat in the lower oven.

"In the modern type of gas range, the oven heat control, which so easily and dependably regulates the temperature of the oven, is considered the most important feature. Oven heat regulators eliminate all guess work in baking, and by measuring the heat in the oven, they thereby so regulate the gas burner that a considerable saving is effected."

Dodsworth Appointed Assistant Fire Chief

R. E. Dodsworth, senior captain of the Glendale fire department, has been appointed assistant chief and will be in charge of the firemen during any absence of Chief A. H. Lankford.

Captain Dodsworth has been a member of the local force for more than five years, and for a long time has been stationed at Fire House No. 1 on East Broadway, where the chief's office is located.

The position of assistant chief has been open since the departure of E. C. Fairfield, during the recent upheaval in the fire department. Captain Dodsworth was one of the staunchest supporters of Chief Lankford during the trouble, and his name was the first on the list of firemen that threatened to leave if the chief was not reinstated.

Millions Fly Through City On Way to Valley Farm Feeding Grounds

Minnions of butterflies winging a northwesterly course through Glendale early yesterday afternoon transformed the sky into a gorgeous tapestry. Coming up from the general direction of metropolitan Los Angeles, they set a course straight for the green fields of the San Fernando valley, where no doubt nature drove them in search of the nectar from blooming things.

Like the dust from a great conflagration they appeared in the distance, and many residents, on first beholding the phenomenon, feared that some great fire was sweeping the city. But, as they came on up the valley, their beautiful vanguards proclaimed them as butterflies. Glinting in the intermittent sunlight like a hail of meteroic jewels, they pressed on, flying low above the trees and hedges, reaching far out into the skies, millions and millions of whirling, glittering butterflies, a mighty and amazing migration, one of the most awe-inspiring manifestations of nature ever seen in this section.

Two Hours Passing

From shortly before 1 o'clock in the afternoon until well after 3 o'clock they continued to come, thinning out at last until just a few stragglers winged slowly on behind the vast multi-hued cloud. And when the last evanescent butterfly had vanished, residents who had beheld the miracle rubbed their eyes, wondering whether it had not, after all, been a dream.

H. H. Snyder of 410 West Burchett street, one of those who witnessed the migration, is of the belief that the late rains have in some way upset the insect calendar and caused the butterflies to seek more favorable pastures. No one in the district seems to recall any similar migration, although science acknowledges that the phenomenon has precedent.

Personal Files of Daugherty Robbed In Columbus Home

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Former Attorney - General Harry M. Daugherty was advised today by friends in Columbus, Ohio, that all of his personal files for twenty years back have been burglarized.

The files were removed to Daugherty's home in Columbus from his law office when he became attorney-general in 1921. The robbery is said to have occurred last Friday night, but Daugherty did not learn of it until today.

WARN PRESIDENT OF THIRD PARTY MENACE TO G.O.P.

Republican Leaders Report Growth of Sentiment In Northwest

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Two warnings that sentiment for a third party is sweeping the upper reaches of the Northwest and may result in Republican defeat next November—or the throwing of the presidential election into the House of Representatives—have been served on President Coolidge and his chief political advisers in Washington.

It might be too much to say that Republican leaders are worried, but the reports have profoundly disturbed them.

The third party bugaboo was not brought to Washington by spokesmen for any insurgent group, but by two of the regular Republican leaders of the Northwest, Ralph E. Williams of Oregon, vice-chairman of the Republican national committee, and Governor J. O. Preus of Minnesota. They jointly informed Republican leaders here that the third party menace is "no joke" and that if the Republican campaign directors continue to ignore it or treat it lightly, it will be to the party's sorrow.

La Follette Strong

Preus said Senator La Follette could carry, Minnesota, Wisconsin, the two Dakotas, Montana, Nebraska, Colorado and possibly Iowa, against any candidate either of the old parties is likely to put up.

Williams said, in effect, that Oregon was in a none too secure position for the Republicans and that Washington was in the same category.

In a series of conferences at the White House and with Republican leaders at the capital they united in urging that due cognizance be taken of this situation "before it is too late."

Meanwhile, on top of these pessimistic reports brought by such regular Republicans as Williams and Preus, the Republican leaders here had a new worry today in the emphatic warning served last night by Harry M. Daugherty, deposed attorney-general, that he does not propose to stand by and see the friends of President Coolidge cry "Blame it on Harding" in the investigation disclosures.

Daugherty's Attack

The former attorney-general's attack on Senator Pepper, Republican of Pennsylvania, who has recently been one of Coolidge's most constant advisers in political matters, was one of the most savage Washington has ever seen. Daugherty accused Pepper of being "sore" because he was turned down for solicitor-general of the department of justice, which, next to the attorney-generalship itself, is the most important law office in the government. He also accused Pepper of party disloyalty.

Daugherty said he expected to support Coolidge "notwithstanding the fact that a combination of Peppers, Vanderlips, Gaston B. Means and Wheelers may unite to condemn innocent men without a hearing and notwithstanding one of their number is selected to make a keynote speech and rally Republican posts by the cowardly cry "Blame it all on Harding." "But," he warned, "Blaming it on Harding" is going to invite the "truest resentment of hosts of Republicans."

Let's Tell 'Em Glendale Has Four Seasons--No Extremes

Let's tell those folks back east that we have four clearly defined seasons here in Glendale—that we have no monotonous climate—no extremes of heat or cold—that we have the regular back east springtime with forty varieties of wild flowers in our neighboring canyons, hills and mountains.

Glendale has a combination valley-foothill-mountain environment. It has much more rainfall than Los Angeles. It is distinctly different from most other California communities. In beautiful, spacious evergreen Verdugo canyon ther are several beautiful streams that flow undiminished the year round. What other California city can boast of this? Let's tell our eastern friends to come here and enjoy what they cannot get anywhere else in California. Let's turn the tide of incoming population toward Glendale through the medium of a nation-wide advertising campaign in newspapers and magazines. Others are doing it and profiting tremendously thereby. Why not Glendale?

Ponzi Has Rival Now Operating In Mexico

BOSTON, April 8.—Charles Ponzi, the "boy wizard" of Boston, was the veriest "piker" in promises, compared with Harmon Beggs of Mexico City. Ponzi offered only 50 per cent on your money in 90 days, sometimes anticipating interest payments in half that time, 45 days. Beggs assures you of 2000 per cent on your money within six months. If you intrust him with, say $100 of yo savings, he guarantees that at the end of a half-year your profits will be $2000. Which is pretty good percentage.

Mr. Beggs, who from his name is evidently German, has a wonderful scheme. He is flooding the mails of Boston and other parts of the country with his marvelous and philanthropic appeal for the savings of American citizens. He has no limit of investment, not Mr. Beggs, except that he will not handle amounts of less than $50. Above that the sky is the limit. Two thousand per cent in six months—if you believe him. Don't!

LANKFORD TELLS HORSE'S PASSING FROM FIRE DEPT.

Notice of Equine Veteran's Sale Recalls Early Days of Chief

"For sale—one dapple gray horse, weight about 1400 pounds, Sound, gentle, and will work or drive single. Eight years old. May be seen at the fire house on Howard street near Broadway."

This advertisement, appearing in The Glendale Evening News of January 4, 1914, a decade ago, was the swan song of the horse regime in the Glendale fire department, and old "Jim," to this day affectionately remembered by Fire Chief Lankford, was the last of the survivors.

With the lead taken by the fire department, the days of the horse as a cog in the machinery of the city administration were numbered. One by one they dropped out to have their places usurped by motor-driven vehicles, until today there is not a single horse on the pay roll of the city. And there has not been for some time past. The date of the passing of the last equine "die hard" from the city's official family is not certain, but the city records do not show any purchases of "fodder" for the past two years, so no fodder, probably no horse.

Efficiency Reigns

"Everything is done now with an idea of efficiency," said Chief Lankford this morning, "but there was a certain element of romance about the department during the old days that is lacking now. I find that with the passing of the horse that the type of firemen has also changed. Harry Miller was the last driver of horses to be employed on the Glendale department. He spent hours daily with his charges and talked to them as if they could understand what he said to them.

"Instead of currying and rubbing down, the time is spent now in polishing brass work. It is true we are able to give the city better protection, but there is a certain glamor attached to the old three horse team with the smoke and flame pouring forth from the old "Jennie Jewel" that is lacking today."

Incidentally the first motor purchased ten years ago for the Glendale fire department is still in service today at Fire Station No. 1 on East Broadway. Originally purchased for a combination hose and chemical wagon, it has been rebuilt and is now a lengthy ladder wagon. Chief Lankford was the first driver to handle it.

The passing of the horse in the fire department was closely followed in other departments of the city administration. In the street department large trucks have taken the place of the old dump wagons. Officers of the police department are mounted on motorcycles. While contractors doing street work for the city uses some horses or mules, they are being replaced as fast as possible by trucks. The transition, representing a great expense to the contractors, will be complete in this work in a short time.

One Book Has Record Of Vital Statistics

SACRAMENTO, April 8.—California's largest book is in possession of the state board of health. It contains thousands of real human interest stories, each of which is true. There is not a line of fiction in the book, and some portion of it is of interest to every individual in the state.

The book is called "Vital Statistics." It contains the names of 5,000,000 persons and it is the index to all the birth, death and marriage certificates that have been filed in California since 1905.

BERKELEY, April 8.—Dr. Aurelia Rinehardt, president of Mills college, will deliver the opening address at the fourth national athletic conference of American college women, to be held on the campus of the University of California, from April 9 to 12, inclusive.

Welcoming addresses will be delivered by Miss Lucy Stebbins, dean of women at the state university; Miss Ruth Elliott of the state university physical education department, and Miss Vivian Osborn, president of the women's athletic association of the university.

Advises Boys to Go to Sea; Even If They Run Off

LONDON, April 8.—Horace Greeley advised the young men of his generation to go West.

Admiral Sir Guy Gaunt is advising the young Englishman of today to go to sea—to run away to sea if necessary.

"The boy who is going to sea cannot be stopped," Admiral Gaunt said, in addressing a seamen's meeting, "It is a good thing he does want to go to sea. It is the sort of spirit that has made the British Empire great."

Admiral Gaunt speaks from experience, for he ran away to sea when a boy, served in wind jammers, steam vessels, and eventually rose to a high place in the British Navy.

Australians Plan to Test Officials' Mind

MELBOURNE, April 8.—Australians are discussing a proposition to have all candidates for office present themselves before the State Examining board to see if they are mentally qualified to deal intelligently with the problems of the office to which they seek election. The idea is that as candidates for appointive office are compelled to pass a civil service examination, the same plan should be extended to include candidates for elective office.

This plan is worked very well in Uruguay, South America. For some years, in Uruguay, all persons who offer themselves as candidates must pass an intellectual test before a national board. If they pass the test, their names are allowed to go on the ballot as candidates for the particular office. If they fail to pass the test, their names are barred from the ballot.

FARM SENATOR PREDICTS BIRTH OF THIRD PARTY

La Follette May Be Chosen to Lead New Move, Is Solon's Belief

CHICAGO, April 8.—The birth of a third party, probably headed by Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, will follow the nomination of President Coolidge as Republican presidential candidate.

"I consider the nomination of Mr. Coolidge a cut and dried affair," the senator said in an interview after his arrival here where he will speak in the interest of the candidacy of Newton Jenkins for the Illinois Republican senatorial nomination. "This will be followed by the birth of a third party. The country is sick of standpatters and standpatism. It is hungry for progressivism and through a third party will get it."

Coolidge Nomination Sure, Managers Claim

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The nomination of Calvin Coolidge at the Republican national convention in Cleveland will be signed, sealed and all but delivered by April 22—eighteen days from yesterday. This confident assertion was made here by the president's campaign managers after a careful tabulation of results to date, and results expected between now and the zero date set, April 22.

William M. Butler, director of the Coolidge campaign, told the president that he has a total of 385 delegates thus far pledged or instructed for him, and that by the 22nd, this total will be increased to 620 delegates—or 65 more than the necessary majority of 555.

Delegates Flock In

The count of 385 delegates to date—two months ahead of the convention and before any of the big states have held their primaries or state conventions—included the 15 from Maine instructed Thursday, 17 from Connecticut, 8 from Missouri and from Ohio, all of which have been listed in the Coolidge column in the last few days.

Butler came to Washington after an absence of some weeks spent in the west in supervising the promotion of the president's political interests. He not only believes the nomination of Mr. Coolidge is as inescapable as death or taxes, but as a result of his observations of the political trend he also believes implicitly that the nomination of president will be followed by election in November.

Butler does not believe the era of investigation and scandal that has visited Washington has had or will have any material effect in the forthcoming campaign. He declined, however, to make any predictions as to the major issues upon which the Democrats and the Republicans will wage the four months' battle before the electorate.

There was another of President Coolidge's "political breakfasts" at the White House yesterday. Butler was there, and others were Senator Smoot of Utah, Capper of Kansas, McNary of Oregon, Warren of Wyoming, Couzens of Michigan, and Weller of Maryland. They discussed generally legislation and politics.

Conference Cancelled On Account of Plague

SACRAMENTO, April 8.—The yearly travel conference of the California Farm Bureau Federation, which was planned for the week beginning May 12, has been definitely cancelled owing to the prevalence of the foot and mouth disease, it was announced today by Prfo. B. H. Crocheron, director of agricultural extension at the University of California.

It was decided that with automobiles coming from every portion of the state and with an attendance of several hundred men representing every section of the state, the danger of carrying the infection was too great to risk.

Diet and Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M.D.
Author of Diet and Health, with Key to the Caolries

THE HOARY HEAD IS A CROWN OF GLORY—No. 2

Yesterday we had the first paper on grey hair. I will review it briefly:

Dyeing the hair is going out of practice because most hair dyes are made from minerals which may be absorbed by the system and cause a slow poisoning. The vegetable dyes, such as extract of nut gall, oak or hemlock bark, black walnut, sage, etc., are not so apt to poison.

Grey hair is apparently a normal change with advancing years. Those who are grey prematurely usually inherit this characteristic. Passing causes for greyness are chronic debilitating diseases, prolonged worry and mental strain, neuralgia of the face and head, local injuries of the scalp, diseases, etc., When the greyness is due to some such passing cause, the process may stop after the cause is removed.

There is a common saying that if you pull out a grey hair, three or four new grey ones come to its funeral. That is not true, but it is a fact that if you pull a hair out, the new hair comes in stronger.

We are shedding some hairs all the time. The life of a single hair varies from six months to perhaps three or four years. If your hair is coming out more than normally, it is because of some general disturbance of the body or some scalp disease.

Do not cease to give the scalp the stimulating treatment of the thorough brushing and massaging and pulling—which I outlined for you in our discussion of Dandruff—because you think that more hairs seem to come out. The hairs which come out easily are already dying hairs, and the quicker you pull them out the better, because allowing the hair to die in the scalp weakens the papillae and a less vigorous hair will come in its place. You must profit by the fact that pulling the hair out makes a stronger one come in its place. This doesn't mean, of course, that I advise any hair pulling matches!

Why does hair turn grey? There are several theories. One is that the tiny nipple-like projections (the papillae) in the hair follicles from which the hairs grow, cease for some reason to manufacture the hair pigment (coloring matter). Another theory is that the pigment is formed, but that certain cells in the hair gobble it up and descend with the pigment into the bottom of the hair follicle and the tissues around it. Still another is that the pigment is formed, but that the hair cells do not absorb it and this pigment is taken into the blood stream and deposited elsewhere in the skin. The doctor who advanced this theory believes that this accounts for the dark spots that are so often seen on the skins of elderly people. Still another theory is that air bubbles form in the hair, and just as the egg white will become whiter by beating air into it, so the hair becomes white. It seems to me that this air theory is a good one for the grey hair is coarser and more brittle than before turning.

Whether the hair can turn white in a day is a disputed fact. Many authorities believe that the noted historical cases, such as those of Marie Antoinette, Mary, Queen of Scots, and the woman whose lover was killed, etc., are fiction. Hair has been known to change its color after some severe illness like typhoid. I have seen one case. It was that of a girl who was working with me with the Red Cross in the Balkans. She had had straight, blonde hair; after a severe case of typhoid her hair fell oht, and when it came in again it was dark and curly.

Men grow grey as a rule, as they grow bald, sooner than women. It is possible that wetting the hair and washing it so much more often than the women do, may have something to do with this. It has been noticed that hair on animals grows white first where it is oftenest wet, as the paws and around the nose.

I realize I have not given much comfort to those of you who are grey and do not like it. Perhaps it is because I like grey hair. I think on the young it is handsome, and on the elderly and middle-aged it is not only handsome but it softens the face. My friends tell me that I like grey hair because I haven't any myself. I don't know why I haven't any; I'm no duckling! Perhaps it is my heritage and perhaps it is because I have cared for my scalp in the manner which I outlined to you in the articles on Baldness and Dandruff. (If you missed these articles you may have them by sending for them according to the rules of the column.)

Royal Heir Expected

Prince of Wales may relinquish prospects of British throne in favor of his brother, the Duke of York, whose wife is anticipating a visit from the stork some time in June.

An heir, third in line from the British throne, is expected to arrive in the household of the Duke and Duchess of York in June, according to dispatches. There is much talk of the relinquishment of his rights to the throne by the Prince of Wales in favor of his brother, the Duke of York, second son of King George, and in that event the child would be direct heir to the crown and sceptre of the empire. Unlike the son of Princess Mary, the Duke of York's child will be a prince or princess of the royal blood since the king has given the Duchess of York that rank. Mary's son is considered a commoner.

Heart and Home

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl in my teens and have been going with a fellow for the last year. He treats me very nicely and is always good to me. We have been engaged for about five months.

I used to go with another young man. We went together for about six months. He was also very nice to me and I know he loved me for he was very jealous of me.

The young man I am going with now is very jealous of me also. He gives me a lot of gifts and does anything for me.

I cannot decide which young man to give up, the one I am going with or the other one. When I don't see my former sweetheart I am all right, but when I see him I get all upset and undecided.

The young man I go with now is of a different nationality and the other is the same that I am. My present sweetheart is in a position to give me a better home than the other.

I would appreciate your advice very much. What makes me feel so undecided when I see my former sweetheart? I am more jealous of the one I am going with now though. Z. J. P. S.

You are not in love or you would not feel as you do. Since you are only in your teens I think you are forcing the matter of love and should be more sure of your affections before becoming engaged. It would be a mistake to marry for the kind of home you could get out of your marriage. Fortune might take a turn and therefore it would be wiser to choose a husband with a character and tastes which you like.

WANT TO GET RID OF HIM

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of 18. Do you think that I am old enough to go with a fellow? There is a boy who takes me home one Sunday night and the next Sunday night he takes a girl friend of mine. He nearly always asks me first and I turn him down and then he asks that chum of mine and she goes along with him. She is just wild over him and I do not care for him at all.

What is the best way for me to get rid of him? He always speaks to me when I see him.

He insults me about the things I wear. What should I answer him the next time he insults me?

SWEETHEART.

Keep telling the boy, "No," when he asks to take you home and after he has been refused a number of times he will get tired of asking you and will take your girl chum. When the boy insults you regarding your clothes he ceases to be a gentleman. Be a lady in your turn and either remain silent or say that you like what you have. Probably he is trying to tease and chooses an unfortunate subject.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man of 18 and have been going with a girl of seventeen, but I don't think she loves me. How can I win her love?" SHORTY.

Study the girl's tastes and do things you think will please her. If you think she would enjoy certain kinds of amusement, see that she attends. Do not talk of your own love or force yourself on her unless you feel that she is caring more for you. If she is not too sure of your regard she is more apt to care for you.

ETHEL:—Some people never remove their wedding ring. Since the engagement ring is removed more often for cleaning, it is worn in the more convenient place.

Now pack ice and salt in the larger pail, around the smaller vessel, and, with your finger on the dry cover, turn this smaller pail constantly, insid the larger one. When the ice cream is slighdy frozen on the sides of its container, scrape off toward center with a knife and continue turning until completely frozen. X. Y. Z.:—An exercise for reducing and also strengthening the abdominal muscles is as follows: Lie flat on back, and while holding arms out in front of you, rise slowly to a sitting position without raising the legs. Finish by bending forward from the hips.

Avalon:—Diet for a time. That is, eliminate the foods that are very rich, and increase the amount of water you drink between meals. Pimples are usually caused from imperfect elimination. A cream or ointment in which there is sulphur will sometimes help pimples locally, but their cure must be effected by keeping the system in a healthy condition.

Captain K.:—If your hair is very oily, the shampoo you mention will be all right to use; otherwise, it will be too drying to use regularly. A cream made from fine oils is beneficial to most skins, especially during the cold months of the year.

Marie S. H.:—Occasionally you find people whose hair does not appear to be injured either through bleaching or dyeing, but these instances are the exceptions. But this does not alter the fact that they are abusing the hair; bad results will show in time and the condition of your hair is a proof of this. Walnut stain is a deep brown.

Elaine:—You cannot make your hair coarse but you can increase its vitality which would result in more hair that will not slink to the head. Massage the scalp every day or several times daily, until you sense a feeling of warmth throughout from increased circulation. This is the best treatment that you can give the scalp for improving the hair in every way.

S. H.:—Children of your age are often bothered with pimples, and the tendency leaves them after a few more years. You can help this condition a great deal if you do not overeat, especially between meals. Drink plenty of water and limit yourself in the amount of candy you consume during the course of the week. A little candy after a meal will not hurt your skin, but the trouble comes when you eat a quantity between meals.

Fanny K.:—You can reduce your weight and clear your skin at the same time through diet. I will be glad to mail you a chart from which you can calculate on the quanity and choice of foods for your needs, but there is not space to print it. If you wish this, include a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Tillie F. D. Chum:—Any cream helps to soften the impact known as a blackhead. Use very little cream on an oily skin, but treat the skin for an abnormal state. Talcum is a good general toilet powder, but not fine enough for the complexion. Powders in compact form are apt to be drying.

Tomorrow—The Eyelashes.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Women of Today

By MRS. LILIAN CAMPBELL

Twelve Democratic women, each interested in a different subject of general concern to the voter, will formulate suggestions for the platform of the national Democratic convention. They have been named on a special committee of the Women's Democratic Union of New York to frame declarations on social legislation, education, housing and other matters of special interest to women.

Miss Frances Perkins, member of the Industrial Board of the New York State Industrial Commission, and one of the highest paid women public officials in America, is chairman of the committeee composed of the following:

Miss Mina Bruere, expert in banking and finance; Mrs. Anne O'Hagan Shinn, writer and publicist; Miss Virginia Potter, active for years in social uplift work for girls; Miss Lillian D. Wald, leader in child welfare and public health movements; Mrs. V. G. Simkhovitch, expert on immigration; Miss Virginia C. Gildersleeve, nationally known as an educator and dean of Barnard College; Miss Martha Draper, former member of the New York Board of Education; Mrs. Henry Moskowitz, Miss Emilie Bullowa, Miss Elizabeth Jordon and Miss Alice J. G. Perkins.

Marking the first effort to formulate planks dealing specfically with welfare and women's interests, the committee will confer with national organizations sympathetic with their aims and appeal before the platform committee of the Democratic national convention.

Detroit's Federation of Women's Clubs, through its public safety director, is protesting against the popular idea that "accidents must happen." They have conducted a study of accidents, have formulated a practical plan to lower the toll they take annually, and have led the way to a carefully organized city-wide campaign to save the lives of Detroit citizens and visitors.

A new anesthetic for painless childbirth is announced from Paris by Drs. Cleiz and Perlis. The anesthetic is called di-ethyl-di-allyl-harbiturate di-ethyl-amine. The doctors' statement says the anesthetic has been used in a number of cases and produced practically painless childbirth.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE RICE PUDDING

Uncle Wiggily sat in his easy chair. Across the table from him, in another easy chair, sat Uncle Butter, the goat. The two friends were playing Ching Chow, a Chinese laundry game.

"Uncle Wiggily!" called Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy. The rabbit gentleman did not answer. He just twinkled his pink nose. "Uncle Butter!" called the muskrat lady housekeeper of the hollow stump bungalow. The goat gentleman did not answer. He just twinkled his chin whiskers.

Both he and Uncle Wiggily were very busy thinking about Ching Chow, the Chinese laundry game.

"UNCLE WIGGILY!" at last called Nurse Jane in such a loud voice that the rabbit gentleman dropped a sky blue pink dragon he was picking off one of the Chinese dominoes.

"Yes! Yes! What is it, Janie?" asked the bunny, when at last he understood that Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy wished to speak to him.

"I am going out for a little while," went on Nurse Jane. "I may not return in time to get your lunch. But there is some cold rice pudding in the ice box. You and Uncle Butter can eat that.

"Very good," murmured Uncle Wiggily, as he went on playing Ching Chow, the Chinese laundry game.

However, Nurse Jane didn't hear what the goat gentleman said about not liking raisins in his rice pudding, for she was already hopping down the front steps. She was going shopping with Mrs. Wibblewobble, the lady duck.

And it is just as well Nurse Jane heard nothing of what Uncle Butter said about not liking raisins in his rice pudding, for the rice pudding was filled with raisins—big, fat, plump ones, as Uncle Wiggily was fond of them.

"Trot along, Janie, and have a good time," said Uncle Wiggily. "We'll get along all right and eat rice pudding for lunch. Go on, Uncle Butter; it's your move," he said.

So the two friends sat in their easy chairs playing Ching Chow, the Chinese laundry game, and outside of the hollow stump bungalow the hungry Bear sat in some late spring snow and looked in through the window.

"There they are—those two chaps," grumbled the Bear. "Warm and well fed, and here I am, cold and hungry. I know what I'm going to do! I just saw Nurse Jane go out. She may have left the front door unlocked.

"Uncle Wiggily and Uncle Butter are so busy playing Scotch checkers, or something like that, I'm sure they'll never hear me come in. I'll slip into the bungalow and catch one of them, anyhow. That's what I'll do!"

So the hungry, black, bushy Bear slithered slowly over the snow until he reached the front door. As he had hoped, Nurse Jane had not locked it when she went out. The door was easily opened. The Bear slipped in. Uncle Wiggily never heard him! Uncle Butter never heard him. They were too busy playing Ching Chow, the Chinese laundry game.

"It's your move, Uncle Wiggily," bleated Uncle Butter.

"No, I think it is your move," said the rabbit.

"It will soon be my move, and I'll make both of them jump!" chuckled the Bear to himself as he sat hidden in the hall.

Well, pretty soon, after a while, Uncle Wiggily began to get hungry. Then Uncle Butter began to get hungry.

"I hope it has no raisins in," bleated the goat.

"Raisins or no raisins, as soon as they start eating that pudding I'll start carrying them off to my den!" growled the Bear.

"We'll eat it right here and keep on playing the game," said the rabbit.

"Oh, oh," cried the goat. "I can't bear raisins!" Then he picked out one and threw it away, and, as the Bear was just coming in the room the raisin hit him in his left eye.

"Wow!" howled the Bear.

I think it's your move, said the rabbit.

"Double wow!" howled the Bear. And then Uncle Butter threw the whole spoonful of rice pudding, fat raisins and all in the Bear's open mouth, making him choke and cough.

"I guess you don't want me here!" sadly said the Bear.

"You guessed right!" cried Uncle Wiggily, and, as the door was still open, the goat gentleman butted the Bear outside and then turned the key.

"Go on, Uncle Wiggily, it's your move," said the goat. And while the bunny was moving in Ching Chow, the Chinese laundry game, and while the Bear was moving off to his den to wash his face, Uncle Butter picked out the raisins he didn't want and ate the rice pudding without them.

So everything happened for the best, you see, and if the tea kettle doesn't catch cold when it hides in the ice box so the stove poker can't tag it, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the umbrella hole.

Spurns Gold For Love

She shunned a million and a "Follies" offer, all for love. Beulah Lee Sullivan of Washington broke her engagement to a son of Peter A. Drury, millionaire banker, and turned down an offer to take a leading part in the new edition of the "Ziegfeld Follies" to elope to Virginia and marry Charles Howard Beaufait of New York.

From Book Of Life

THE COMMON MIND

The cultured class, so-called, is wont to look with contempt upon the thoughts of the common man. And not without reason, for too often the mind of the average, or common man, is a disorganized medley of racial superstitions and bigotries and beliefs impressed on it by conscious and subconscious acceptance of the feelings of the majority.

* * *

A mind is like a tract of farm land: if it doesn't produce anything of value it is because it isn't cultivated enough, or because the wrong method of cultivation is used.

* * *

That which is sound in the philosophy of the common mind usually is founded on proverbs handed down by the race.

Every people has its own proverbs; yet the proverbs of the various peoples when compared show a remarkable unanimity of common thought.

Take these proverbs, for instance. They are maxims handed down in China for many centuries, and are believed to be inventions of that race, but they seem as much Occidental as Oriental:

"The greatest conqueror is he who overcomes the enemy without a blow."

"He that does not believe in others finds they do not believe in him."

"A vacant mind is open to all suggestions as a hollow building echoes all sounds."

"The greater the number of laws, the more thieves there will be."

"A diamond with a flaw is preferable to a common stone with none."

"The ungrateful son is a wart on his father's face; to leave it is a blemish, to cut it off is painful."

"A hundred paths present a hundred difficulties."

"It is the beautiful bird which gets caged."

"A gem is not polished without rubbing nor a man perfected without trials."

EXPERIENCE

All men are more or less experienced in the world's ways, but fewer of them are wise in its ways.

Emerson once wrote, "Only so much do I know, as I have lived."

"Experience," expounded William James, "is a process that continually gives us new material to digest. We handle this intellectually by the mass of beliefs of which we find ourselves already possessed, assimilating, rejecting, or rearranging in different degrees. Some of the apperceiving ideas are recent acquisitions of our own, but most of them are common traditions of the race.

"There is probably not a common-sense tradition, of all those which we now live by, that was not in the first instance a genuine discovery, an inductive generalization like those more recent ones of the atom, of inertia, of energy, of reflex action, or of fitness to survive.

"The notions of one Time and of one Space as single continuous receptacles; the distinction between thoughts and things, matter and mind; between permanent subjects and changing attributes; the conception of classes with sub-classes between them; the separation of fortuitous from regularly caused connections; surely all these were once definite conquests made at historic dates by our ancestors in their attempts to get the chaos of their crude individual experiences into a more shareable and manageable shape. They proved of such sovereign use as "denkmittel" that they are now a part of the very structure of our mind. We cannot play fast and loose with them. No experience can upset them. On the contrary, they apperceive every experience and assign it to its place.

"To what effect? That we may better foresee the course of our experience, communicate with one another and steer our lives by rule. Also that we may have a cleaner, clearer, more inclusive mental view."

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad

By J. SYDNEY HUGHES
For International News Service.

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 8.—In the United States geological reclamation survey now under way that will render more than 600,000 acres of Texas land tillable by irrigation, it is estimated that between $10,000,000 and $50,000,000 annually will be redeemed in taxes from flood loss alone, in addition to the eventual production from the vast acreage to benefit for agricultural purposes.

If the intensive survey now being made through the combined efforts of the government and the Texas board of water engineers is carried in its entirety, the tremendous project will provide beneficial reaction to territory in practically every section of the state in the matter of water supply for irrigation, allaying flood hazards and the impounding of great quantities of water for domestic and industrial use.

Close study of the volume of the variation of volume at present is being applied to almost every river in the state with approximately 100 hydrographic stations under operation.

The purpose of the stations is to provide the necessary data for the construction of irrigation projects, flood control works, city water supply, manufacturing and other economic needs.

Irrigation sites under contemplation involving millions of dollars include the cities of Brownwood, Bronte, San Angelo, San Saba, Waco, Cottula, Fort Worth, Seymour, Crowell, Three Rivers, Sabinal, Dilly and Pecos. The Wort Worth and Waco projects are largely for the supplying of water for city use, while the other enterprises are mainly for irrigation. The proposed system at Bronte is the largest of the group and will irrigate some 125,000 acres of land in that vicinity.

Major C. E. Cook, in charge of federal activity, states that actual survey work has been completed on many sites. Five sections of the total outlay at Belton have been surveyed, two sections at Waco along the Brazos river, seven on the Brazos, south of Granberry, two sections of Wylie, on the Trinity, and four sections on the Brazos, near Mineral Wells.

"Texas has never before seen the possibilities of development as these surveys will enable it to see in the future," Major Cook declared. "From ten to fifty millions of dollars are lost every year in floods, and this could be prevented for an indefinite period if flood prevention methods were taken. San Antonio could have prevented its last disastrous flood for less than the flood itself cost her."

"Imagine," he said, "flying over Texas in an airplane and viewing reservoir after reservoir with factories and irrigated productive farms where now there stretches only bleak, sun-baked, untillable acres by the hundreds of thousands."

And, in speaking of airplanes, the survey chief declared arrangements had been completed whereby the government air service will co-operate with the state and federal surveyors by flying over and photographing all of the contemplated area. In this manner the desired data will be acquired at half the expense and time devoted to each territory under the old methods.

An even more comprehensive survey of the possibilities of Texas' reclamation has been outlined for the coming fiscal year, Major Cook stated, involving every section of the state where irrigation is feasible.

THE GLENDALE

For those who respond to a rousing tale of the sea—and who are they not?—"Women Who Give," Reginald Barker's new Metro picture now showing at the Glendale Theatre will be hailed as a classic. It is an adaptation of Sarah P. McLean Greene's "Cape Cod Folks."

This interesting story and well-made production also has the distinct advantage of a cast worthy of being called all-star. Barbara Bedford and Renee Adoree share honors in the leading feminine roles. It may truthfully be said that they have never been seen to better advantage.

Robert Frazer is admirably suited to the role of the young sea captain and Frank Keenan adds another to his long list of sterling characterizations. Joseph Dowling, Margaret Seddon, Joan Standing, Victor Potel, Eddie Phillips and William Eugene round out a particularly well-chosen cast.

The Salvation Army was founded in 1862 in London.

THE GATEWAY

In "Twenty-One" Richard Barthelmess has been given a part that everyone will like. This is being proved at the Gateway Theatre, where the picture continues with ever-increasing success. It is a John S. Robertson production, released through First National.

As a 19-year-old youth, who leaves home to hide his identity in New York until he becomes of age, so that he may defeat the plans of rich parents to prevent his marriage to a poor girl, Barthelmess is cast in a role admirably suited to his talents and again distinguishes himself.

The star gives a most sympathetic characterization as young Julian McCullough, and the work of Dorothy Mackaill, appearing opposite him as Lynnie Willis, forlorn little factory girl, who becomes innocently compromised with the young man, is a finished achievement.

GIVING OUT

The Struggle Discourages Many a Citizen of Glendale

Can't rest at night;
Doan's Pills are helping thousands.
And other kidney ills.
Here is convincing proof of their merit:

Mrs. S. M. Nepper, 829 E. 10th St., Long Beach, Cal., says: "I know the value of Doan's Pills, and I am glad to endorse them. I had attacks of backache and felt run down. I was often so dizzy I could not walk straight and my ankles and feet were swollen. The action of my kidneys was irregular. I used Doan's Pills for these ailments and they soon gave me relief from the aches and pains and put my kidneys in good shape."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Nepper had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

FOR FOREIGN SERVICE

The National Council on Foreign Service Training has just been organized under the auspices of the United State Bureau of Education to succeed the Advisory Council and Committee of Fifteen on Educational Preparation for Foreign Service. At a recent meeting of the committee in Washington, D. C., subcommittees were appointed to study the problem of student travel in foreign countries and recommend a program of co-ordinated effort by which the colleges and universities may make even more valuable this adjunct to foreign service training; to prepare a syllabus for a one-semester course on foreign trade for use in colleges and universities; and to prepare a report on foreign service training in foreign countries.

EVENTS COMMITTEE

To prevent overcrowding the time of students by too many extra-curriculum activities, the faculty of Cornell college, Mount Vernon, Iowa, has appointed certain of its members to an "events committee." This committee will consult with other members of the faculty and with representatives of the student body in an effort to bring about a proper proportion between the time spent in study and in outside campus affairs.

DYE RESEARCH COSTLY

Dye research in the United States since the outbreak of the European war in 1914, when German chemical dyes were substantially cut off from the world, had cost more than $20,000,000 up to 1920 and large sums have since been spent to perfect discoveries during those critical years. Nevertheless 43 per cent of all the imported dyes in 1922 had again come from Germany.

PACIFIC LEAGUE SCHEDULE GETS STARTED TODAY

Selection of New President Aids Chances of Good Season This Year

WHERE THEY OPEN
Seattle at Los Angeles
Vernon at Sacramento
Oakland at Salt Lake City
Portland at San Francisco

The 1924 season of the Pacific Coast league gets under way today in what promises to be the most lucrative year ever enjoyed by the western magnates.

The big event of the winter was the election of Harry Williams, baseball writer of Los Angeles as president, to succeed William H McCarthy of San Francisco. He has had more harmony since taking the office than has been existent in the loop for a number of years, and under his guidance the Coast league appears to be in for a season of unprecedented prosperity.

Liked By All

Williams is known as a "square shooter," thoroughly conversant with the game, and should make an able executive. The owners at last came to realize that the fans were tired of the continued bickering which marred the functioning of the league, and as a result greater interest is being displayed in the opening than has ever been the case before.

In the southern section Red Killifer and his Seattle Indians open the season with Los Angeles at Washington Park. They stay there for seven games, then jump to Salt Lake. Other games scheduled are Vernon at Sacramento; Oakland at Salt Lake and Portland at San Francisco.

Vernon Dark Horse

Most baseball writers in the loop look upon San Francisco, Salt Lake and Vernon as probable winners, with the edge going to Vernon as the dark horse. Fifty thousand dollars has been spent by Eddie Maier in rebuilding his wrecked team, and in Jimmy McDowell he has one of the best prospects in the minors today.

The addition of Harry Courtney and Leon Cadore of the White Sox to his pitching staff has increased his chances considerably, and the Tigers are recognized everywhere as a powerful combination. The Seals start in just where they left off last year, when they won the pennant, minus the services of two pitchers sold, whom they have replaced with recruits that look good.

Billy Lane of Salt Lake figures he is due, and even without the assistance of Paul Strand, intends to land in the top berth. However, we shall see.

Angels Have Chance

The poor old Angels are conceded an outside chance only to lead in the first division. The team, badly wrecked, has not been rebuilt to any great extent. Strenuous efforts have been made by Marty Krug to develop a winning combination, but he simply has not had the material. In spite of all the youngsters that he tried out this spring, he will probably start at second, McAuley at short. The only youngster will be Jacobs at third.

A record crowd is expected this afternoon at the opening game at Los Angeles, if the weather is fair. Agnes Ayres will call "Play," Mayor Cryer will pitch the first ball, Sheriff Bill Traeger will attempt to catch it if it gets by Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, who will try his best to swat it out of the lot.

Lineups For Today

Managers for both the Angels and Indians are not sure as to who will compose their teams in today's game. Killifer of Seattle has picked Sutherland to do moud work, while Krug will probably send Otis Crandall to the firing line. The remainder of the lineups will probably be as follows:

Seattle—Lane, cf; Brady, 2b; Crane, ss; Eldred, rf; Welsh, 1b; Rowher, lf; T. Baldwin, 3b; E. Baldwin, c; Sutherland, p.

Los Angeles—Twombly, rf; McAuley, cf; Durst, cf; Hood, cf; R. Jacobs, 3b; Golvin, 1b; Krug, 2b; Byler, c; O. Crandall, p.

Prep Track Meet Set For Saturday at L. A.

The annual City League prep track meet will be held next Saturday afternoon, April 12, at 2:30 p. m., on the Los Angeles Coliseum oval. Coach Bill Page has his Hollywood tracksters all keyed up to copping the meet. They took the championship with ease last year and are counted for several wins in the city meet. Los Angeles High and Manual Arts have exceptionally good teams this season. The meet undoubtedly will be more of a triangular affair between Hollywood, Los Angeles and Manual. The first and second place winners will take part in the coming Southern California interscholastic meet.

MURPHY VS. KELLY

SAN DIEGO, April 8.—Cy Murphy, local 135 pounder, will meet K. O. Kelly of Compton in the main event at Dreamland Wednesday night. Murphy and Kelly have met before in Los Angeles.

ALL NOT SERENE IN GIANTS' CAMP

Baseball Authority Insists Players Indifferent, Results Slipping

By DAVIS J. WALSH,
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, April 8.—One of the leading baseball authorities in this or any other city has dropped a rather broad typographical hint to the effect that all is not serene in the camp of the New York Giants. This man, "pegged" the first four teams in the National league and the first three in the American last year in the order of their ultimate finish and he intimates now that the Giants are much too carefree, lackadaisical and indifferent to achieve the best results. The club looks singularly unlike a championship outfit, he infers.

The main complaint is that the Giants, according to our critical friend, are prone to accept defeats with marked serenity and in spite of the fact that they are not hitting, do not seem to have a care in the world.

At Critical Stage

The present Giant has reached the critical stage of its professional career, the moment when, simultaneously, triumphs become tasteless and efficiency is not what it was. This attitude is the cardinal answer to the fact that no modern ball club has been able to win four consecutive pennants in spite of the wonderful machines turned out by McGraw, Chance and Connie Mack.

As in the case of the old Athletics of 1915, there is nothing sour looking about the Giants on paper. They seem, in fact, to be a better club than McGraw mastered in 1923, the addition of Billy Southworth to the outfield eliminating what was something of a defensive sieve. Neither McGraw nor anyone connected with the club regrets the Bancroft deal. It moved a fine shortstop and introduced a great ball player to the outfield. Bancroft's successor, Young Jackson, has been far from a riot in the south but the fact remains that more games were lost last season in center field than were won at shortstop.

Pitching Improved

In addition, McGraw his improved his pitching no little by getting Joe Oeschger from Boston, Wayland Dean from Louisville, Ernie Maun from Wichita and Howard Baldwin from Newark. Dean's $50,000 worth of right has been the sensation of the camp, and Oeschger is pitching in his form of several years ago. Also, two fine recruit infielders have been uncovered in Bill Terry and Fred Lindstrom of the American association.

The recruits in fact, are the best the Giants have taken south since 1912 and therein lies some of the difficulty, our critic declares. They are so good that the Giant regulars have come to believe that the club, being superior to any of the three time pennant winners, is unbeatable. He says they are taking the winning of the 1924 pennant for granted.

Taking anything for granted in baseball, is like taking carpet tacks for indigestion.

Alypius of Alexandria, a logician and philosopher, was said to be one foot, five and a half inches in height.

Now that "Spring has came" and the promoters are busy making up good boxing dates for the great outdoors where it is far more profitable to jab and duck, Benny Leonard decides to defend his title and meet a few contenders.

He has been doing the light fantastic on the two-a-day for the last several months, having made a trip to the coast and back.

Billy Gibson made an agreement with Tex Rickard to have Benny meet the winner of the Dundee-Moran go sometime during the latter part of May. But this bout was postponed indefinitely, due to Moran injuring his hand.

Benny's last appearance was with Lew Tendler last July, when he handed the Philadelphia southpaw rather a nifty pasting. Leonard is doing some light training now in preparation for a few prospective matches that will gradually lead up to a battle with Mickey Walker for the welterweight title, if he can coax Mick to take him on.

Charley White of Chicago was considered to be the sole contender, with the first crack at Leonard this summer. But he ran into a snag in Pal Moran, who stopped him in 14 rounds. So Moran will probably be Benny's opponent, when his injured hook is mended. He was all primed to meet the champ when he lost the decisions to Dundee in their last scrap. Many of the wise ones predict a different result, though, when those two hook up again.

SELECT SQUAD TO MEET CARDINALS

Southern California Will Send Strong Team to Palo Alto Event

By R. C. FRANKLIN
For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, April 8.—Southern California will send one of the strongest track teams ever to represent the Southern California Intercollegiate conference to Stanford university in a dual track meet Saturday at Palo Alto. The squad was picked by the coaches Saturday following the annual all-conference meet, which was won by the Occidental.

Although Stanford is rated as the strongest dual team in the west, and probably the United States, southern critics feel that the local stars, composed mostly of men from Occidental and Pomona, have an exceedingly good chance to return home victors. Last season the all-conference team won the meet, nosing out the Cardinals by winning the relay.

Thirty in Squad

The squad which will make the northern invasion will number around thirty men, and will be made up of some of the best athletes ever to be seen in Southern California. Stanford's strength lies in a few of their men while the all-conference team will depend upon the all-round performances.

Glenn Harntranft, weight man, is the real star of Stanford. In the U. S. C.-Card meet a week ago the Stanford giant shoved the shot forty-nine feet five inches for the best mark ever to be made on the Pacific coast. He also broke the discus record by sailing the platter 154 feet.

BETTER PITCHING WILL HELP CUBS

Chicago Squad Has Chance to Finish Close to Top This Year

By HAROLD JOHNSON
For International News Service.

WICHITA FALLS, Texas, April 8.—Pitching of a vastly improved order being promised, Bill Killifer's Chicago Cubs seem certain to finish near the top of the heap this year and with their share of the breaks may prove formidable opponents of the Giants, Reds and Pirates.

Despite the loss of Charley Hollocher, the club is swinging into action with a classy inner defense while the dependable outfield remains unchanged. Killifer has decided to start the campaign with "Sparkle" Adams at short, with George Grantham, a brilliant fielder, on the other side of the keystone. Grimes has recovered completely from his operation last summer and looks fit for a robust season at first, while Friberg at third has been a sensation, second only to Traynor of the Pirates.

Pitching Staff Helped

Hack Miller, Arnold Statz and Cliff Heathcote will man the outfield positions, with Denver Grigsby, from this part of Texas, in reserve. Otto Vogel, late collegian from Illinois, also is listed.

Bobby Barrett and Leo Gotter, both of Wichita Falls, and Peter Turgeon, Beaumont, are listed as utility infielders.

Pitching burdens, resting last year upon Alexander, Kaufman, Aldridge and Keen, who accounted for sixty-four victories, will be shared this season also by Pip Wheeler of Wichita Falls, Guy Bush, from Mississippi, Sheriff Blake and Elmer Jacobs, from Seattle. Wheeler and Jacobs have shown the most stuff, the latter, a discard from three major league clubs, finding his w y to another trip up by stellar work on the coast last year.

Killifer has struggled tirelessly to groom an effective left-hander and believes he has succeeded either in Nick Dumovich or Ray Pierce, the latter a chunky side wheeler from Topeka. Pierce seems to have the call as Nick lacks control.

Bob O'Farrell and Leo Hartnett again will split responsibilities of backstopping while Jack Churry, from London, Ontario, has been added as understudy.

Killifer has a young organization, tempered by its experience together last season and blessed with the willingness to hustle, however the race goes.

Sectional Title Bout, L. A. Thursday Night

LOS ANGELES, April 8.—John Grella, leading amateur middleweight boxer of Southern California, and Clayton Frye, of the Multnomah Athletic club, Portland, will box the main event at the L. A. A. C. ring show Thursday evening, it is announced. This battle will be for the title of north and south and is attracting much attention. Seven other bouts round out a well balanced card.

Conference Baseball Season Opens Apr. 12

The Southern California Conference baseball season will officially open next Saturday, when six collegiate teams clash in three fast ball games. Pomona, Southern Branch, University of California; Occidental, Calteck, Whittier and Redlands all are on edge awaiting the initial game.

Coach Schott's Sagehen varsity won the championship last year and are in good condition for the opening of the present season. S. B. U. C. finished a close second last year and have hopes of winning the title this time. The Branch team is working out under the eagle eye of Coach Cozens, with Cady Works assisting at times. Wilkie Clark has developed a nifty team over at the Tiger camp and the Oxy machine is considered the dark horse. The Tigers have played only two practice games, cleaning Loyola 5 to 1 and Franklin High 22 to 9.

The schedule is long and calls for ten conference games, to start April 12 and continue until May 31. In order to finish the series before the examinations the games have been doubled and during the last half of the schedule two games will be played each week instead of the regular Saturday contests.

Seven Golf Events In Next Few Weeks, Plan

LOS ANGELES, April 8.—Starting with the La Cumbre Invitational tournament at Santa Barbara, Thursday, seven golf events will be held in Southern California within the next few weeks. Chief interest centers in the Southern California championship at Annandale, which opens April 15 and continues to April 20. The California championship for women is also being held at Brentwood.

The best golf players in Southern California will take part in these events and due to their prestige of carrying championship titles the play is sure to be hctly contested.

MAKE PLANS FOR BOX TOURNAMENT

American Legion to Sponsor Bouts in County, Work Up to Finals

The greatest endorsement ever given amateur boxing in Los Angeles county is the recent decision of the county interpost council of the American Legion to sponsor boxing matches in the fifty-three posts in the county, and after inter-post and sectional elimination contests, to stage the championship finals in some large Los Angeles stadium.

Aside from developing talent with the hope of finding some man who will place the county on the map in the Legion boxing circles, the council was actuated by the success attendant upon the efforts of many Legion posts, particularly the outlying ones, in increasing membership and attendance at meetings through holding such bouts.

McHugh Is Chairman

Garrett McHugh of Van Nuys has been appointed county chairman. The county has been divided into twelve districts, each of which will be supervised by a vice-chairman, who will arrange the inter-post contests. The winners in these will be grouped in larger divisions, which are to be determined later.

Although R. E. McWain, adjutant of the local post, has received a synopsis of the plan, he has not been notified yet as to who is the district vice-chairman, and in which district Glendale is located.

Offer Silver Cups

The various posts entered in the contest are to secure silver cups which are to be offered the winners in the different weights. Sweepstakes trophies are to be given the post with the greatest number of winners. Uniform rules, which include three-round bouts, each round of a minute-and-a half duration, will govern all contests.

While designed solely to encourage amateur entries, the plan will permit posts to enter bona fide members who are professionals, but no awards will be permitted these entries other than the silver trophies which are to be offered. None of the posts will be allowed to charge any admission fee. The proceeds of the finals will be donated to some cause agreed upon by all the posts.

End Spring Football Practice at School

Spring football practice at the University of California has been completed and the men will not report again until September 15. Over 125 candidates turned out for the spring session this year. many of whom were veterans of previous California teams. Practices were devoted to tackling, punting, running with the ball, interference and passing.

In connection with the practice the annual Robert Roos Trophy Punting contest was held on the stadium turf. Myron Brown a substitute fullback on last year's eleven, and picked as probable first varsity caliber for next year, won the contest with an average of 50:6 yards for five punts.

Settle Boxing Title Next Saturday Night

On Saturday evening, April 12, at the Southern Branch of University of California gymnasium, the intercollegiate state championship boxing title will be decided. The S. B. U. C. Grizzlies tackle Stanford University in the final tournament. Seven snappy boxing matches are scheduled between the best scrappers in the two institutions. The bouts vary in weight from 120 pounds up. The S. B. U. C. men have already defeated the University of California at Berkeley and rank among the best on the coast.

FIGHT RESULTS

AT NEW YORK—Glonie Tait, Canada, won the decision over Phil Lewis, Newark, (12).

AT BUFFALO—Paul Berlenbach, of Astoria, stopped Jack Stone of Yonkers in fifth round.

AT ASHTABULA, OHIO—Joe Rehor, Cleveland, and Lou Bell, Pittsburgh, draw (ten rounds.)

AT LORAIN, OHIO—John Risko, Cleveland, scored technical K. O. over Harry Krohn, Akron (nine rounds.)

AT TOLEDO — Abe Goldstein, world bantamweight champion, easily outpointed Tommy Murray, Philadelphia, (twelve rounds); Joe Mandel, Philadelphia, defeated Tommy Bunch, Fort Wayne, Ind., (eight rounds.)

AT PITTSBURGH—Ray Mitchell, Philadelphia outpointed Jack Service of Pittsburgh (ten rounds.)

AT HARRISBURG, Pa.,—"Wild Bill" Reed of Columbus, Ohio, and Joe Lohman of Toledo, draw (ten rounds.)

High School Prelims To Be Held Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES, April 8.—Drawings for heats in the city league track meet were made yesterday at a meeting of coaches of the local high school cinderpath teams, and the preliminary events will be staged tomorrow afternoon. For the first time since the city league meets have been held there will be enough room to accommodate the crowd. The meet will be held in the huge L. A. coliseum, which will hold 80,000 people. Close to 225 athletes are expected to take part in the annual affair.

Weeks Explains Delay Pushing Fraud Cases

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Desire of officials of the Harding administration to keep the government from losing money on war-time airplane contracts has been one of the chief causes of delay in the final determination of the aircraft cases, Secretary of War Weeks declared in a formal statement today.

Weeks revealed that many of the cases had been practically settled when he became secretary of war, but that re-examinations and new audits were ordered in the belief that there were grounds for collecting more money for the government than was at first indicated.

Dock Spectators See Knife Battle on Ship

LOS ANGELES, April 8—With a dozen members of her crew struggling about the deck in a pitched battle featured by knives and water buckets as weapons, the steamer Victoria, inbound from Manila, made a dramatic entry into Los Angeles harbor.

As a result of the free-for-all fight which was witnessed by scores of persons on the dock, Denisen, Filipino seaman, was slashed over the eye and badly beaten. Other members of the crew were also treated for minor injuries.

Defer Payments Three Years In Dry Section

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The House has passed a resolution deferring for three years, at the discretion of the secretary of the interior, payments on reclamation projects in the west where the farmers have been suffering from drought. Such payments willl bear interest at 5 per cent.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA, IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES.

No. 118096
Notice of Filing of Referees' Report and of the Time and Place Appointed for the Hearing of the Same.

THE CITY OF GLENDALE, a municipal corporation, Plaintiff, vs.
HELEN HOLMBERG, et al., Defendants.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to all persons owning or having an interest in any property included in the assessment district described in Ordinance No. 690 of the City of Glendale, State of California, adopted and approved by the Council of said City on the 9th day of November, 1922, and entitled, "An Ordinance Declaring the Intention of the Council of the City of Glendale to Order the Widening and Laying Out of Chester Street and the Opening and Laying Out of Pioneer Drive in Said City of Glendale"; that the report of the Referees in the above entitled action was filed in the office of the County Clerk and Ex-Officio Clerk of said Court on the 31st day of March, 1924 and that thereafter said Court appointed the 5th day of May, 1924, at the hour of 11 o'clock A. M., in Department 10 of said Court, as the time and place for the hearing of said Report.

Each and every person owning or having an interest in any property in said assessment district is hereby required to intervene in the above entitled action and file in the office of said Clerk within the time required by law his exceptions in writing to said Report, if any he has, specifying the grounds upon which such exceptions are based. Said district above referred to includes those lands situated in the City of Glendale, County of Los Angeles, State of California, and particularly described as follows, to-wit:

STONE-TILE
PERMANENT CONSTRUCTION
Fire Proof
You owe it to your family to house them in a building which will resist fire, particularly when it costs you no more to do that than to house them in any good frame structure.
STONE-TILE, the "wet mix" poured concrete hollow tile, in your walls enables you to forget the fire hazard. It will not burn or crumble under intense heat and it tends to insulate interiors because of its hollow construction.
The cost of STONE-TILE is practically the same as frame and is less than usual masonry construction.

BOBS, ANTI-BOBS GET ENTHUSIASTIC

Well, Shoot on Your Letters To Baldheaded Editor of This Department

now, I've gone and done the very thing that was a horror to me.

She Spills Secret

"And besides, the head of this house, the king of this domain, the noted John Doe, has said more than once, most emphatically, just what he thought of any woman, young or old, who would dare to so degrade herself as to—

"Well, it can't be helped—it's all over now, and if you'll just put down your ear and listen, I'll whisper something, but oh! don't tell my husband, will you? (I'm not one bit sorry for what I've done—so there!)

"It all happened so quickly, it almost took my breath away. First, came the temptation and then, almost before I realized what I was about, it was too late to retract.

Read What He Did!

"I returned home—the man, whom I had sworn to love and obey and who, in turn, had promised to love and cherish me, saw me coming up the path (he had gotten home early)—my cheeks were crimson, I could scarcely raise my eyes to meet his. And when I drew near, he said in a strange queer voice, 'You've certainly done it this time, you look like the old nick himself'—But he took me in his arms and kissed me (the first time in months).

"My hair is bobbed!!!!!!. Soft littl curls which had cost me the sum of seventy-five cents, clustered around my smiling face—the deed is done, and I am not sorry.

"Hoping this brings conviction to you, both 'pro and con,'

"I remain one of the bobbed haired bunch.

"JANE DOE."

"P. S.:—If you don't receive this, please let me know, and I will write you again, about how I looked the next morning, with the curls all gone; also about my first attempt to curl the bobbed hair, myself, personally, it is a most amusing pastime, especially, to curl the short hairs at the back of one's own neck, if you have any doubts on that score, you can prove it by using your wives (pardon me, I mean your wife's) own curling iron and try a lock or two of your own hair, remember the short hairs clear at the rear of your head, the rest are easy."

On the Other Hand

In opposition to this view, "Al I. By" writes:

"Bobbed Hair Editor, The Glendale Evening News:

"I see by your paper there is much discussion between the bobs and the un-bobs and would like to 'horn in' myself with a few pros and cons, mostly cons. I like bobbed hair on 'ladies' between three and fourteen and I think most of us men think the same.

"It is a pleasure to see a lady with unshorn locks these days. It is an added expense for us poor married men to have to foot a barber bill at least once a week, and we gotta shave ourselves to economize!

"And how our sensibilities are shocked when we hear two fair dames asking each other, 'Who's your barber?' As for there being less work with bobbed hair, well, mebbe so, if the women want to leave it stringed down their necks. But to be attractive there's a lot of fixin' to do—kid curlers, electric irons and all those doodads that take up much time. But I gotta admit it's a good alibi.

Hist! He Has Scheme!

"Now, I gotta scheme to get even with the ladies, and as I see it, if all us men, especially the bald-headed ones, were to let our whiskers grow out, say we wouldn't shave for a year or so, thereby raisin' a pretty good crop, it would be 'less trouble to fix'—see what I mean?

"We men who are agin bobs could fight 'em with their own weapons. It's less trouble and it would 'add to our appearance' as it were. But we gotta stick together on this scheme as if we did otherwise there would be too many divorces, as the women would leave us far quicker if we raised hair all over our faces, than we would leave them for having their hair bobbed.

"Respectfully yours,
"Al I. By."

"P. S.—No, I won't give my real name. I gotta wife!"

They Are Kicking

One of the Bobbed Hair Editor's previous correspondents, "A. M. A. W.," comes back again with this:

"April 3, 1924.

"To the Bobbed Hair Editor, The Glendale Evening News:

"I'm here again! What's the matter and where are Thomas Watts and his twin brothers keeping themselves now? They must have got cold feet all of a sudden.

"Us happy bobbed haired LADIES are still kicking and will be right on the spot, with our answer, concerning bobbed hair, when we see it necessary. What we are waiting for is to see if the objectors to bobbed hair have anything more to say. If not, or as long as we do not hear anything more from Mr. Watts and his twin brothers, we will say that bobbed hair is the leader and to our Nollege al 'ays wil' be, at the rate it is going now.

"And of course that is what we are after. Nuff ced! And if we get wise to any more such nuts as Thomas Watts, we'll tell 'em! You bet we will.' I'm ready for 'em!

"So short!

The same firm will show the 1924 model Maxwell cars. These models will include the five-passenger touring car, the two-passenger roadster, the sport touring car, the sport roadster, the four-passenger coupe, the five-passenger sedan and the club coupe, the latter being added to the Maxwell line this year.

Bliss Shows Jewetts

Ralph B. Bliss, 219 West Colorado boulevard, will exhibit the 1924 models of the Jewett and Paige cars, for which he holds the local sales agency. Standard models of the Jewett are: Five-passenger touring car, five-passenger brougham and the five-passenger sedan. The de luxe models are: Roadster, touring car and sedan. The de luxe models are finished in Japanese blue, and are the last word in fashionable color, complete equipment, upholstery and fittings.

The Paige cars will attract the attention of many at the show with their classy finish, upholstery, fittings and attractive lines. The Paige motor, famous the world over for its speed-producing and power-making qualities, will be minutely explained by motor car experts. Models are: Sedan, brougham and phaeton.

The Dodge line will be shown by the Dodge Brothers Motor Company, 116 West Colorado boulevard. R. E. Corrigan, head of the firm, will feature the type-A sedan, the type-B sedan, the business coupe, the touring car and the roadster. Important improvements on Dodge cars include longer and underslung springs, longer wheelbase, front axle more rugged, convenient gear shift arrangement, accessible brake control, protected fuel system, stronger frame, perfected cooling system, stream-line hood, improved running boards, instruments conveniently grouped on a raised panel, attractive drum-type lamps, automatic stop signal and improved weatherproof windshield.

Studebaker Line

The Packer Auto Company, Brand and Colorado boulevards, will display the new Studebaker line in light six, special six and big six models. The line is complete and undoubtedly will be one of the feature attractions of the show. Light six models will include the touring car, three-passenger roadster, coupe-roadster, five-passenger sedan and five-passenger coupe.

Models in the special six and big six will be the seven-passenger touring car, five-passenger coupe, five-passenger touring car, five-passenger speedster, seven-passenger sedan, two-passenger roadster and the five-passenger sedan. Some of the added equipment this year includes tonneau light, inspection lamp, combination stop and tail light, thief-proof transmission lock, special arrangement for carrying tools, extra wheel, tire and cover, trunk, dome and corner lights, vanity case, smoking set, auxiliary seats, coach lamps, glare-proof visor, automatic windshield cleaner, rear view mirror and flower vase.

Additional models which will be described in The Evening News tomorrow, on exhibit at the joint auto show, will be: Essex, Hudson, Franklin, Nash, Lafayette, Overland and Willys-Knight.

C. E. Murphy Opens Realty Office Here

Announcement is made of the opening by Charles E. Murphty of a real estate and insurance office at the northwest corner of Central avenue and Harvard street, under the firm name of the Charles E. Murphey Company.

Mr. Murphey has for the past year been connected with Alexander & Son, realtors, on North Central avenue. Just prior to that he was a subdivision salesman for the Bellehurst Park tract. Prior to that, for ten years, he was a realtor in Tucson, Ariz., being a co-partner in the Murphey Realty Company of that city, a firm established in 1896.

Charles E. Murphey is a veteran of the World War, a member of the American Legion and an alumnus of the University of California. Eleven years ago he was in the San Fernando valley and considers its remarkable growth one of the miracles of the past decade.

Friend of Rooster Presents Defense

upon being fed sawdust, laid a setting of knotholes. But no voyager has yet returned from any land, no matter how distant or how peculiar its customs, with a veracious account of a rooster having laid an egg. It simply isn't done.

Chanticleer is perfectly content to leave such domestic duties to the womenfolk. To him is the stern business of rousing the sun each day. This task he performs with a routine that for faithful service should win him the Medaille d'Or—yet certain unappreciative persons are so lacking in the milk of human kindness as to give poor chanticleer the ax

The father of the flock has his staunch defenders, however, and of that number is Mrs. Charles Glover, 414 West Myrtle street, who writes:

"Rooster Editor,
"The Glendale Evening News.

"Dear Sir: Since reading A. Lee's letter regarding his suffering, due to crowing roosters, I wonder if he wouldn't feel better if he began the day with a song on his lips, instead of beginning the day with a grouch.

"I consider the crow of the rooster no more disturbing than the song of the mocking bird, that sits for hours on a telegraph wire or chimney, singing to his mate; nor do I consider the crow of the rooster any more disturbing than the man who drives by in his auto and greets the milk man with 'Hello, Bill!' in the wee hours of the morning.

"To me, all this is funny. I say, let everything live that God gave life. Those who cannot (on account of weak nerves) listen to nature's noise should move out in the country and be happy. Let those who have a rooster to head the family in the barnyard keep him. He is attentive to his flock and not afraid to raise a family. So, I say, good luck to the rooster and may he live on undisturbed, to proclaim the break of day.
